Wife Says Mate Threatened to Fence Her in With Barbed Wire

Demanding a division of community property, which she values at $600,000, Mrs. Cornelia E. Jones yesterday sued Francis McD. Jones for divorce. Her attorney is Arthur S. Guerin, and she asks an attorney's fee of $25,000.

Mrs. Jones asserts that her husband was "unreasonably jealous," and accused her of associating with a man while she was in Canada. She also asserts he struck and choked her, and made the threat that he would build a six-foot barbed-wire fence around her so that when men would come to see her he would "have a sample of their clothing impaled on the barbs."

IZZY SATISFIED?

Chicago Tribune, Jan. 27.

For several days Isadore Zeplowitz had been wishing some one would try to rob his clothing store. His reason was that he had bought one of those fountain-pen gadgets that releases tear gas when properly manipulated. Zeplowitz yearned to try it on a robber.

Yesterday the wished-for lad entered. Zeplowitz let loose with the tear gas.

When he regained his eyesight he found the robber had left with $75 and the Zeplowitz watch.

Washington (D. C.) Star, Jan. 21.

Eleven hours in a casket amid the funeral surroundings of an undertaker's garage in the 900 block of H street convinced Detective James A. Mostyn that he was a failure as a corpse, although he felt he could do pretty well as a mourner.

With only a pocket cigarette lighter for warmth, and only a small crack in the lid of the coffin for light and air the detective arranged himself within the coffin yesterday to watch for the return of a bootlegger who had left 28 quarts of whisky concealed in the garage.

Mostyn had been detailed by Sergt. Letterman to make the arrest, and Sergt. Letterman locked him inside the garage yesterday morning.

At 6 o'clock last night Letterman returned, let himself in and retrieved his mournful assistant from his hiding place.

The bootlegger is still at large.

FIVE HEADQUARTERS

Each of the five census districts in Los Angeles county will have its own headquarters, under a plan sponsored by Steuart, and approved today by Representative Evans of Glendale, and Secretary of Commerce Lamont, according to word from Washington. The office of the chief co-ordinator in Washington suggested that all five districts have a common headquarters in one downtown office building.

This plan appeared inefficient to Director Steuart, considering the distances of travel, time lost and other drawbacks, and he asked Representative Evans to act for him in preventing it. Evans went to the Commerce Secretary and convinced him that the scheme put down by the co-ordinator's office is not feasible.

RACE CRISIS BROADENS

Filipinos Draw Nation's Eyes

Islanders Banned from Ring; State Begins Inquiry Into Watsonville Riots

Bombing of Stockton Club Believed Antiwhite Plot; Girl Being Hunted

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29. (Exclusive)—Racial discord between whites and Filipinos in California became tenser today in the wake of several developments which definitely lifted the problem from a local one to national attention. Outstanding were these:

(1) Those favoring Philippine independence seized the situation to have preferred attention at Washington.

(2) The State of California launched an active investigation.

BANNED FROM RING

(3) The chairman of the State Athletic Commission ordered all Filipinos banned for the time being from boxing cards throughout the State, thereby precipitating a controversy within commission ranks.

(4) A 16-year-old Watsonville girl disappeared and is declared held by Filipinos.

(5) The bombing of a Filipino club at Stockton was ascribed to an internal Filipino quarrel, and persisted with the hope of casting the blame on whites.

(6) The Monterey Presidio continued under guard to prevent an attempt to seize arms and ammunition.

(7) Representatives of Filipino organizations decried the violence to date, and urged calm consideration of the entire situation.

INVESTIGATOR AT WORK

The State investigation, it was learned, is going forward under the direction of Will J. French, director of the Department of Industrial Relations. He was quoted in dispatches as having placed his best investigator in the field with instructions to amass a complete and exhaustive file of information.

The missing Watsonville girl is Carlo Victorial, daughter of a lettuce farmer near the clubhouse at Palm Beach on the outskirts of Watsonville, where the first violence broke out because of white girls working as dancing partners by Filipino youths on a percentage basis. She disappeared from home last Monday night, authorities said, and assertedly is being held in successive Filipino bunkhouses, so she cannot be located. Relations are the hiding is of her own choice.

Elmer Struve, a rancher neighbor, declared he discovered her on his ranch, ordered her home, and she

PROHIBITION FIGHT SET

Whole Question to be Argued

Wets and Drys to Have Say at Hearings' Opening on February 12, Next

House Judiciary Chairman Lays Course With Aim of Justice to All

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. (AP)—The whole prohibition question, from repealing the Eighteenth Amendment to modifying the dry laws, will be opened to the wets and drys in hearings to begin before the House Judiciary Committee on February 12, next.

This course was decided on by Representative Graham, chairman of the committee, because he feels "that the proponents of measures to repeal the Eighteenth Amendment and to modify the prohibition laws are entitled to a hearing."

With the exception of a short session held by a subcommittee in 1926, this will be the first time the legislative proposals to repeal the dry act have been brought before the important House group.

PLAN OF ACTION

The full committee will take testimony on seven resolutions to repeal the controverted amendment, and a subcommittee headed by Representative Dyer, Republican, Missouri, later will consider a score of proposals to modify the Volstead Act, including Dyer's 2.75 per cent beer bill.

The House Expenditures Committee prepared to end its consideration tomorrow of the Williamson bill to transfer the prohibition unit from the Treasury to the Justice Department.

In the Senate, the drys indicated today they will oppose vigorously any attempt to legalize 2.75 per cent beer. Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, halted his assaults on dry enforcement conditions to assail the movement of House wets for the Dyer beer bill.

"It will not help the situation," he said of the proposal.

Opposition among the Senate drys also developed toward the national law enforcement commission's recommendation to give United States commissioners power to try misdemeanor prohibition cases. Senator Glass, Democrat, Virginia, submitted a letter from John Paul, District Attorney for the Western Virginia District, pointing out what he considers to be constitutional objections to the commission's proposal. Chairman Wickersham of the commission has declared that such objections are not merited.

DISPUTE SUSPENDED

Senator Borah and Atty.-Gen. Mitchell suspended their dispute over the former's contention that

How It Looks from Here!

GALE WHIPS NORTHWARD OUT OF GULF

Near-Hurricane Lashes Mississippi, Alabama and Parts of Georgia

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 29. (AP)—A storm of near-hurricane proportions that ripped out of the Gulf of Mexico near the Florida coast today whipped high winds in a northeasterly direction through Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia and brought a sudden drop in temperature with rain, sleet and snow.

The brunt of the disturbance entered the mainland along the Mississippi coast, unroofing small buildings and causing minor damage at Gulfport, and swerved through interior Mississippi and warnings were out tonight along the Atlantic Coast north of Delaware breakwater to Sandy Hook.

A slight snow accompanying the cold wave fell at Meridian, Laurel and Vicksburg, Miss., while the fall increased as the cold wave enveloped Alabama and Georgia. In Birmingham and Atlanta the ground was covered with snow.

The cold hand of winter tonight extended down into extreme North Florida with continued cold promised there tomorrow. The North Mississippi Delta, North Louisiana and portions of Arkansas, which suffered severely in the recent series of freezes, escaped the worst of the new wave.

LONE PAIR IN OCEAN FIGHT DEATH DUEL

Shipwrecked Seaman Bests Foe in Battle for Life Preserver and Lives

TAMPICO (Mex.) Jan. 29. (AP)—How two shipwrecked sailors fought to death over possession of a life preserver in the storm-whipped waters of the gulf became know with the arrival of Maximo Benitez, lone survivor of the fishing schooner Conde Sigfrido's crew of ten.

The Conde Sigfrido capsized in a hurricane on the 22nd inst. while trying to enter the Panuco River, and until Benitez trudged into Tampico several days later it was thought all her crew had perished.

When a mountainous wave turned the boat over, the crew jumped into the water, only Benitez having managed to grab a life preserver. Another sailor armed with a dagger, attempted to kill him and the two struggled desperately until a wave swept the assailant away.

Benitez swam from 9 p.m. until 2 in the morning when he reached shore. After freeing himself of his attacker, he was joined by the ship's mascot, a dog, which accompanied him on the swim to land with Benitez's occasional help.

Four sailors of the fishing schooner Jose Luis, wrecked at the same time and in the same vicinity perished.

EAGLE'S MATE PILOTS GLIDER

Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh Sails Aloft in Motorless Craft for Six Minutes, Winning License

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 29. (AP)—As easily as though she had done it numerous times before, Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh this afternoon made her first glider flight here, staying aloft a fraction more than six minutes and thereby winning a first-class pilot's license for gliders.

The flight, witnessed by her husband, Col. Lindbergh, took place at Soledad Mountain in a sailplane owned by Hawley Bowlus. While the flight was in progress Col. Lindbergh stood with William Van Dusen and J. L. Hicklin, official timers for the National Glider Association, watching every second of the flight.

Mrs. Lindbergh's take-off was as good as though it had been done by the colonel himself. From the flat mountaintop she sailed directly west toward the ocean, the glider resembling a great bird in flight. After flying about three minutes directly west, she manipulated a 90-deg. right angle bank and headed north, only to make another 90-deg. bank to the left and then turn southward. Where Col. Lindbergh was standing he could see that after the second turn his wife was rapidly losing altitude.

Within a few seconds she made a perfect landing in a field beside the State highway, jumped from the cockpit and started running toward the road. Col. Lindbergh was about four miles away when his wife landed. In company with Mrs. Jack Maddux and Bowlus he got into an automobile and rushed to her.

It was a strenuous day for the wife of the famous flyer, who, with her husband started out at dawn at Lindbergh Field. In a primary training glider towed behind an automobile, she got her preliminary instruction. Hawley Bowlus, inventor and builder of the sailplane which she used later, and Forest Hieatta, of the same company, were on hand to supervise the flight. Bowlus holds the American glider endurance record.

REPRISAL IN ASSAULT ON DRY AGENTS

Seattle Pairs Accused of Kidnaping and Beating Informer Captured

SEATTLE, Jan. 29. (AP)—With the arrest late today of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Bate and Mr. and Mrs. James Williams, police and Federal prohibition agents announced that the four probably will be charged with interfering with and attacking a Federal agent in the discharge of his duties in connection with the kidnaping and beating of D. Dunning, an undercover prohibition informer, early today.

Dunning, with R. Ginn, had just completed a deal for a quantity of liquor with the four and had started to arrest them, the agents reported. Ginn was knocked from the running board of the car and Dunning, who was in the machine, was taken away, they said. He was found wandering in a dazed condition several hours after the kidnaping.

Dunning said he had been beaten with a wrench and choked while he was being driven around Lake Washington. He was in the City Hospital today suffering with severe bruises and an injury to one eye.

SALTON SEA ON RAMPAGE

Salt Works Wrecked, Thousands of Acres Flooded, and Lives Endangered by Rising Waters

MECCA, Jan. 29. (Exclusive)—Wrecking the Salton Sea salt works near here, flooding thousands of acres of flat lands and endangering the lives of several persons, the Salton Sea water level has risen eighteen inches since the recent rains and is still going up.

During Monday's storm the sea was very rough and great waves shattered the breakwater at the salt works, flooding the ground around the plant. This undermined the buildings and it was necessary last night to remove the family and employees of Seth Hartley, the proprietor, in small boats. Since that time the buildings have been toppling into the sea.

The water has ruined the dikes of the drying vats and has submerged many tons of crude salt which was ready for shipment. It is said that the plant cannot be rebuilt in its present location. Mr. Hartley established the salt works three years ago and is said to have had an investment of more than $80,000 in the plant.

He produced his first salt last fall and the plant was believed to be the nucleus for an important industry in the valley.

Eleven Die in Portugal Gales

LISBON (Portugal) Jan. 29. (AP)—Eleven persons met death today in gales and floods which have caused heavy damage in Portugal.

Eight boats staggered into port after fighting huge seas during which four sailors were killed and others injured.

Floods on the River Douro caused anxiety. Four girls were drowned when a frail craft overturned.

DIVERS DEFY ICY PERIL

Current Braved by Rescuers

Underwater Worker Trapped Beneath Dam's Timbers Since Last Monday

Pair Descend in Canadian River in Heroic Bid to Save Trans

QUEBEC (Que.) Jan. 29. (AP)—Two expert divers, who arrived at the isolated village of Riviere Aux Outardes late today by airplane, tonight donned underwater toggery and descended to the bottom of St. Lawrence River in an attempt to rescue Peter Trans, imprisoned by snagged equipment since Monday.

These divers, Quesnel Morency and Lewis Begin, braving strong currents which it was thought would prevent their attempt at rescue at least until tomorrow morning, decided that further delay on their part might frustrate removing Trans alive, so, casting personal thoughts aside, each went into the twenty feet of water. Officials of the Ontario Paper Company momentarily expected word of their success.

REPORT TO DENMARK

Meanwhile relatives in Denmark were kept in touch with the rescue work by cable. Although in an almost inaccessible spot, word of progress from Riviere Aux Outardes was being rushed to the outside world by all available means.

Trans was trapped Monday afternoon while at work in a coffer dam being constructed by the Ontario Paper Company. It was determined his lines were fouled, but his air tube was free. This was learned when a volunteer diver went overside in a futile attempt to extricate him.

Rvo Silyala, with no previous diving experience, made the first descent. He found Trans trapped in a "crib" and reported that because of his inexperience he did not try to extricate him.

NO GRIP FROM HAND

Silyala said he had grasped Trans's hand, but had felt no pressure. Officials tonight believe this did not necessarily mean that Trans was dead. They said he might have become unconscious from the intense cold.

Air was being constantly pumped into the diver's helmet. Officials hoped to extricate him before midnight, but even if this occurred, it was doubtful whether word would reach the outside world before morning.

NO SIGNAL GIVEN

After Trans descended into the coffer dam on Monday no signals were received from him and assistants upon the pilot boat investigated. It was found he was badly snagged. Relief shifts immediately were put to work on the pumps.

Riviere Aux Outardes is a little village 200 miles north of Quebec. Trans arrived there by airplane the 16th inst., and after examining diving equipment made his first descent to work on the coffer dam the next day.

He spent several hours each day under water and progress was reported. When he descended Monday he apparently slipped. When no signal was received from him, professional divers were called from Montreal and two set off by plane yesterday.

WEATHER INTERFERES

Bad weather forced the plane down at Rimouski and again today at Penticote. Finally, at 3:30 p.m. today the divers arrived at Riviere Aux Outardes. The current was found to be too swift to allow a descent. After some discussion, however, both Morency and Begin decided against further delay.

The only means of communication with the outside world at this time of the year from Riviere Aux Outardes is by airplane, ice in the gulf making navigation hazardous. There are no telegraphic lines to the place.

Trans came from Denmark in 1928.

ONE KILLED BY TORNADO IN FLORIDA

Heavy Property Damage Left in Twister's Wake; Two Counties Suffer

OCALA (Fla.) Jan. 29. (AP)—A tornado dipped into two communities in Marion and Flagler counties today, killing a negro woman and leaving considerable property damage.

The storm struck first in the southwestern part of Marion county near Summerfield and swept over a distance of about five miles. A dozen buildings were demolished, fruit was whipped from citrus trees and debris and a small automobile were hurled through the air, a reporter from the Ocala Star told his paper.

The twister appeared to have lifted near Ocklawaha and next dipped into a turpentine settlement in Flagler county, where twenty-six buildings were demolished, most of them shacks in which negro laborers lived.

RAIL PRESIDENT DIES

NORFOLK (Va.) Jan. 29. (AP)—George Smith Shafer, 67 years of age, president of the Norfolk and Portsmouth Belt Line Railroad, is dead here.

Will Rogers Remarks:

LONDON, Jan. 29.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Heard the great debate in the House of Commons today on free trade versus tariff. We don't hear so much of Lloyd George as we used to, but, brother, they heard him today. What a speech, laughs, logic and slow death for the opposition. Then Lady Astor took me around to his office and we had tea for three. Tea wasn't so tasty, but that grand old fellow's conversation was. You can easily see how he piloted a country when they needed piloting.

Say, that Primo Rivera resigning without being assisted by artillery was unprecedented in the entire history of dictators. I had an interview with him, too, about two years ago in Madrid, and he struck me then as being a sensible man who loved life. Now he is the only living ex-dictator.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

Tension Eases as Delegates Cancel Reservations for Trip Home

W. B. Mathews of California Group Stricken by Food Poisoning

RENO (Nev.) Jan. 29. (AP)—An easing of the situation, or at least a respite from the tenseness of it, was evident here late today when the Arizona delegation canceled Pullman reservations and indicated a willingness to remain here for another twenty-four hours in an effort to come to an agreement with California over the allocation of water from the Colorado River.

W. B. Mathews, chairman of the California delegation, was seized with an attack of ptomaine poisoning and was too ill most of the day to participate in the informal conferences held by the California delegation in an effort to reach an agreement among themselves so that a definite position could be taken with reference to the negotiations with Arizona.

WIRES KEPT HOT

During the day long-distance wires were kept hot between delegates and the home folks and at 6 p.m. conference with newspaper representatives Chairman William J. Donovan limited his "information" to a broad smile and the statement: "Well, boys, we're still here."

It was stated that the California delegation will hold a formal conference early tomorrow and there is a possibility that a general conference will be held at 10:30 or 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.

DONOVAN RETICENT

In announcing this, Chairman Donovan, representative of President Hoover, said: "If everything goes all right in the interim we may hold a general conference tomorrow morning. Supposing that the matter of allocation of water is out of the way, then it would be in order to hold an open meeting before taking up the discussion of power allocation and power and water revenues.

"If we get that far, of course, we

Agreement on Fleet Tonnage Scheduled for Today if Trouble Holds Off

LONDON, Jan. 29. (AP)—New and unexpected difficulties of procedure arose tonight to threaten the smooth running of the plenary session of the naval conference tomorrow. A five-power agreement on the method of measuring fleet tonnage is practically complete, however, and ready to be broadcast to the world through the newspaper men, who will be admitted to the session.

The problem which so suddenly reared its head grew from objections to the proposed steering committee of delegates on methods and limitations, the setting up of which had been expected to be the chief formal business of the session tomorrow. To this committee were to be referred technical questions such as those over which France and Italy have been wrangling for more than a week, so that the conference proper could go forward with the business of disarmament.

ANOTHER PLAN

Prime Minister MacDonald tonight held conferences with Secretary of State Stimson, former Premier Wakatsuki and Foreign Secretary Grandi in rapid succession on this matter.

So complex are the political issues involved in naval disarmament that Mr. MacDonald faces obstacles even in establishing a committee of delegates. The British dominions would desire representation on such a committee and appointment of one delegate from each unit of the empire would mean seven British representatives on this important body. If only one empire delegate was named the divisions not represented probably would be displeased.

On the other hand, the Prime Minister has been quick to realize the likelihood of reaction on foreign public opinion if there were seven or eight British members of the committee. Tonight he is considering a plan of establishing just a committee of the plain "garden variety" of experts instead of delegates. No one seems to object to how many experts there are on any committee.

AMERICAN ROLE

The intention of the American delegation tonight is not to play a particularly prominent role at the meeting tomorrow, but to follow the plan of Mr. Stimson to pass around among the American chief delegates the leadership or conduct of the delegation.

Ambassador Gibson has been assigned to the task tomorrow and he may make a speech. The Ambassador to Belgium has had an active part in representing America at European discussions of the problems of peace and armaments.

The program of the meeting, as indicated by today's events, will be featured by exposition of the Franco-American compromise between total tonnage and category theories of measurement of fleet strengths.

Mr. MacDonald and A. V. Alexander, First Lord of Admiralty, will speak for Great Britain and Premier Tardieu for France.

ONE-SIXTH MENTIONED

The agreement is based on a maximum of transfer tonnage every year from one category to another. The figures have not been announced, but it was authoritatively understood that a percentage of one-sixth of the total of any category has been mentioned as the amount of tonnage possible to transfer.

New impetus was given to the disarmament movement today both by the lead of Mr. Stimson toward humanizing use of the submarine and later by the more concrete suggestion by Mr. Alexander in the House of Commons that decision

UNDERSEAS TEST SUCCESS

Men Taken from Submarine by New Naval Device in Experiments Off Florida Coast

ABOARD U.S.S. FALCON, OFF KEY WEST (Fla.) Jan. 29. (AP)—Successful delivery of two men from the sunken submarine E-4 by means of the O'Rourke diving bell was accomplished during safety tests here this afternoon. At the same time two members of the experimental expedition successfully passed from the deck of the Falcon to the interior of the submarine through use of the bell.

The delivery from an entry into the submarine was made during one lowering of the bell, the second to be made today. Calm weather, prefaced by a slightly choppy condition of the seas, prevailed during the second test.

The bell was lowered from the deck of the Falcon on the special hoisting machinery provided for it. Two members of the expedition, who had entered the safety device before it was lowered to the depths, assisted in fastening it over the motor hatch of the submarine. They opened the hatch to permit two other members of the test crew to emerge and to effect their own entry into the sunken vessel. At completion of the change of men the hatch was relocked and the bell freed from its attachment to the submarine, to be raised to the surface.

Lady Astor Will Broadcast Talk

LONDON, Jan. 29. (AP)—Lady Astor, Great Britain's American-born peeress and member of the House of Commons, will broadcast over radio to the United States within a fortnight.

Her address will be designed primarily for women of America and will urge them to continue their organized efforts for world peace.

The exact date of the broadcast has not been set but it will be the first time a woman has participated in a trans-Atlantic radio feature.

TWO TRUSTEES ACCUSED BY FOX

Effort Made to Depose Him, Film Magnate Charges

Receivership Suit Filed Over Protests, Says Affidavit

Net Profits of $50,000,000 Annually Predicted

NEW YORK, Jan. 29. (AP)—The charge that John E. Otterson of the Electrical Products Corporation and H. L. Stuart of Halsey Stuart & Co., trustees of Fox Film Corporation, are behind the movement to depose William Fox as head of the Fox interests was made in an affidavit filed by Fox today with Federal Judge Coleman.

The affidavit was entered in answer to a suit brought by Mrs. Susie Dryden Kuser, Class B stockholder, for a receivership of the Fox Film Corporation. The affidavit was drawn up by Samuel Untermyer, counsel for the film magnate.

It charged that Mrs. Kuser, widow of Col. Anthony R. Kuser, philanthropist who died last year, entered her suit over the objections of other members of her family, which altogether owns about 40,000 shares in Fox Film Corporation.

CONFIDENCE SHOWN.

With the affidavit Fox filed a letter signed by ten members of the Kuser family expressing confidence in him and in his directorship of his corporations and saying they favor Untermyer's recently described financing plan, offered as a solution of the Fox difficulties, as opposed to a receivership plan.

The affidavit charged that Otterson and Stuart breached their contract with Fox by demanding the resignation of Jack Leo as vice-president and director of the Fox Theaters Corporation. In the affidavit, Fox said he was told that Stuart had suggested Fox leave the country for six months and during that time Stuart and Otterson intended to "do so many drastic things it would be impossible for me to suffer the humiliation that would be heaped upon me."

The affidavit estimated the net worth of Fox Film Corporation and its subsidiaries at approximately $65,000 000, not including net profits of $3,000,000 accrued in the three months ended December 31, last.

PROFITS TO BE HIGH

In answering the charge of Mrs. Kuser that consolidation of Fox interests with Loew's, Inc., was "extravagant," Fox contended that $17,000,000 will be saved in economies while the net profit will probably reach $50,000,000 yearly.

Another development today was an announcement that because of the tangled affairs of the Fox companies, Class A stockholders of the Roxy Theaters Corporation, a Fox subsidiary, have formed an advisory committee for the protection of their interests.

The committee, headed by Joseph Whelan, temporary chairman, has mailed to stockholders, in anticipation of a stockholders' meeting to be held next Monday, a letter asking for proxies and setting forth that the committee is anxious to know, among other things, why no back dividends have been paid on the Class A Roxy Theater stock.

COMMITTEE UNANIMOUS FOR GRUNDY

Senate Elections Group Decides Pennsylvanian Entitled to Keep Seat

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. (AP)—By unanimous vote the Senate Elections Committee held today that Senator Grundy of Pennsylvania is entitled to retain his seat as the appointee of Gov. Fisher to succeed the banished William S. Vare.

Senator Nye, Republican, North Dakota, whose resolution to deny Grundy the seat is pending, announced he will ask for a vote on his resolution when Chairman Shortridge of the committee lays the report before the Senate later this week.

In view of the unanimous decision of the committee little hope is entertained by the North Dakotan of barring Grundy on his complaint that the Pennsylvanian was a money collector in the $3,000,000 Republican primary of 1926.

Appearing before the committee in executive session, Senator Nye said he rested his case on the argument he made before the Senate at the time Grundy was administered the oath. He contended that Grundy campaigned for Fisher in the 1926 primary and that Fisher's ticket actually spent more money than did the Vare ticket. Vare was rejected because of his expenditures in that primary.

Chairman Shortridge, in preparing the committee's report, merely recited the law and the Constitution, giving the right of a State executive to fill vacancies in the Senate.

Senate Passes Bill Increasing Aid for Roads

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. (AP)—The Senate today passed the Elliott bill to increase the Federal road aid expenditures from $75,000,000 annually to $125,000,000 for the next three years.

The measure, however, was returned to the House for concurrence in an amendment to increase the limitation of payments which the Secretary of Agriculture may make to the States to $25,000 a mile, exclusive of the cost of bridges.

POST DECLINED BY WIDOW OF DAHLMAN

OMAHA, Jan. 29. (AP)—Mrs. Harriet Dahlman, widow of James C. Dahlman, "cowboy" Mayor of Omaha, today rejected the offer of the City Commissioners to appoint her Mayor. She declined with thanks, saying she lacked the health to stand the strain of such work.

NAVAL PARLEY BOGEY ARISES

regarding construction of the three submarines remaining on Britain's 1929 naval program will not be made until after conclusion of the naval parley.

ECONOMIES LISTED

Following upon the reference by Mr. Stimson in a radio speech to the huge American economy which would be possible by curtailing battleship construction during the immediate future, Mr. Alexander told the Commons that Great Britain could save £82,000,000 in battleship costs during the period the London treaty is expected to run, that is, to about 1936.

A Japanese spokesman today placed the minimum requirements of Japan for submarines at 80,000 tons. The Japanese view is that submarines are necessary solely for defense. The Japanese and British experts have been conferring and Japanese-American negotiations are expected to begin in a few days.

DELEGATES GOING TO COUNTRY ESTATE

LEGION WOMAN DECRIES DISARMING AIMS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. (AP)—Addressing the Women's Patriotic Conference on National Defense, Mrs. Donald MacRae of Indianapolis, tonight voiced a prayer that "our national security will not be bartered away in exchange for temporary economies or for empty pledges of peace."

Mrs. MacRae, who is national president of the American Legion Auxiliary, said there is need for Americans to fight the battles of the American delegation in London on home ground to give the envoys confidence in demanding America's full rights in naval strength.

The meeting was held in Constitutional Hall, the new building of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and the delegates were welcomed to the structure by Mrs. Lowell Fletcher Hobart, president-general of that organization.

Mrs. MacRae said that some steps already have been taken toward permanent international peace, and added:

"Real progress must necessarily come step by step. Precipitate action now might easily destroy the progress that has been made. I can think of no action which might be more fatal to the cause of world peace than the premature disarming of the world's greatest and richest nation."

T. L. Bodenhamer, national commander of the American Legion, urged enactment of a universal draft law.

JOINT RAIL SERVICE APPROVED BY I.C.C.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. (AP)—Permission for the Northern Pacific Railway, the Great Northern and the Sioux line to continue joint passenger service between the Twin Cities and the head of the Great Lakes was given today by the Interstate Commerce Commission. It held such service to be in the interest of economy of operation and not an undue restraint of competition.

the city. Photographers were on hand when the plane was assembled and Mrs. Lindbergh, attired in white overalls and wearing a white band around her head, received final instructions from her husband, who recently won his own license as first-class glider pilot. The ground crew manned the rubber shock cords with which the glider is launched and a moment later Mrs. Lindbergh, alone in the silently moving plane, was soaring gracefully over the mountainside and the adjoining meadows.

It was a sort of "San Diego Day" for the Lindberghs. In the forenoon, Col. Lindbergh made a test flight in the new all-metal Solar sesquiplane just completed here. Accompanied by Douglas Kelley and two passengers, he made landings and take-offs at the field during the forenoon. Just before the Lindberghs, accompanied by Mrs. J. L. Maddux, left for Los Angeles this afternoon in their red and white Lockheed, the colonel was presented with a climb-bank indicator for "blind" flying by Lieutenant-Commander P. V. H. Weems, local naval officer and inventor of the famous Weems system of navigation for aircraft. Commander Weems shortly after the invention of his system, went east from here to give the famous pilot the details of how it is used in air navigation.

DIRIGIBLE MAIL LINE SPONSORED

Bill to be Introduced in House for West Coast to Manila Subsidy

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. (Exclusive)—Announcement was made today that Representative Kelly of Pennsylvania, chairman of the House Committee on Postoffices and Post Roads, has agreed to introduce a bill providing for the establishment of the proposed west coast-Manila dirigible mail route, under a government subsidy similar to that granted American ships carrying mail.

It was also announced that Assistant Postmaster-General W. Irving Glover, in charge of air mail, had informally approved the legislation.

Thus it appears that the way is paved for establishment of this service by the Goodyear-Zeppelin Corporation, which announced some weeks ago that it planned to inaugurate air passenger-mail traffic to the Philippines with the intention ultimately of extending it to Japan and Australia.

No definite announcement has been made as to where the Pacific Coast terminal of the proposed ocean air line will be, but it has been understood all along that it would be in California and, more specifically, that it would be Los Angeles.

Five Explosions in Day Set New Crime Mark

CHICAGO, Jan. 29. (AP)—A series of bombings, robbery and gun play was climaxed today by a suspected attempt on the life of a State's Attorney's official who has been active against Chicago's organized vice rings.

A new record for bombings in a single day was reached as five blasts rocked residence and industrial buildings in the north and southside districts, causing extensive property damage.

An apparent sixth bombing attempt was frustrated by an alert garage attendant who routed two men he surprised trying to attach a package to the motor of an automobile belonging to Chief Investigator Pat Roche of the State's Attorney's office.

The men fled with the package, which it was thought contained a bomb intended for Roche in reprisal for the fatal shooting of an armed robber by one of Roche's men earlier in the day.

The latter incident occurred after the investigator learned an attempt was to be made to rob several Gold Coast apartment-hotels.

A man later identified as Andrew Wright, 34 years of age, formerly of Denver, Colo., walked into the lobby of a hotel and was felled by police bullets while resisting arrest.

Roche and his squad left and two hours later two men were found working at his car. They fled after beating the garage attendant who discovered them. Roche advanced the opinion they were endeavoring to attach a bomb which would have exploded when he stepped on the electric starter of the car.

HOOVER TO VISIT, SAYS ORTIZ RUBIO

Mexico's President-elect Expects Return Call But Does Not Set Date

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 29. (AP)—President-elect Pascual Ortiz Rubio expects President Hoover to visit Mexico and return the call he made at Washington, but he does not know what date the President will find convenient for the trip. He made this known today in an interview.

In answer to other questions the President-elect said his administration will pay cash for lands taken over for distribution to the peasants under the agrarian laws, abandoning the system of payment in Agrarian bonds. Bonds already issued will be redeemed gradually as the finances of the nation permit.

He also said his government will continue the antialcohol movement begun by President Portes Gil. Ortiz Rubio takes office February 5.

Bandits Menace Chicago Broker

CHICAGO, Jan. 29. (AP)—Three hoodlums terrorized a brokerage office on the twenty-first floor of a La Salle-street building today, demanding $5000 from Robert Barr, President of the company, but were arrested by a detective squad, secretely summoned.

Barr, head of the concern bearing his name, said he had been threatened with death unless he paid $5000. Today, he said, the trio appeared, one put a pistol to Barr's head and was forcing the broker to write a check when the police squad arrived.

He was the American Bar Association's treasurer from the time of organization to 1902, in which year he was elected president.

will then have to devote two or three days to the preliminaries of discussing the question of power. Just as we did in the matter of allocation of water. I don't think I should say any more."

Although talk with individual delegates did not seem to justify the degree of optimism exuded by the conference chairman, it was apparent that the crisis which held all during the day was passed, at least temporarily.

It has become known that Donovan, former assistant Attorney-General, is personally defraying all expenses of himself and his two secretaries who are here trying to bring the three States together and that he is receiving no compensation whatever.

For approximately forty-eight hours, it is said, he did not get outside of the hotel in which the negotiations are taking place and he has worked almost around the clock trying to effect a compromise.

At tomorrow's session of the California delegation he will not be in attendance. "From this point on it is up to California to go it alone," he said. "They're trying hard and I believe they'll make it."

WILBUR CONFIDENT ON CONFERENCE

PHOENIX, Jan. 29. (AP)—Optimism for the success of the tri-State Colorado River Conference at Reno was expressed by Ray Lyman Wilbur, Secretary of the Interior, as his train stoped here tonight en route from Los Angeles to Washington.

All forces are being brought to bear, he said, to make the conference and its results satisfactory to the States concerned. He was confident, he said, that the reported rift in the California delegation will be healed.

Secretary Wilbur indicated that the government will maintain a passive attitude in the matter until the result of the conference is known.

DRY QUESTION TO BE ARGUED

a government agent had submitted a sensational report on the record of John F. C. Herbert, prohibition administrator for Montana and Idaho.

In the House, however, Representative Stobbs, Republican, Massachusetts, declared that the reputation of Herbert in his home town of Worcester, Mass., "is one of the best." He said Herbert had rendered distinguished service in the World War and that his integrity always has been unquestioned.

A thorough investigation into prohibition appears certain after the legislative proposals of the law enforcement commission reach the Senate Judiciary Committee. Both wets and drys are preparing for the contest before that committee.

BRITIS HSAID TO PLAN NEW PALESTINE POLICY

JERUSALEM, Jan. 29. (AP)—An Arab newspaper of good repute today said it has learned on good authority the British government intends soon to base its future policy in Palestine on a new interpretation of the Balfour declaration. The new policy would involve establishment of a Palestine Parliament and restriction of Jewish immigration in accordance with the country's absorbing power.

Hope to Delve Into Mystery of Ice-Hidden Lands

Photographers Also Busy on Waiting Ship

BY RUSSELL OWEN

(Copyright, 1930, by the Los Angeles Times, New York Times Company and St. Louis Post-Dispatch. All rights for publication reserved throughout the world.)

LITTLE AMERICA (Antarctica) Jan. 29. (Exclusive)—While waiting for a ship to arrive, some final investigation work is being carried on along the tremendous chasms and ice gorges—for they are much more than crevasses—southwest of the Bay of Whales. There are inlets and ice-walled openings in the barrier running west for nearly forty miles, probably caused by the barrier being forced over submerged land.

A few days ago Capt. McKinley with Dr. Gould, geologist of the expedition, and Capt. Parker as pilot, flew over these chasms and gorges and photographed them with a twenty-inch lens camera. They obtained pictures that show these remarkable formations with huge canyons, their white floors covered with jumbled and broken masses of ice and great fissures running off from them, their edges fringed with graceful overhanging cornices of snow, every evidence of overpowering forces.

EVIDENCE OF LAND

These evidences of land somewhere south of the bay, run not only to the west, but also to the east for about thirty miles. To the east, however, the canyon is narrower and more uniform in structure, but fully as deep, probably more than 100 feet in many places. Across it lie ice masses, indicating a shearing and sideways movement of the barrier. Somewhere in these formations lies the secret of the Bay of Whales—the cause for this deep indentation in the barrier which has maintained its shape ever since it was discovered. Dr. Gould was greatly interested in the extensive evidence of pressure from beneath the barrier and said that the photographs should be of great value.

There are many openings in the bottoms of these gorges and today a sledging party went out to sound through such holes as they could reach and obtain records of the depth of the water. Bernt Balchen, Sverre Strom, Chris Braathen and Freddie Crockett, who took with him a radio set, comprised the party.

ANOTHER TRIP PLANNED

They were to have started yesterday but a blizzard which came up the night before and lasted until last night, held them in camp. Today, however, the sky is partly clear with a cool wind from the south. They need clear weather for their work as climbing down into these great holes will require care and skill.

While this is going on, Joe De Ganahl, Quinn Blackburn, Doc Coman and Alexander are going northeast twenty or thirty miles to establish a position that will serve as a control point for the aerial photographic survey east of the east cape of the bay. They will be gone two or three days.

OPERA FAVORITE SINGS HER LAST

Emmy Destinn

SONGBIRD SILENCED BY DEATH

Emmy Destinn, Famous Figure in Opera, Expires in Czecho-Slovakia

BERLIN, Jan. 29. (AP)—The prima donna, Emmy Destinn, died today at Budweis, Czecho-Slovakia. She was 51 years of age.

Mme. Destinn became one of the most famous figures of European opera of the first quarter of the century. She was born at Prague, Bohemia, February 20, 1878, the daughter of Emanuel Kittle, and began her education as a violinist under Lachner.

FAMOUS ROLES

From 1892 to 1896 she studied under Maria Loewe-Destinn, whose name she adopted. In 1898 she joined the Royal Opera Company in Berlin.

She appeared first as Senta in "The Flying Dutchman" and as Nedda in "Pagliacci," at Covent Garden in 1904, later creating the title role in Puccini's "Madame Butterfly," and Tatiana in "Eugen Onegin." Her other favorite roles were Aida, Santuzza, Armide, Venus, Elsa and Maddalena in "Andrea Chenier."

Her hobby was writing and versifying, collecting rare books and beautiful bindings.

WED AVIATOR

In 1910 she participated in the then new production of Puccini's "Girl of the Golden West," with the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York, an opera revived only this season by the present Metropolitan management.

She took out her first citizenship papers in the United States shortly before America's entrance into the World War. She married a Captain Halabach, Czecho aviator, who was much younger than herself.

Her voice was a soprano of extraordinary range.

Woman Escapes Lifetime Term Under New York's Habitual Criminal Law

NEW YORK, Jan. 29. (Exclusive) A sympathetic jury all but forgave Marion Hackett today for obeying motherhood's elemental impulse to store property, even to steal it, as a protective cloak for her unborn children, all five of them subsequently born in prison as a result of her thefts.

The young woman who chose to gamble on a possible life imprisonment for a fourth time felon under the habitual criminal law for a chance of freedom to mother the fifth and only surviving child, swooned from joy as a jury in General Sessions today returned a verdict convicting her of petty larceny.

Her conviction for a misdemeanor, rather than for grand larceny, a felony, on which she was indicted with her husband John, left Judge Levine free to promise her a light sentence instead of mandatory life imprisonment.

Mr. Cornish denied the charge before elders of the church, and offered his resignation, which was refused. Mrs. Thomas, who is 35 years of age, filed the suit when the elders refused to act.

AIR CRASH LAID TO POISON GAS

Exhaust Fumes Suspected in Kansas City Disaster

Carbon Found Around Pipes Used to Heat Cabin

Official Investigation Will be Launched Today

KANSAS CITY (Kan.) Jan. 29. (AP) — Deadly carbon monoxide gas was advanced today as a possible cause of the crash here Monday of a Central Air Lines passenger plane and the death of all five persons aboard, as Federal, State and company officials continued investigation of the tragedy.

The carbon monoxide gas theory was advanced by E. L. Sloniger, field manager here for Universal Aviation Corporation, with which Central Air Lines is affiliated. Sloniger directed workmen who took apart the heating equipment of the wrecked plane and discovered carbon under an unwelded collar around pipes supplying heat to the cabin.

PILOT FELT ILL

Air was heated by passing the pipes through the exhaust pipe. Sloniger said it was possible that gas from the exhaust might have become mixed with the air carried inside the body of the ship.

Carbon monoxide gas easily could have numbed Dyke Laudeman, pilot of the plane, and caused him to lose control. He previously had complained of feeling ill after making long trips in the plane, which was his particular pet.

R. G. Lockwood, general operations manager of the Aviation Corporation, of New York, owner of the Central Air Lines, arrived today by air to make a study of the disaster. After a preliminary investigation of the wreckage he was inclined to discredit theories that the pilot was to blame or that poisonous gas was responsible.

OFFICIALS CRITICISED

Mr. Lockwood said he would inspect the wreckage thoroughly tomorrow, and then go to Wichita, Kan., where the ship was manufactured, in an attempt to find structural failures.

Another probe of the crash is scheduled to begin tomorrow under direction of Fred R. White, Wyandotte County Attorney, and Dr. Ben F. Coffin, County Coroner.

Dr. Coffin, following the wreck, severely criticised Sloniger and other officials for the removal of the debris to a hangar. He said the act destroyed possible evidence and was in direct violation of instructions of a deputy Coroner.

FRUIT FLY AREA TO BE SURVEYED

Appropriations Chief in House Demands Inquiry on Eradication Work

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. (Exclusive)—Chairman Will Wood of the House Appropriations Committee today introduced a resolution authorizing him to lead a subcommittee to Florida for a first-hand investigation of the merits of the administration request for $15,000,000 to continue the eradication program against the Mediterranean fruit fly.

The resolution will be adopted and the subcommittee will head south some time in the spring to make a personal inspection of the infested area, and hold hearings on the necessity of further eradication measures.

Chairman Wood has received reports to the effect the funds thus far spent by the government in fighting the Mediterranean fruit fly have been largely wasted and he insists upon looking into the situation for himself.

Meanwhile, the California delegation is continuing its fight for the administration program on the theory that while there may have been some mismanagement and waste this should not prevent the eradication campaign being carried forward to successful conclusion.

New Ruling in Veterans' Law

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29. (Exclusive)—An interpretation of the Veterans' Farm and Home Loan Act by the City Attorney's office, submitted today in a local controversy, makes veterans purchasing homes under that act solely liable for local assessments bettering property values and is expected to have a State-wide effect.

Opposition was made here by veterans to an assessment for the Duboce Tunnel on the ground the title to the land which they occupy or the home they are purchasing from State funds rests with the State until the contract has been fulfilled. The City Attorney ruled against them.

TUBES INCREASE AIR-MAIL SPEED

Practical Demonstration Made in New York

Chamberlin Shows System Would Save Time

Los Angeles One of Cities Said to Need Plan

NEW YORK, Jan. 29. (Exclusive) A practical demonstration of one method of speeding up the air-mail service was conducted here today by Col. Clarence D. Chamberlin, consulting engineer on aeronautics for New York City, who now is supervising the development of a municipal airport just outside of Brooklyn. The trans-Atlantic flyer used the customs house system of pneumatic tubes to show how a full hour can be clipped off the delivery time between Chicago and this city and twenty to forty minutes saved at all air-mail landing fields.

Col. Chamberlin also used approximately $1,000,000 in bank notes and jewels to impress observers with the safety of such a system in transporting valuable registered mail. The jewels and the bales of bank notes, the flyer confessed, were borrowed for the occasion. Two police inspectors were present. The test took place in the basement of the customs house.

TWO MILES LONG

Today's demonstration was through a two-mile tube system. The container, about the size of the inside of an ice cream freezer, was started on its journey at the appraiser's warehouse two miles from the customs house. Exactly five and a half minutes later it popped out of the tube in the customs house basement, its $250,000 cargo of currency intact. A second container, carrying a sack said to contain diamonds, pearls and other jewels made the trip in a few seconds less time.

"This same pneumatic tube system," Col. Chamberlin said, "can be installed for a few thousand dollars a mile from an airport to the postoffice.

LOS ANGELES NAMED

"When the postal service saves five or more hours in transportation of mail by air, it should not waste forty minutes to an hour in getting it from an airport to a postoffice," he said.

Five cities were named by Col. Chamberlin as places in which the pneumatic tube system would be particularly advantageous in saving much time now lost. These were New York, Boston, Chicago, Cincinnati and Los Angeles. Several of the cities already have the tube system between railroad stations and postoffices.

"Sargon Was a Blessing to Me," She Declares

"I have lived in San Francisco fifteen years and have hundreds of friends here. I just wish it was so that every one of them could know about this wonderful Sargon.

MRS. LILLIAN BEAUMONT.

"During the past two years I'd been in a dreadfully weak and run-down condition. I couldn't even attend to my house work. I suffered a great deal from biliousness which seemed to bring on terrible headaches and nervous spells. My whole system was excessively acid, I was cross and irritable, and felt so depressed I nearly worried myself to death over little things. I had no appetite, and everything I ate disagreed with me. I lost considerable weight and became so restless that I'd often roll and toss until daylight, without any sound sleep at all. I tried one medicine after another, but nothing helped me for any length of time. Then I decided to try Sargon.

"Before I finished the first bottle I knew I'd found what I'd been needing! It's simply wonderful the way my appetite returned. All that acidity disappeared and I never before enjoyed my meals like I do now. Everything agrees with me, too, and I've already gained back five pounds. I'm no longer depressed, cross or irritable; every trace of restlessness and nervousness has gone—nothing worries me any more, and in the mornings I'm so refreshed, cheerful and energetic I feel like an entirely different person. I get my house work done in no time at all.

"Sargon Soft Mass Pills entirely relieved me of chronic constipation. Before using these pills I'd taken some kind of laxative every day of my life for years without any satisfactory relief. They cleansed and toned up my whole system, stimulating my liver so that I am never bilious now, and I haven't had a headache or a dizzy spell since taking them. The Sargon treatment can't be recommended too highly."

The above enthusiastic statement was made by Mrs. Lillian Beaumont, 550 Baker St., San Francisco.

The Sargon Man is at the Owl Drug Store, 6th & Broadway, where he is meeting the public and explaining the merits of this celebrated new scientific product. Sargon may be obtained at all Owl Drug Stores in Los Angeles and other cities.—[Advertisement.

WEST MAY GET NEW ROAD AID

Colton Bill Approved by House Committee

Federal Funds Provided for Public Land Areas

Money Would be Allocated on Percentage Basis

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. (Exclusive)—Western road-building programs received an impetus today when the House Committee on Roads favorably reported out the Colton bill, which provides for Federal co-operation in building roads through "unappropriated or unreserved public lands, nontaxable Indian lands or other Federal reservations," excepting national forest lands.

The measure further provides for a preference in the allocation of funds for this work to projects which are now or in the future will be located on Federal highway systems.

PERCENTAGE BASIS

The appropriations assured under this bill are to be spent in States with more than 5 per cent of their area comprised of public lands. Funds will be allocated to the Western States on a basis of the percentage of such lands in their total areas. In the report of the House Roads Committee, the following percentages for allocation of funds are cited: California, 40.7 per cent; Washington, 30.6 per cent; Oregon, 45.6 per cent; Idaho, 57.3 per cent; Nevada, 84.2 per cent; Arizona, 66.8 per cent; Utah, 66.3 per cent; Montana, 30.8 per cent; Wyoming, 51.8 per cent; Colorado, 32.2 per cent, and New Mexico, 37.7 per cent.

The report states further that money for these road improvements could not be raised solely by State taxation, in the opinion of State experts who appeared before the committee.

MANY YEARS BEHIND

"The Federal government," the report of the committee reads, "is still many years behind in its road-building program, even through the national forests, as compared with States in the completion of the other roads of the Federal aid system. It will take the government on an average forty-three years to build the Federal aid roads through the forests as the program is now being carried out.

"When we turn to the consideration of roads through unappropriated, unreserved and nontaxable Indian lands we find the situation is even worse."

MORE ROAD FUNDS

Following the favorable report of the committee, Representative Colton, Republican, Utah, introduced a bill appropriating $12,500,000 annually for the fiscal years of 1932 and 1933 and increasing the appropriation for 1931 by $5,000,000 for national forest and other highways.

The bill sets a yearly allocation of $7,500,000 for national forest road work and specifies that the surplus of $5,000,000 must be spent under the direction of the Secretary of Agriculture, on projects "not otherwise financed" but which are located on present or future Federal aid projects.

Federal Jurist Censured After House Inquiry

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. (AP)—Grounds for impeachment of Grover M. Moscowitz, Federal judge for the Eastern New York District, were found insufficient in a report accepted today by the House Judiciary Committee, but the judge was censured for his conduct in office.

The report, made by a judiciary subcommittee, said it found nothing corrupt in a business arrangement which Judge Moscowitz continued with his former partners after being appointed to the bench. It added, however, that "this procedure throws the court open to criticism and misunderstanding by the uninformed, as happened in this case, and therefore, this committee cannot and does not indorse this practice."

LEGISLATOR HINTS KENTUCKY SCANDAL

FRANKFORT (Ky.) Jan. 29. (AP)—Representative Nichols, Democrat, of Nelson, discussing in the Kentucky House today a proposal to investigate the State Highway Commission, read a series of letters and telegrams which he said "imply corruption in the high councils of the government." He said that if they are found to be true "the Governor of this commonwealth must be impeached."

Joan Bennett Names Fox and Bride in Demand for Funds for Daughter

SEATTLE, Jan. 29. (AP)—Complaining of nonsupport of their daughter, Adrienne Ralston Fox, Joan Bennett, talking-picture actress, today brought suit in Superior Court here against her former husband, John Marion Fox, and his bride of a little more than a month, the former Miss Polly Perkins, daughter of W. D. Perkins, Seattle banker.

The actress said that she is seeking only support for the daughter of herself and Fox. They were married in London, September 15, 1926, and divorced two years later in Los Angeles.

The actress declared that Fox has refused to have anything to do with his daughter and has ignored a Los Angeles Superior Court order in which he was directed to "support the child until further order of the court."

Through her attorneys, Miss Bennett made public an oral statement in which she declared "this suit was the only resort" and although she is capable herself of supporting the child. She has started legal action for "the principle of the thing."

The name of the second Mrs. Fox was joined to Miss Bennett's complaint, attorneys for the star explained, because part of the $1275 which the actress says is owing became due subsequent to the second marriage and must be paid out of community property.

FORT QUITS AS PARTY'S SECRETARY

Legislator from Jersey Announces Resignation of Republican Post

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. (AP)—Representative Fort of New Jersey made public tonight his resignation as secretary of the Republican National Committee.

Mr. Fort, who was manager of the preconvention campaign of Mr. Hoover for the Presidency, has been secretary of the Republican National Committee since the Kansas City convention.

In his letter to Chairman Huston of the National Committee Fort said he long has felt that his duties as secretary of the committee "took more time from my Congressional and business duties than I was justified in giving, except during the actual campaign for the Presidency."

"I have, however," he added, "remained as secretary until you could become thoroughly acclimated to the chairmanship. Since you are now familiar with your new duties, I hope you will accept forthwith my resignation as Secretary of the Republican National Committee."

CAREER MEN TO BE ENVOYS

Latin-America Friendship Plan Being Completed

Hoover Believes Ambassadors Must Know Country

Fred Dearing Appointed to Post in Peru

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. (AP)—President Hoover's program of stimulating friendly relations with Latin-American republics by appointing ambassadors and ministers familiar with the ways of those countries and trained in the foreign service has been brought near to completion.

A career man is to be chosen to fill the post of Minister to Colombia left vacant by the resignation of Evan E. Young. With the appointment yesterday of Fred Morris Dearing as ambassador to Peru, every other post was filled, and of them all only four are held by non-career men.

BUSINESS ENTERED

Young's resignation followed closely that of H. F. Arthur Schoenfeld, who was to have been sent to Costa Rica. Charles C. Eberhardt filled his place. Both of the retiring men are entering private business.

Of the four diplomats not trained in the foreign service, only Dwight W. Morrow, Ambassador to Mexico, and Harry F. Guggenheim, Ambassador to Cuba, came to the service from private careers. W. S. Culbertson, Ambassador to Chile, had five years of diplomat service and before that held governmental posts for many years, and Roy T. Davis, newly appointed Minister to Panama, has been Minister both to Guatemala and Costa Rica, after serving the State of Missouri in various tasks.

TWO MISSOURIANS

Ambassador Morrow, now at the London naval conference as a delegate, is soon to resign from the diplomatic service to enter the Senate from New Jersey. Ambassador Guggenheim was appointed only last October and is expected to remain at Havana.

The new Ambassador to Peru is ending a term as Minister to Portugal and has been in the diplomatic service since 1906, with considerable Latin-American experience. His transfer to Peru will give Columbia, Mo., two diplomats in Latin America, as Roy T. Davis, also comes from there.

MEXICO BACKS RUSSIAN BREAK

Makar Denied Standing by Foreign Minister

Soviet Representative May Go or Stay at Will

Matter Now Closed in View of Diplomats

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 29. (Exclusive)—If any doubt existed as to Mexico's stand that all diplomatic relations were broken between the two countries when on the 23rd inst. Mexico recalled its Minister and legation staff from Moscow, this point was cleared up by Acting Foreign Secretary Genaro Estrada this evening when he stated that Dr. Alexander Makar, soviet Minister here, had no diplomatic standing in the opinion of Mexico, that he can remain if he wishes or go when he wants to with or without his passport, which, if he requests it, will be granted him.

Because Makar still remains in Mexico diplomatic circles have been confused as to the exact relationship between the two countries.

Makar is still within the Russian Legation and declines all interviewers. He called on Estrada yesterday and was received by the Foreign Minister, who verbally confirmed Mexico's formal statement of the 23rd inst.

Apparently Mexico now considers the matter closed.

YOUNG REVISES AIRWAY RULES

Department of Commerce to Promote Safety

Rule for Transport Planes Made Obligatory

Adequate Airport Condition of Future Licenses

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. (AP)—Representatives of a majority of the transport operators meeting at the Department of Commerce today were told by Assistant Secretary Young that a standard of safety requirements designed to assure safety on air lines is soon to be put into effect.

Among the requirements outlined by Young were: Two-way radio facilities aboard planes for reception of weather information and reception of emergency messages to the ground; adequate airports and suitable intermediate emergency landing fields, and adequate airways for night flying.

Young said that transport organizations will be required to have the prescribed facilities available before undertaking operations. If the government is unable to provide them, Young said, the organizations themselves must do so or await the government's ability to provide them in the ordinary course of its airway development program.

The department's action followed a recent requirement issued that planes carrying passengers for hire must maintain an altitude of 500 feet or land immediately.

HOUSE PASSES ON SUPPLY BILL

Total of $113,599,000 Fixed for Four Departments

Increases for Enforcement and Aviation Provided

Fifth Major Measure of Kind to be Sent to Senate

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. (AP)—Carrying increased outlays for law enforcement, penal institutions and aviation facilities, in its aggregate of $113,599,000, the annual appropriation bill for the State, Justice, Commerce and Labor departments was forwarded to the Senate tonight after being passed by the House.

It is the fifth major supply bill for the fiscal year 1931 which awaits Senate attention pending disposal of the tariff bill. Appropriation measures for four other governmental departments are being prepared in House committee.

SLIGHT CHANGES

The Appropriations Committee bill was slightly amended by the House and shows an increase of only $1,450,000 over the funds used by the four departments during the current year. The State Department is allotted $16,799,000, an increase of $2,135,556; Justice Department, $31,710,000, an increase of $3,772,000; Commerce, $52,888,000, a decrease of $5,903,000; and the Labor Department, $13,220,000, an increase of $1,455,000.

The Attorney-General's office is allowed $5,214,000, an increase of $539,000, which is absorbed in the funds for prosecution of crimes and for the new office of superintendent of prisons. The judiciary is allotted $18,527,000, an increase of $1,186,000 for district attorneys and United States marshals. Penal institutions receive an increase of more than $2,047,000, for a total of $7,968,000.

AVIATION FUNDS

Of the sum of $12,175,000 allowed the Secretary of Commerce, nearly $10,000,000 is set aside for aircraft in commerce and for the construction of air-navigation facilities, representing an increase of $2,787,000. This increase will take care of construction of lights on the Columbus-Philadelphia, Jacksonville-Richmond, San Diego-Fort Worth, Fort Worth-Louisville, Fort Worth-Birmingham, and San Antonio-Midland routes.

JAPANESE HIGHEST SCOUT

Sacramento Youth Accorded Top Rating of Fifty-two Boys Awarded Harmon Service Scholarships

NEW YORK, Jan. 29. (AP)—The National Court of Honor of the Boy Scouts of America tonight announced award of the Harmon Scout scholarships for 1929 to fifty-two Scouts. The winners were selected because of unusual services to their home communities, for outstanding attainments and for high achievements as Eagle Scouts.

Harry Mayeda, 18 years of age, of Sacramento, Cal., who is of Japanese parentage, won the highest rating of the fifty-two. The announcement pointed out that Mayeda, though a member of a poor family, worked his way through school. Through his activities in training Japanese-American boys in citizenship he won the friendship of Gov. Young of California. The Governor personally indorsed him to receive the Harmon scholarship after Mayeda had helped his troop, composed of poor Japanese boys, to earn enough money to finance a trip to Japan in the interest of international good will.

Gordon Gilbert Power, 17, of Baltimore, overcame the handicap of loss of an arm six years ago and became not only an exceptional high school and Duke University student, but also an able athlete. Another handicapped student who won distinction was Joseph Agee, 17, of Fort Smith, Ark. Agee made a good record despite infantile paralysis.

Eugene Lloyd Mitchell, 20, negro of Findlay, Okla., was another winner. He received high praise for scholastic attainment and personality.

Other winners included Ralph I. Buxton, Fortuna, Cal.; Wesley Wooden, Eureka, Cal., and Arra Avakian, Fresno, Cal.

STRAW HAT CUT MOVES BALKED

Senate Turns Back Efforts for Slashes in Tariff

Possible Increase in Italian Imports Considered

Fixing of Headgear Schedule Deferred Till Today

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. (AP)—With an eye to spring and possible growing importations from Italy, the Senate turned back four attempts today to slash the increased duties carried in the pending tariff bill on straw hats, but deferred until tomorrow a decision as to what rates are to be approved.

A combination of eastern Democrats and Republican regulars sent down to defeat in rapid succession amendments offered by Senator Barkley, Kentucky, a Democratic member of the Finance Committee, to cut materially the bill rates and in some instances to go below existing law.

The rate on braids used in the manufacture of hats, if containing a substantial part of rayon, was raised from 15 per cent on the plain and 20 per cent on dyed, as at present, to 45 per cent.

Malone Weds Brooklyn Art Student Abroad

LONDON, Jan. 29. (AP)—Dudley Field Malone, American divorce lawyer, was married at noon today to Edna Louise Johnson of Brooklyn. The civil ceremony took place in Mayfair. There was no church service.

The bride, who is 24 years of age, has been studying art and music for several years in Paris. She met Malone about three years ago in the south of France.

Sir William Jowitt, Attorney-General, and Lady Cynthia Mosley acted as witnesses.

Among intimate friends who were present at the wedding were Will Rogers, H. L. Mencken, Peggy Wood, the Baroness Ravensdale, and Sir Thomas and Lady Bridges.

Malone recently was divorced from Doris Stevens, the feminist.

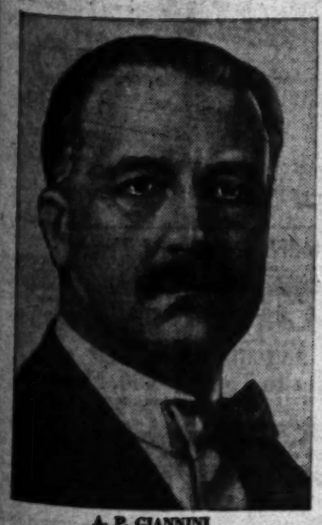
"Permanency in building construction is just as important as permanency in investing"...

A. P. GIANNINI



A. P. GIANNINI
President
Transamerica Corporation

IN building a home you should be guided by the same rules that govern your investments. In both cases you are spending money for future return. In both you should seek lasting values. Many famous bankers, such as Mr. Giannini, advise you to build for permanency—with Copper, Brass and Bronze.

Brass or Copper pipe, Copper flashings, gutters and downspouts and solid Brass or Bronze hardware and lighting fixtures represent permanent worth when used in any building. They cannot rust. They do not depreciate in value or service.

Genuine rust-proof equipment of Copper, Brass and Bronze costs slightly more at first, but in the long run it saves you money. It serves for a lifetime without repair or replacement.

The Building Service Department of the COPPER & BRASS RESEARCH ASSOCIATION, 25 Broadway, New York, will be glad to advise you without charge about the uses and proper application of these metals.

Attacks on Filipinos Draw Eyes of Nation

Trouble Magnified by All Factions in Fight

left, but instead of going home went to another Filipino bunk house.

William Hanlon, chairman of the athletic commission, more familiarly referred to as the boxing commission, announced a ban on Filipino boxers on all programs in the State, admittedly to eliminate any possibility of violence occurring at a boxing program.

The action, according to dispatches quoting Charles F. Traung, San Francisco member of the commission now in the South, was refuted by Traung in so far as the San Francisco area is concerned. This led to harsh words between Hanlon and Traung and pronunciamento from Hanlon that the order will stand, regardless.

Stockton authorities averred the bombing there last night of the Filipino Federation of America was due to an internal quarrel. Two factions, according to Chief of Police Dewey and Dist.-Atty. Darrah, have been attempting to gain control of the club. They aver the "outside" faction saw a good chance to cover its action because of the trouble between whites and the islanders and drove by in an automobile, flinging a bomb at the clubhouse.

POLICE ON GUARD

Chief Dewey revoked all police department leaves of absence and cut short vacations and canceled days off, centering the major strength of his department on the Filipino section to quell summarily any further indication of trouble.

One hundred and eighty soldiers remain on guard at the Presidio, according to reports from that point. An asserted plot to steal arms and ammunition, burning the garrison if necessary to obtain them, was disclosed yesterday. Its frustration was attributed to a "tip-off" by a Filipino employee at the post who attended the asserted plot meetings.

No further outbreaks occurred in San Francisco but the attacks of yesterday on five Filipinos prompted a statement by Mrs. Tomasa Selim Maribus, president of the Philippine Women's Association of California, in which she appeals to the community of San Francisco "to cooperate in the maintenance of the principles of amity and good will."

CLUB OFFICIAL SEEKS SUPPRESSION OF NEWS

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 29. (Exclusive)—An appeal to Gov. Young to suppress news of the riots between Filipinos and whites occurring in various parts of the State was made today by A. B. Ines, secretary of the Filipino Law Students' Club, Lincoln University, San Francisco.

In a telegram to the Governor, Ines said:

"Newspaper headlines and accounts on present race riots contribute more ill feeling on both Americans and Filipinos rather than stop it. For the sake of peace, we appeal to you to restrain publication of incidents regarding present crisis. We have confidence in local officials to preserve order."

Vincent Kennedy, the Governor's executive secretary, notified Ines the matter will be called to the attention of Gov. Young, who is in Los Angeles.

STOCKTON INCREASES VIGILANCE OF GUARDS

STOCKTON, Jan. 29. (AP)—The bombing here early today of a Filipino clubhouse and center housing thirty families was reflected tonight in increased police vigilance and the appearance of the streets of National Guardsmen in uniform.

Although police expected no recurrence of anti-Filipino demonstrations and were convinced the bombing was the result of a feud between Filipinos themselves, all officers were ordered to hold themselves in readiness for duty. National Guardsmen appeared on the streets in uniform and stated they expected to be called out momentarily.

FILIPINOS COUNSELED

Meanwhile during the day delegates representing every group of Stockton's 15,000 Filipino population attended a mass meeting at which leaders expressed confidence in the ability of local officers to handle the situation and urged their countrymen to strive to prevent further hostilities.

E. Y. Billones, local Filipino leader, said at the meeting he believed the bombing was not intended to kill but to frighten. He continued:

"We feel that demonstrations such as have occurred at Watsonville, San Jose and other sections of the State have been engineered by a political economic group attempting to scare us back to the Philippine Islands. We are willing to go back should that group represent a controlling political influence. We feel that these abortive explosions will aid our fight for independence and if we go back to the islands it will then be on a basis of the Philippines for the Filipinos and America for Americans."

ARGUMENT FOR FREEDOM

He declared the time is at hand for America to grant the Filipinos their independence and remove the menace of race riots.

Social service organizations, the Ministerial Association and other bodies passed resolutions deploring mob violence against Filipinos and urged police to exert vigilance in preventing new outbreaks.

In support of their theory that the bombing of the Filipino center was not the work of whites, police pointed out that the main building was occupied by thirty Filipino families, mostly women and children. Had the bomb been thrown by some one desirous of injuring the Filipinos, police believe, the rear building housing the bachelor group would have been selected for the attempt.

She was treated at the City Emergency Hospital for lacerations of the scalp and numerous bruises about the limbs and body.

WINTER TEST FLYERS END LONG JAUNT

Arctic Patrol Back at Home Airport With Three Machines Missing

MT. CLEMENTS (Mich.) Jan. 29. (AP)—The Army's Arctic patrol came back to the home airport tonight after a round-trip flight to Spokane, Wash., which started the 10th inst.

Fifteen of the eighteen pursuit planes which started the flight arrived together at 5:15 p.m. One of them, piloted by Lieut. N. S. Sullin, was forced down at Manistique, Mich., after the patrol left Escanaba, Mich., on the final leg of the flight. Another, piloted by Lieut. Marion Elliott, was delayed, having landed to render assistance, and the third had been wrecked several days ago in a snowstorm at Beach, N. D.

Maj. Ralph Royce, commander of the flight, declared that it was a success in that it had accomplished its purpose—to determine how present equipment will cope with winter conditions.

Two important facts have been developed, Maj. Royce said—that the present type of ski is not practical, and that the present type of heater will not perform when called upon to get a motor warmed up for starting after a cold night in the open.

Maj. Royce believes a combination wheel-ski would be more suitable for winter flying and is of the opinion that wood or steel would be better material for construction of skis than the composition now used. The skis on ships of the patrol dug through shallow snow to the ground, he said.

The heaters failed to operate, the major related, and the pilots used plumber's pots with stove pipe attached.

CHICAGO RED MARCH PLAN STIRS POLICE

Chaotic Condition of City Finances Threatens Huge Demonstration Today

CHICAGO, Jan. 29. (Exclusive)—The increasing financial distress of the city of Chicago and Cook county, which has impoverished hundreds of unpaid city government employees and which today resulted in court orders for eviction of several of them from their homes because of unpaid rent, tonight became a matter of grave concern to police officials when it was learned that 4000 Communists are planning to march upon the City Hall tomorrow to protest against the city's chaotic fiscal plight and the unemployment situation.

The report of the parade comes as fulfillment of fears voiced last week by spokesmen for Mayor Thompson, who has charged the "reformers" with fostering Communism through their efforts to shake public confidence in administration officials.

According to reports of those close to the Mayor it was said tonight that the mob proposed to march down La Salle street through the banking district tomorrow with "flags flying and torches ablaze" to the City Hall, and "that in the event of such a demonstration" only "Big Bill" Thompson, the friend of the people, can hold the mob spirit in check."

The police department tonight planned precautionary measures to prevent disorder should the radicals attempt to carry out their plans. Word was received tonight at the Chicago-avenue police station that the Communists had formulated their plans for a parade at a meeting held this afternoon at 1118 West Madison street.

A woman who refused to divulge her name informed the police that she had just come from the Madison-street meeting, where she had heard plans for the demonstration discussed. Fearing the consequences of such a parade she declared she took it upon herself to inform the police.

PROSPECTOR FOUND IN OLD MINE SHAFT

BISBEE (Ariz.) Jan. 29. (AP)—Dave Armstrong, 70-year-old prospector, was brought to a hospital here in an unconscious condition, after having been rescued from the bottom of an abandoned mine shaft, near Tombstone. A rescue party found Armstrong at the bottom of the abandoned shaft, lying on his head, his feet uppermost.

GANGSTERS WOUND CAFE OWNER'S KIN

CHICAGO, Jan. 29. (AP)—John Genaro, 36-year-old brother of Joseph (Peppy) Genaro, Southside cabaret owner, was shot five times and probably fatally wounded late tonight in front of 211 West Twenty-third street. The shots were fired from a curtained motor car. Three bullets entered Genaro's body and bullets struck each arm.

FILIPINO RIOTING STIRS CONGRESS

California Clashes Revive Independence Issue

Exclusion Act Directed at Islands Suggested

Proponents of Mexican Ban Draw Lesson in Case

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. (Exclusive)—The recent anti-Filipino outbreaks in California stirred up debate today in both branches of Congress in the course of which the question of independence for the islands was given a fresh airing, there was more talk of an exclusion act aimed at the Philippines and proponents of Mexican restriction sought to turn the discussion to the aid of their own cause, though intimating that the trouble with the Filipinos could be expected to repeat itself in the case of the Mexicans.

In the Senate the debate was started by Tydings, Democrat of Maryland, who argued that the California riots supplied additional proof of the desirability of giving the Philippines their independence and placing their natives on a different footing in this country.

JOHNSON AROUSED

This aroused Senator Johnson of California, who said that while the Filipinos involved in the disturbances at Watsonville, and other places in California, will be given ample police protection in "all their rights," they brought the antagonism upon themselves by their inability to harmonize socially in the United States and their "peculiar propensity which manifests itself in a different degree from that ever manifested by any other race that has come to us." Johnson's implication was clear to the Senate—that the Filipinos brought on the demonstrations against them by their forwardness with American women.

Meanwhile in the House, Camilo Osias, Philippine Commissioner to Congress, was making an impassioned speech denouncing the anti-Filipino sentiment that has manifested itself in the California demonstrations, and appealing for island independence.

In reply to a direct question from Representative Barbour of California, Osias declared that the Filipinos, if given independence, would submit to immigration restrictions such as are placed by the United States upon other foreign countries.

FREEDOM WANTED

"What we want," he said, "is our political and economic freedom. We want realization of the confidence we have had that the American flag, having visited its blessings upon our people, is not to be one of despotism and despoliation but one of liberation."

Representative Box of Texas, followed Osias and attempted to connect the Filipino problem with Mexican immigration. Box is author of one of the pending bills clamping the lid on entries from below the Rio Grande. Telling how large employers at one time engaged in a "shameful traffic" in Filipino labor, the Texan declared "There are not the only people against whom there will be occasional uprisings." He said the Filipinos started coming to this country, or rather, were brought here under a "short-sighted policy" and declared the same mistake is being made in allowing Mexicans unrestricted flow across the border.

During his remarks Box was coached by Representative Johnson of Washington, chairman of the House Immigration Committee, and author of another restriction bill aimed at Mexico. The two of them were seeking preliminary attention for the "committee bill," they plan to have reported from the Immigration Committee limiting immigration from all the countries of the Western Hemisphere, particularly Mexico.

PASSIVE RESISTANCE TO BE FILIPINO ANSWER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. (AP)—Speaker Manuel Roxas of the Philippine House of Representatives today said passive resistance will be the Filipino's answer to the violance against his countrymen in California. He said reprisals against Americans in the Philippine Islands are not feared by the native leaders.

"We are intensely conscious of the delicacy of the problem presented by these attacks on Filipinos," Roxas asserted.

He declared the fundamental problem involved in the California riots is one of incompatibility of economic interests.

"Accusation that young American girls were lured to Filipino dance halls and vice dens are incendiary but misleading," he observed. "The fact remains that [illegible]'on-labor leaders on the West Coast view the influx of Filipino workers in their territory as a menace to their own opportunities for finding work. This is the real cause of the difficulties."

"Our independence," he declared, "will furnish the only logical cure for this incompatibility of interests."

Rains Raze Part of Persian City

TEHERAN (Persia) Jan. 29. (Exclusive)—One-third of Kashan, a large city long famous for its carpets and silk cloth, was destroyed by thirty-six days of continuous snow and rain. Thousands of families are homeless in the icy cold streets.

Such rainfall has been unknown even in Persia's forest areas. Many caravans and cars on different roads have not been heard of for days.

CASE AGAINST FORMER OFFICIAL DISMISSED

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 29. (AP)—The case against Robert N. Young, former City Treasurer, charged with embezzlement of city funds, was dismissed by District Judge McDonough today on motion of the defense.

ALIEN QUESTION JUMPS TO FORE

Move to Get Border Patrol Fund Fails in House

Box Warns of Race Friction and Cites California

Two Attorneys Make Pleas in Behalf of Mexico

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. (AP)—Swept along by an ineffectual effort to obtain an additional $100,000 for patrolling the borders, the immigration question moved into the House today with signs pointing toward its becoming a major issue.

The matter was brought to the fore with the offer of an amendment by Chairman Johnson, of the Immigration Commitee, to the four-department supply bill to increase by $100,000 the $1,868,440 carried in the measure for coast and border patrols. After a brief debate, the amendment was defeated by a 76-to-9 vote.

Representative Box, of Texas, ranking Democrat on the Immigration Committee, warned that race troubles such as recently occurred in California are "just beginning," and that "the problems of this sort should not be allowed to accumulate."

The flare-up in the House followed another morning of testimony before the Immigration Commitee on proposals to place immigration from the Western Hemisphere on a quota basis. Two American citizens of Mexican ancestry—J. T. Canales and Alonso Perales, both attorneys—pleaded for modification of evils they said had resulted from the present immigration regulations, and for recognition of the Mexican as an equal to people of other races.

"In an effort to make a good showing at Washington," Canales said, "many Mexicans legally in this country are being deported unjustly.

"If it were not for the abuse of power by immigration officers, the growers of Texas would not now be faced with a labor shortage."

Referring to the proposal to bring in Porto Ricans to fill this shortage, the witness said, "These people would require a generation to become acclimated and develop into efficient workers."

EAST REKINDLES M'CORMICK ROW

Battle Over Incompetent Opens in Illinois

Wife of Rich Man Sues Again to Handle $50,000,000

Baker Sees Early California Ruling as Temporary

CHICAGO, Jan. 29. (Exclusive)—The battle of Mrs. Katherine Dexter McCormick, wife of the mentally incompetent Stanley McCormick, to have herself appointed the sole conservator of his person was carried into the Appellate Court here today by her attorneys.

Throughout her fight to gain the sole control of her husband, Mrs. McCormick has been opposed by Harold McCormick, Cyrus H. McCormick, Mrs. Anita McCormick Blaine, his sister, and others of the McCormick family. All of the clan were represented today in the Appellate Court, where Justices Wilson, Holdom and Byner sat en banc.

Stanley's wife is appealing from a decision of Judge Feinberg of the Circuit Court, in which Judge Feinberg upheld Probate Judge Horner in his refusal to grant her petition to be appointed her husband's sole guardian.

TWENTY-YEAR FIGHT

The present fight over Stanley McCormick and his $50,000,000 estate began more than twenty years ago, when he was stricken with a mental malady, and was removed to California in a special car. In 1908 he was placed on an estate at Santa Barbara.

The California courts declared Stanley incompetent and appointed a board of conservators for his person, which at present consists of Katherine Dexter McCormick, the wife; Mrs. Anita McCormick Blaine and Harold McCormick. A California court this month ordered this board increased to five trustees.

Two years ago two petitions were filed in Probate Court of Cook county, one by Harold McCormick and Mrs. Blaine, asking that a conservator be appointed for Stanley's estate, and another by his wife, asking that she be appointed the sole conservator of his person.

BAKER'S ARGUMENTS

Judge Horner granted the request for a conservator of the estate and appointed a board of the wife, Harold McCormick and the Continental-Illinois Trust Company. He denied, however, Mrs. McCormick's petition to be appointed the personal conservator.

In his argument before the Appellate Court today, Newton D. Baker, former Secretary of War, representing Mrs. Stanley McCormick, declared that Stanley, although actually in California, still maintains his domicile in Illinois and that the Illinois courts have the right to appoint a conservator for him.

"The domicile of an incompetent," he argued, "cannot be changed by a physical moving of his person to another State. The appointment of a guardian by the domiciliary State arises from the duty of that State to protect its citizens. When a man is incompetent he becomes a ward of the State in which he has his domicile," Baker said.

"The appointment of a guardian by that State determines a man's status in his relations with that and other States, and serves notice on the world that a guardian has been appointed whose rights hold as against the world. The California courts can only appoint a temporary guardian, who functions by authority of the police power of the State, but without territorial rights."

Amnesty Refused India Prisoners

NEW DELHI (India) Jan. 29. (AP) The government of India refuses at present to grant amnesty to political offenders, owing to the existence of an active movement toward independence.

Sir James Crerar, member of home affairs in the executive council of the Viceroy, made the statement in the Legislative Assembly today. Sir James added that the independence movement was being accompanied with threats of civil disobedience on a large scale, and numerous inflammatory incitements.

TELEPHONE WORKERS PROTECTED BY POLICE

ROSARIO (Argentina) Jan. 29. (AP) — Police protected line crews loyal to the telephone company today as they sought to repair outlets to the rest of the Argentine. Extensive sabotage prior to initiating a strike this week resulted in interruption of every line leading out of the city but one. Meanwhile the strike continued and the telephone company persisted in its refusal to discharge two employees of twenty and sixteen years' service, the outstanding demand of the strikers.

CHAIN BANK INQUIRY APPROVAL FORESEEN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. (AP)—After conversations with President Hoover, Secretary Mellon, Gov. CHINA MAY ADHERE TO RAIL PACT

Changing of Stand, With Russian Protocol Gaining Favor, Now Reported

TOKIO, Jan. 29. (AP)—Harbin advices to Rengo, Japanese news service, today indicate that the Chinese are altering their previous disposition to repudiate the protocol with Russia for control of the Chinese Eastern Railway. The dispatches indicate that China is ready to accept the agreement.

Chang Hsueh-Liang, Governor of Manchuria, through Li Shao-Keng, director of the railway, is reported to have informed M. Simanovsky, who represented Russia in formulating the agreement, that the Mukden government recognizes the validity of the protocol and is ready to execute it fully.

Mukden also is represented as being ready to enter into a formal conference to clear up all questions relating to the railway. The dispatch also says it is understood that this conference probably will be held in Moscow about the middle of February.

It also is understood by the Rengo source that Chang is speaking with the Nanking government's acquiescence.

The protocol already is effective as far as physical operation of the railroad is concerned. The first Moscow-bound train is expected to leave Harbin February 1.

State Official Held as Thief

SANTA FE (N. M.) Jan. 29. (AP)—M. Charles Roehl, Motor Vehicle Commissioner of New Mexico, and three others today were arrested on two counts of a grand jury indictment implicating them in the theft of $3000 from the Bernalillo County Treasurer's office.

Roehl, according to Sheriff Philip Hubbell, is charged with perjury and being an accessory after the fact in the robbery.

Others arrested were Luiz Martinez, employee in the license bureau; Miss Carrie Adair Armijo, another employee of the bureau, and Roy Gentry, son of the custodian of the Courthouse.

Ford Pay Rise Startles Japan

YOKOHAMA, Jan. 29. (AP)—The Japanese industrial world has been startled by an example of American methods and standards brought to its own door.

Into the stagnation of a depressed labor and manufacturing market, the Ford Motor Company of Japan, subsidiary of Henry Ford's vast interests, recently tossed the announcement that henceforth the minimum wage paid by its assembling plant at Yokohama will be increased from 5 yen ($2.50) to 6 yen ($3) a day. The Ford minimum already was from 20 to 30 per cent above the prevailing Japanese wage for metal workers.

SPAIN CABINET SEARCH HECTIC

New Dictator and King Keep Telegraph Wires Hot

Gen. Berenguer Confers With Many Political Chiefs

Primo de Rivera Expresses Eagerness for Rest

MADRID, Jan. 29. (AP)—Spain today set about finding a new government to replace the dictatorship exercised by General Miguel Primo de Rivera since 1923.

King Alfonso canceled all royal audiences and engagements today in order to be free for conferences with Gen. Damaso Berenguer, who has been charged with the work of forming a Cabinet.

NEW LEADER BUSY

Gen. Berenguer discussed the situation with His Majesty in the morning and again in the afternoon. He said late today that his list of ministers would probably not be completed until tomorrow. He refused to confirm or deny persistent reports in Madrid that Francisco Cambo, former Minister of Finance, would be offered that portfolio in the new government Senor Cambo at Barcelona likewise refused to discuss the matter.

Gen. Berenguer has spent a large part of his time since the resignation of Primo de Rivera last night in conferring personally with persons of great political influence and with men whom he considers possible material for his Cabinet. He has kept in touch with leaders all over Spain by telegraph and telephone.

King Alfonso is being kept informed about every detail of the developments and will finally approve the list of ministers before it is made public.

Gen. Primo de Rivera appeared to be greatly enjoying the prospect of realizing what he has said he most wants—a good long rest.

Bidding farewell to King Alfonso and to the country, he issued an official note ending "and now to rest a little, to recover my health. Two thousand three hundred and twenty-six days have been filled with inquietude, responsibility and labor. But after a rest, if God wishes, I shall return to serve Spain until I die."

He spent most of the day clearing up business pending before the government and matters of office routine, getting things in shape to turn them over to his successor.

PLOT TO CORNER LIQUOR IN WYOMING ZONES TOLD

CHEYENNE (Wyo.) Jan. 29. (AP)—Efforts of Wyoming bootleggers to create a system of State maintained blockades within their districts, thereby shutting off importations from outside territory, were related here today in the trial of W. C. Irving, former State-law enforcement officer and twenty-two codefendants on a conspiracy charge.

George A. Smith, a deputy in the law-enforcement department, testified that Sylvester Taylor of Thermopolis asked him to stop the importation of Kemmerer (Wyo.) liquor into Thermopolis territory.

"It's hurting my business in Thermopolis and something is going to be done about it," Smith said Taylor told him.

Smith testified that he refused to have any dealing with Taylor.

"That being the case, I'll have to go over your head for I have done business with other officers," Taylor is asserted to have told Smith, adding that his demands had been granted.

A. D. Walton, United States Attorney, said he will offer evidence to prove that whisky distillers in the Red Canyon district in Northern Wyoming were paying Irving, through James Ader, $1 for each gallon manufactured. Testimony then was introduced showing that shortly before officers raided the plant the distillers were informed and moved their apparatus.

OKLAHOMA RUM PLOT ADMITTED

Twenty-five Plead Guilty in Conspiracy Case

Ex-Mayor of Earlsboro One of Ring Leaders

Thirty-nine Defendants Now Listed as Fugitives

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 29. (AP) Twenty-five of the 102 officials and residents of Pottawatomie county charged with conspiracy to violate the national prohibition act pleaded guilty here today when trial of the case was called.

Federal officials announced that thirty-nine of the defendants are fugitives, and five are dead, leaving only thirty-three to stand trial. Marion Fuller, former Chief of Police at Earlsboro and a defendant who had been recited upon by the government as one of its chief witnesses, died Saturday in jail under mysterious circumstances.

Among those pleading guilty was Homer S. Knappemberger, former Mayor of Earlsboro, one of the oil-field towns in Pottawatomie county alleged to have been flooded with liquor with the connivance of local authorities.

SUGAR COMPANY SCORES IN FIGHT

Great Western "Price War" Demurrer Sustained

Court Sets Forth Two Points as Basis for Decision

Way Left Open, However, for New Prosecution

OMAHA, Jan. 29. (AP) — Federal Judge Woodrough today sustained a demurrer of the Great Western Sugar Company, dismissing the government's suit charging the company with an attempt to restrain interstate commerce through a "price war" begun in 1925.

Judge Woodrough cited two points as the basis for the decision:

First—That the charge was not filed until after the three-year statutory limit had expired.

Second—That there is no proof that the conspiracy, if any existed, was conceived in Nebraska.

Judge Woodrough ruled for the government on a third point—that previous proceedings in the case, tried before Federal Judge Munger at Lincoln, Neb., constituted no bar to new prosecution.

GOVERNMENT'S CASE

The government based its case on relations between the Great Western and Holly Sugar companies. The Holly company announced that it would build factories at Torrington, Wyo., and Minatare, Neb., in 1925. Work was started on the Torrington factory, but was not finished. The Minatare factory was constructed.

These proposed factories placed the Holly company in direct competition with the Great Western company. It was asserted in offering contracts to beet farmers in October, 1925, the Great Western raised the price of beets, and then in February, 1926, it cut the price of refined sugar.

COMPANY'S DENIAL

The Great Western company denied it had a "sinister design" in these acts, contending it was merely protecting its beet supply. As for the cut in the sugar price, this was described as merely a "bargain day" affair.

Judge Woodrough held that the Great Western would be unable to influence the price of sugar unreasonably, as imported cane sugar controls the market. "The Great Western's act presented no monopoly in sugar nor attempt to get or keep one," says the court's decree.

DISPUTE OF ADMEN OVER DUES ENDED

Dove of Peace Perches on Breakfast Table at Portland Conference

PORTLAND (Or.) Jan. 29, (Exclusive)—There is peace in advertising circles. Pacific Advertising Clubs Association has no quarrel with the Advertising Federation of America, the parent body. That was stated today by both Raymond F. Kelley of Spokane, president of the coast association, who has been here directing the midwinter meeting of his organization, and T. W. Loquste, executive vice-president of the national organization.

The entire matter, which seemed mostly a dispute over dues paid by small local clubs to the Advertising Federation of America and the service obtained by these clubs as a consequence, was settled at a breakfast conference this morning. Officers and directors of the Pacific Coast body have been meeting since Monday and managers of the thirty local clubs gathered today to discuss details of advertising club management.

The Pacific Coast body emerges with rather substantial promises that the national association "will co-operate even more closely with local units." From all indications the national association will have a direct representative on this coast, who will be available for call at any time.

Visiting advertising association officials were feted at the weekly luncheon meeting of the host organization, the Advertising Club of Portland today. A. Carman Smith of Los Angeles made a brief address.

PRIEST IMPRISONS HIMSELF FOR NEARLY HALF-CENTURY

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 29. (AP) In the thickest hurly-burly of the Grande Rue of Pera, main thoroughfare of Constantinople's crowded European and Levantine quarter, one spot of quietness has been created and unquitted for almost a half-century by one quiet person.

Forty-five years ago a French Catholic priest, Father Jean, entered a little cell in the basement of the Catholic Church of St. Antoine on the Grande Rue, and swore that he never would come out. He never has.

During these forty-five years the increasing roar of what is now one of Europe's noisiest streets has drifted to his ears, but he has never seen the trolleys, automobiles, or motorcycles whose rumblings and tootings mingled with the shouts of street vendors and the shrill voices of Levantine pedestrians break against the walls of his strange hermitage.

Before the Allied occupation came to a close the French military authorities who were here then received the promise of the Turkish government that the old hermit would never be forced to leave his chosen place of seclusion. Food, clothing, books and newspapers are constantly left at the door of his cell by devout Catholics of this city.

SLACK PERIOD CURE OFFERED

Barnes Urges Industry to Carry on Repairs

Maintenance Work Suggested to Keep Men Busy

Some Major Projects to be Delayed Few Months

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. (AP)—A suggestion that the "doing by many industrial concerns of what might appear to be small things would reach a very large amount in the aggregate" was made today by Julius H. Barnes, chairman of the National Business Survey Conference, in announcement to conference members advising them of the work done since the conference of business leaders at the White House in December.

The conference revealed, he reiterated, the "essential soundness of basic conditions and the conviction of the conferees that if all proceeded normally with execution of their business plans there need be no panic—no long or serious depression."

EXAMPLE SET

"Major industries set the example," the announcement continued. "Railroads, shipbuilders, the electrical utilities and the great agencies of communication, telephone and telegraph, announced that their construction programs for 1930, on even larger scales than for the year just past, would be carried out and expedited to the maximum. Other great branches of industry announced adherence to or expansion of their plans. The Federal government contributed by arranging to speed up essential construction and enlisted similar effort on the part of States and municipalities. Much of this work has already begun.

"It is evident, however, that for larger works considerable time is required for preparation of plans, for tenders and for financing. This was recognized at the conference, and outstanding in its deliberations was a suggestion that advantage be taken of the next two or three months to carry on repairs, maintenance, clean-up, replacement and betterments.

GOOD JUDGMENT NEEDED

"The continuing importance and value of this suggestion, as well as the favorable trends of the present business situation, were emphasized at a meeting of the executive committee of the National Business Survey Conference held in Washington on the 23rd inst. The committee requested that the suggestion as to repairs and betterments be communicated to manufacturers generally.

"The extent of immediate applicability of the suggestion will naturally vary somewhat in different situations. There is no thought of proposing unwarranted expenditures. Each responsible manager of industry is in position in his own way and by his own prudent judgment to make all practicable use of the suggestion.

"It may be pointed out that the doing by many industrial concerns on what might now appear to be small things would reach a very large amount in the aggregate. Response to the suggestion put forward by the executive committee will be further evidence of the value of voluntary enlistment of collective common sense for the accomplishment of a common purpose."

Minister Shoots Pair and Self in Row Over Letter

MENDOTA (Ill.) Jan. 29. (AP)—Rev. J. A. Wilson shot Mr. and Mrs. Amos Elliott, members of his congregation, tonight, then returned to his own home and fired five shots at himself. All three will recover, it was said at a hospital to which they were taken.

Police said Rev. Wilson, accompanied by his wife, called on Elliott in an effort to get possession of a letter, said to be innocent in itself, but which Wilson thought Elliott was using in an effort to defame his standing in the church. Elliott is a janitor in Rev. Wilson's church.

Elliott, Mrs. Wilson told authorities, surrendered the letter, but grabbed for it again as the minister was putting it in his pocket. At this time the minister, police said they learned, pulled a pistol from his pocket and began firing.

Show Girl Ends Life With Gas in Artist's Studio

NEW YORK, Jan. 29. (AP)—The body of Mrs. R. K. Foster, 24 years of age, a show girl, was found today in the studio apartment of Raymond F. Holland, an artist, in East Thirty-eighth street.

Police said Mrs. Foster, who appeared on the stage as Betty Storey, apparently ended her life by inhaling gas fumes from a fireplace.

Holland had just arrived at the apartment from a trip for his health when the body was found. He said he had been out of the city and had let Mrs. Foster use the apartment while he was away.

WOMAN AND TWO MEN ACCUSED OF MURDER

PHOENIX, Jan. 29. (AP)—Charges of first-degree murder were filed here late today against Mrs. Irene Schroeder, W. Glenn Dague and Joe P. Wells, alias Vernon Ackerman, in connection with the death early this morning of Deputy Sheriff Lee Wright. The complaint was signed by Gus Dobrinski, deputy sheriff.

TRIBUTE PAID JUSTICE

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 29. (AP)—As a mark of respect for Joseph S. Koford, presiding justice of the First District Court of Appeals, who died in San Francisco last night, the Third District Court of Appeals was ordered adjourned here today.

WHAT A LOT OF ILL-CLAD FELLOWS THERE MUST BE

CHICAGO, Jan. 29. (AP)—Lawrence N. Heppner, first vice-president of the National Association of Merchant Tailors, figures that between $5000 and $10,000 is enough to keep the well-dressed man well dressed for a year. The association is holding its annual convention here.

Here are the minimum requirements:

One dressy black coat for evening wear, either of the cape or Inverness type; at least half a dozen sack suits in the new powder blue, gray-blue and silver-green colors; one or two morning coats; several pairs of striped trousers; two formal overcoats for day use; one heavy winter ulster; one medium-weight town coat of semirough material, and one polo coat.

Clothes for spring, Heppner said, will be wide-shouldered, narrow-waisted and with fairly wide trousers.

"Tuxedos are no longer formal," he continued. "The formal dress for 1930 will be the full-dress coat in Oxford, very dark blue or black. The pique waistcoat and tie in white will be the thing."

BEAN MEN'S PLANS MEET WITH FAVOR

Farm Board Approves New Marketing Scheme Drawn Up by Co-operatives

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. (AP)—The Federal Farm Board today approved organization plans for a national association to merchandise dry beans which were submitted by representatives of co-operatives in the bean industry.

Officials of co-operatives from seven States meeting with the Farm Board presented a tentative set-up for the National Bean Growers' Marketing Association to be incorporated with a capital of $1,000,000.

After the meeting Joe Plummer, president of the Colorado Bean Growers' Association, said members of the board expressed hearty approval of the proposed marketing machinery.

He said co-operatives in Wyoming, California, Colorado, Montana, New Mexico, Idaho and Michigan had agreed to join the national association and that New York growers probably will come in later. The association, Plummer said, will have no immediate need of a facility loan from the Farm Board. Details of the set-up, he said, have not been completed.

Ship's Officer Second Husband of Mrs. Putnam

NEW YORK, Jan. 29. (Exclusive) Mrs. George Palmer Putnam, only last month divorced from the New York book publisher, was married to Frank M. Upton of Denver, former fourth officer of the President Roosevelt, at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., it was learned today.

The Putnams were divorced at Reno, December 19, 1929. Mrs. Putnam's grounds were incompatibility.

Upton was cited for bravery in the rescue three years ago of the crew of the foundering British ship, Antinoe, by the President Roosevelt. He received medals and a purse of money.

Newspaper Ads Declared Best Sales Booster

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29. (AP)—Furniture dealers from eleven Western States and Hawaii attending the semiannual western retail furniture conference and the twenty-ninth semiannual furniture market week today adopted a sales formula. It reads:

"People are becoming furniture-minded, and newspaper advertising is the most efficient method of increasing interest and attracting customers."

FOURTEEN RESCUED IN BRITISH SHIPWRECK

BIARRITZ (France) Jan. 29. (AP) Fourteen members of the crew of the British steamer Knebworth, marooned in the fore part of the vessel which had broken in two after going aground yesterday, were rescued this afternoon. The vessel is a total loss.

DWARF SENTENCED TO DIE FOR MURDER

NEW YORK, Jan. 9. (Exclusive) A man so small of stature that he might almost have passed for a circus midget was sentenced to die for murder in a hold-up, in General Sessions today. He is Peter Arata, 30 years of age, who measures only a little more than 4 feet in height.

DRY-RAID SHOOTING DECLARED JUSTIFIED

LEWISVILLE (Ark.) Jan. 29. (AP) Sheriff Duty was justified in the fatal shooting of Oscar Call, 26 years of age, in a prohibition raid Sunday, Justice of the Peace Bray held here today.

Why drive an old "bus" that looks as if it came out of the ark?

A soft, dry rag, a few dashes of O-CEDAR Auto Polish—and your car will look like a "1930" model. A wonder polish!

O-Cedar Auto Polish

Large can, $1. At all dealers and service stations.

OIL CONSPIRACY SUITS DECREED

Grand Jury Quiz on Gas War Shelved by Mitchell

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29. (Exclusive)—Federal grand jury investigation of the operating practices of western oil companies has been indefinitely postponed in favor of conspiracy suits in equity, it was learned today. The action was taken, it was said, on the recommendation of Atty.-Gen. Mitchell.

The government's investigation is understood to have been founded on complaints from independent producers and distributors on asserted price fixing by the major companies during the so-called "gas-price war" a year ago.

COLORADO FIRE DESTRUCTIVE

FORT MORGAN (Colo.) Jan. 29. (AP) Fire in the business district today caused property loss of $100,000. Several buildings were destroyed.

WASHINGTON'S LETTER FOUND

He Acknowledges Receipt of Presidency Notification

Missive Discovered in Santa Barbara Private Library

Rare-Book Collector Tells of Unearthing Document

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 29.—One of the most important letters in the history of the United States has been found in a local library, according to E. A. Connoughton, rare-book collector. It is the letter from Washington to the president pro tem., acknowledging receipt of the official notification of his election as president. The electoral votes were counted April 6, 1789, by the United States Congress in New York and Charles Thompson, the venerable secretary of the old Continental Congress, was selected to go to Mt. Vernon with the official notification of Washington's election. Thompson reached his destination a little after noon on April 14 and about 1 p.m., standing in the dining-room of Mt. Vernon, he delivered to Washington the formal certificate of his election. The reply, directed to the Hon. John Langdon, is as follows:

MT. VERNON, April 14, 1789.

Sir, I had the honor to receive your official communication, by the hand of Mr. Secretary Thompson, about 1 o'clock this day. Having concluded to obey the important and flattering call of my country, and having been impressed with an idea of the expediency of my being with Congress at as early a period as possible; I propose to commence my journey on Thursday morning, which will be the day after tomorrow.

I have the honor to be with sentiments of esteem,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

G. WASHINGTON.

The Honorable Jno. Langdon, Esqr.

Protest Against Patent Paving Being Checked

BURBANK, Jan. 29.—A check of numerous protest petitions against the improvement of Olive avenue, one of the principal streets here, with Warrenite paving is being made today by the City Engineer. The petitions were received by the City Council last night and are reported to contain signatures of property owners of 70 per cent of the total assessment district. The signers, in a number of instances, declared that they desired the avenue's improvement but demanded a cement concrete pavement, City Clerk Webster said.

A controversial proposition here for the past eight years, the Olive-avenue improvement drew the largest audience last night that a council meeting has had in almost a year, according to the five councilmen.

During the hearing a number of citizens present took part in the discussion of the improvement. According to the plans for the Olive-avenue project, the street will be paved, curbed and the necessary water mains installed from the city limits near the First National studios to the Southern Pacific Railroad tracks.

LARGE CHECK FOUND; RETURNED TO OWNER

HUNTINGTON PARK, Jan. 29.—While passing along Pacific Boulevard yesterday, B. Farley, of 660 East Santa Barbara street, Los Angeles, picked up a check calling for $367.93, which was made out for E. S. Lee, and drawn on the Farmers and Merchants Bank of Long Beach. The check was signed by the American Avenue Poultry Company, by Anton C. Lund. The paper was brought to local police headquarters, and the owner was notified. A few hours later the check was placed in his possession by the local police department.

FIRST TRAFFIC DEATH OF YEAR IN COUNTY

SANTA PAULA, Jan. 29.—Ventura county's first fatal automobile accident this year occurred here early today, when G. Velasquez, 30-year-old Mexican, was killed, when struck by a car driven by Nolan Hayes of Fillmore, near the Sespe Rancho, four miles east of here. Velasquez was not seen by Hayes, it was said, when the latter attempted to pass a lumber company truck. An inquest is to be held to learn the details of the death.

LION TRACKED NINETY MILES

State Hunter Displays Three Pelts

They'll Not Kill Any More Deer

C. W. Ledshaw, State lion hunter, with two pelts and body of third animal slain this week. All were taken in the Sierra Madres and the largest, in the left foreground, measured more than seven feet.

AZUSA, Jan. 29.—After spending more than a week tramping through deep snow in the Sierra on the trail of a mountain lion, C. W. Ledshaw, official State lion hunter, made his catch yesterday in Devil's Canyon.

Ledshaw declared that he tracked the lion for more than ninety miles. He began the hunt in Fish Canyon and trailed the lion north into the Chilao territory from where the animal circled back into Devil's Canyon to meet his fate. The hunter stated that the lion was young but unusually large for its age, measuring six feet six inches. Ledshaw now has three lions to his credit, all caught in the Sierra.

Ledshaw declared that while trailing the largest of the three lions he, with the brave assistance of his dogs, cornered the animal and it became vicious and jumped thirty feet, landing at his feet. He shot the animal between the eyes before it could recover from the effort of its jump for a second attack. The lion measured more than seven feet.

Ledshaw and J. Bruce are the only two official lion hunters for the State, and both for the past year have been centering their work in the Sierra.

SOROPTIMIST CLUB FORMED BY WOMEN

VENTURA, Jan. 29.—Twenty-five representative business women of this city met today at the Athene clubhouse to complete the organization of a Soroptimist Club. Mrs. Edith Neel Mercur is the president of the new body, which is a branch of an international organization. Other officers elected are: Mrs. Harriett E. Moore, vice-president; Miss Ruth Whitcomb, secretary-treasurer, and Miss Lola Shaffer, Miss Beatrice Lants, Mrs. Helen Austin, Miss Grace Vincent, Miss Catherine Ramelli, and Mrs. Klara Fowler, members of the board of directors.

Members from San Jose and Los Angeles were present and talked during the luncheon hour.

SAN DIEGANS RIDE IN GOODYEAR BLIMP

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 29.—Several San Diegans took rides today in the Goodyear airship Volunteer, which arrived from Los Angeles. Announcement at the Balboa Tire Company, State and A streets, which is sponsoring the air trips over San Diego in the blimp, states that the Volunteer is to be here through tomorrow with flights being scheduled to be made from Lindbergh Field twice every hour. Originally due here two weeks ago, the blimp was prevented by inclement weather from coming to this city. Those who were prevented from taking air trips two weeks ago are being taken up during the present visit of the airship.

EAST COLTON WILL VOTE ON BOND ISSUE

COLTON, Jan. 29.—Voters of the East Colton district will vote in the spring on the question of issuing $20,000 in bonds to finance the erection of a four-room schoolhouse. The call for the election was decided upon last night by the board of education after residents of the district had requested erection of the school. The Colton elementary district has a bonded indebtedness of $135,000 with a limit of $182,600, according to its assessed valuation.

DRILLERS IN HOT WATER ON THIS JOB

San Bernardino Finds Well Too Warm for City Mains; May Use in Swimming Pool

SAN BERNARDINO, Jan. 29.—San Bernardino's new water well, drilled to augment the city's domestic supply, is a hot well.

The drillers struck, at a level of 1116 feet, a stratum of water with a temperature of 89 deg. The water is of pronounced purity without foreign taste or smell, Supt. William Starke reported to the Board of Water Commissioners today. The water is too warm to turn into the mains, and, unless a cold stratum is struck at a lower level, it is probable that the water will be used in a proposed municipal swimming pool in Meadowbrook Park, less than a quarter of a mile from the well, at Second and D streets.

The odd feature of it all is that the city has a well, drilled to a depth of 1500 feet, within 150 feet of the new well. In the first shaft only cold water was struck by the drillers.

Oil Worker in Tank Overcome

VENTURA, Jan. 29.—Ray Webber, local oil worker, was taken to the Big Sisters' Hospital this morning when he was overcome by gasoline fumes while cleaning a tank on the Richfield Oil Company lease on the Rincon.

Webber was wearing a gas mask at the time and workers at the field could give no reason for the accident. The mask was in good shape but it is thought he may have removed it for some reason.

The men while cleaning work in pairs, and C. D. Wullbrandt, who was at the top of the tank, pulled Webber out when he saw that something was wrong.

The Ventura fire department inhalator squad was called, and then officials of the company ordered Webber sent to the hospital.

POP CALL OF BLIMP FRIGHTENS NATIVES

VAN NUYS, Jan. 29.—Members of El Vaquero Saddle Club, local exclusive social organization, received their first visitors from the air yesterday when Lieutenant-Commander Lange, in charge of the Goodyear blimp, Charles Fredericks, and a party of friends maneuvered over the clubhouse and descended low enough to carry on a prolonged conversation before taking away again. Lang and Fredericks are old-time friends of Elliott W. Sperling, president of the club. While the blimp dallied over the clubhouse there was much excitement in the neighborhood, residents believing the blimp was in trouble and was about to slump down on the clubhouse roof.

ARMY SHIPS BLAMED FOR CHICKENS' DEATH

ONTARIO, Jan. 29.—Uncle Sam was blamed today for inciting to riot most all of the chickens in the southeast section of the city, which resulted in the death of four biddies. Six army planes "dropped in" on the local airport for practice in landing and taking off, and in flying over the chicken district theoretically scared the poor chickens to death. They broke their wings trying to fly away from the roaring man-made birds and had to be killed. An irate woman demanded of the Chamber of Commerce that the secretary order the planes out of the heavens over the hen coops.

THIRTY-TWO IN CLASS

VAN NUYS, Jan. 29.—Thirty-two boys and girls were graduated in the midwinter class at the Van Nuys School last night. The Ephebian Society ring was presented to Bruce Campbell by J. P. Inglis, school principal. Zella Malcolm and Elyne Thompson were the class speakers. Luke M. Gallup, assistant superintendent of the Los Angeles Schools, gave the principal address and presented diplomas.

ROSE BOWL TO BE ENLARGED

Capacity May be Increased from 76,000 to 100,000

Estimate on Concrete Seats Construction $200,000

Tournament Association Has $40,000 Available

PASADENA, Jan. 29. — Seating capacity of the Rose Bowl, scene of the annual East-West football classics, probably will be increased from 76,000 to 100,000, R. L. Daugherty, chairman of the Board of City Directors, announced today.

With cement at the lowest figure in years and prospects that other material is available at rock-bottom prices, it is estimated that permanent concrete seats can be installed and the wooden supports replaced for less than $300,000. About two years ago, the building inspectors discovered that termites were damaging some of the wooden beams, necessitating repairs and reinforcing.

The south end of the bowl, completed two years ago, is of reinforced concrete, and the remaining portion is of wood placed on earth and stone fills. Present plans call for concrete installation about the entire stadium, from the base to the tunnels—the entire section below the Arroyo level, and construction of additional tiers of concrete seats.

The Tournament of Roses Association now has a surplus of $40,000, the net proceeds of the 1930 football game, available for improvements. It is planned to borrow the additional money required and repay it out of future Rose Bowl events, which last fall were augmented by night football games.

Veteran Fighter of Three Wars In Last Bivouac

HUNTINGTON PARK, Jan. 29.—Funeral services for Dr. Wesley Thompson, 85-year-old veteran of three wars, who died Monday night, were conducted this afternoon at the Methodist Episcopal Church, the services being in charge of Stanton Post, G.A.R., Los Angeles. Dr. Thompson was born in Whitley county, Indiana, in June, 1844, and in 1863 entered the United States Army at Camp Carrington, Indianapolis. He was discharged in July, 1865.

DR. WESLEY THOMPSON

He took up the study of medicine and was graduated from the Miami and Ohio University at Cincinnati in 1869. Dr. Thompson came to California in 1887, locating in San Bernardino, and twenty-two years later came here.

He was in the medical division during the Spanish-American War, also in the World War. Dr. Thompson was a member of Stanton Post, William Mitchell United Spanish War Veterans Camp, and Robert McColley American Legion Post.

He leaves five daughters: Mrs. H. C. Knapp and Mrs. Alfred Dolsen of Los Angeles; Mrs. Thomas Held of Beverly Hills, Mrs. F. McD. Spencer of Crestline and Mrs. Burton Harris of Scranton, Pa., also one son, Victor L. Thompson of San Pedro.

CONTRACT LET FOR BUILDING OF LIBRARY

REDONDO BEACH, Jan. 29—The general contract for the construction of the new $49,000 library Building has been awarded J. B. Justice of Los Angeles in opposition to a petition signed by 936 property owners protesting the site chosen in the City Park. The petition was overruled by the City Council on the grounds that as a initiative petition it has no bearing on this case. Traffic conditions surrounding the park, which is close to the business center, form one of the reasons advanced in protest against the park site.

DR. McCLUNG TO SPEAK

SANTA MONICA, Jan. 29.—"The Modern Midas" is the topic of a talk to be given by Dr. Reid L. McClung, dean of the college of commerce and business administration at the as the commencement adress at University of Southern California, Santa Monica High School Thursday evening at 8 p.m.

MATE WHO SHOT HUSBAND FREED

Mrs. Lenora Hunt Acquitted at Preliminary Hearing

Woman Killed Spouse After He Twice Wounded Her

William Fountain, Another Victim, Cleared

YERMO, Jan. 29.—Mrs. Lenora Hunt, the close-mouthed woman who shot and killed her husband, R. W. Hunt, a Yermo restaurant owner, after he had twice wounded her, was freed today after a preliminary hearing before Justice J. L. McFall here. William Fountain, shot through the lungs by Hunt in the attack, was likewise freed.

Dist.-Atty. George H. Johnson did not oppose a motion dismissing the murder charges against Mrs. Hunt and Fountain, after seven witnesses had been called to testify that Hunt himself opened fire on his wife and Fountain.

Mrs. Hunt, who said that she fled into the home of a neighbor, where she had been living since being estranged from her husband and returned to the scene to shoot him through the heart, has not yet told her story of the battle. She was not called as a witness at the hearing and previously she had maintained that she "Would talk when the time comes." Fountain, too, refused to discuss the shooting.

The hearing developed that Hunt, apparently jealous, left his restaurant on the night of December 11, looking for trouble. He met his wife and Fountain, who had volunteered to help her start her automobile, and began shooting. Mrs. Hunt was shot through the body. Hunt then shot Fountain down. Hunt's body was found at the scene after Mrs. Hunt and Fountain staggered into a neighbor's home, Mrs. Hunt explaining that she had killed her mate.

Raising of Lake Likely to Raise Property Value

CHATSWORTH, Jan. 29.—Property owners in the area southwest of Oakwood Cemetery are watching with interest the progress of surveys by the Water Department of Los Angeles to determine the level of Chatsworth Lake when the new dams are constructed.

Engineers have set out yellow flags at various points around the reservoir on locations suggested for the dikes which will impound more than 36,000 acre-feet of water to supplant the storage facilities lost when the St. Francis Dam was destroyed.

The raising of the level of the reservoir twenty feet will necessitate the erection of about five dams, it is estimated, and will increase the capacity of the lake about four times. It will extend the shores of the lake nearly a half mile in some directions, and will make it visible from many points in the town of Chatsworth, a lake view which has hitherto been obscured by a low range of hills.

The present route of Valley Circle Boulevard will, in all probability remain undisturbed in the section immediately adjacent to Oakwood, although it will have to be moved several hundred feet farther up the hill in the Lakeside Park area and at other points.

Thousands of Trout Released

SANTA PAULA, Jan. 29.—Nearly 225,000 trout of the steel-head, rainbow and Loch Leven species were planted in Ventura county streams today by a large corps of volunteer workers under the direction of Walter Emerick, county and State game warden. The fish, which were shipped from a northern hatchery, varied in length from two and one-half to four inches. They were planted in Piru, Sespe and Santa Paula creeks and the Ventura River.

DR. BATTEN SPEAKER FOR RIALTO CHAMBER

RIALTO, Jan. 29.—Dr. James H Batten of Pomona College will be the speaker at the annual meeting of the Rialto Chamber of Commerce on the night of February 14, next. Dr. Batten will speak on "Short Cuts and Short Circuits." Officers to serve the chamber during 1930 will be elected. The ladies of the Rialto Christian Church will serve the dinner.

BAND OF ALL NATIONS FORMED

Orange Show Will Have Unique Music

Miss Helen Sherlock With Largest and Smallest Fruits

The large fruit is a freak pomelo and the small one is tiny kumquat, these two representing the largest and smallest varieties to be on display at the National Orange Show at San Bernardino opening on February 13.

BANK HEAD CHAMBER'S PRESIDENT

Dr. F. G. Ferry Elected by Newport Organization; School Bonds Indorsed

NEWPORT BEACH, Jan. 29.—Dr. F. C. Ferry, Balboa and Costa Mesa bank president, was elected president of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce yesterday to succeed E. I. Moore. W. L. Jordan was re-elected first vice-president; Lester Isbell, second vice-president; E. B. Whitson, treasurer, and B. L. McLeod, re-elected secretary and manager.

Lew Wallace, newly elected director, resigned and E. B. Whitson was chosen to fill the vacancy. The other directors are L. S. Wilkinson, C. H. Shook, D. Douglas, Isbell, C. H. Way and J. A. Beek.

The local chamber and the Costa Mesa chamber united in officially indorsing the $410,000 Newport Harbor High School bond issue which will come before the voters on February 8.

Beek, who is manager of the Tournament of Lights, suggested July 12 for the 1930 tournament and the chamber accepted the date. Thousands of persons come every year to attend this spectacular event when beautifully decorated boats, yachts and cruisers, brilliantly lighted, float on the waters of the bay.

MAJOR DEVELOMENTS WILL BE SPONSORED BY CHAMBER

GLENDORA, Jan. 29.—At least two major development projects within the city limits will be undertaken by the Chamber of Commerce during the ensuing year, according to announcement made by Secretary Julius Jorgensen, who stated that the projects will be discussed at the first official session of the new chamber directorate next Monday night.

The meeting will be held in the Council chambers of the City Hall, with Ross Dana, local newspaper publisher, and newly elected president, presiding.

The two projects will be the improvement of North Michigan avenue, the main business street, and the planting of cocos plumosa palms as a part of the city beautification plan.

On the new directorate besides Dana are: Bert F. Mull, vice-president; E. W. Parrish, treasurer, and Jorgensen was reappointed as secretary. New directors include L. E. Hodges, H. R. Anson, A. B. Bidwell, G. F. Blackwood, Phil Blake, J. D. Dean, H. S. Riser, J. M. Reed, F. E. Teter, J. F. Jenkins, T. H. Miller, E. E. Stucker, Charles Gordon, H. E. Jack, H. C. Warren and A. B. Venberg. Teter is the retiring president.

COCHRAN RE-ELECTED BY SANTA BARBARA CHAMBER

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 29.—E. L. Cochran was re-elected secretary of Santa Barbara Chamber of Commerce at a meeting of the board of directors yesterday at noon. Cochran has served as secretary of organization since 1926.

Several proposed amendments to the bylaws, suggested by members of the bylaws committee, were adopted. J. S. Bullis is chairman of this committee.

Answers to a series of questions in questionnaires mailed to members of the chamber last December, in an effort to work out a program for the betterment of the community, were discussed and referred to committee for action. Secretary Cochran gave a report of the convention of the California State Secretaries, held in Pasadena. The convention and merchants' committees will meet in the near future to outline a program of work for 1930.

SAN BERNARDINO, Jan. 29.—The stage for the twentieth National Orange Show is so nearly set that the interior of the gigantic exposition building, two weeks before the opening date of the show, February 13, already looks like a veritable fairyland, in keeping with the motif for the 1930 show, "The Land of Make Believe," according to General Manager Roy H. Mack.

For the quarter of a million or more people who will attend the show this year there will be dozens of different tastes in the way of entertainment, and if this vast cortege of visitors does not find some features of interest it will certainly be a miracle, was the guess of Manager Mack in commenting today on the program for the big citrus exposition.

The entertainment features as outlined by the show manager will range all the way from coloratura sopranos warbling classic selections to a group of dusky gehtlemen producing a species of music on mohases jugs. And in between these two extremes will be two jazz musicians, dancers representing a dozen schools of the art, and vaudeville acts without number. This, of course, will be spiced with the highly touted fashion parade of the Hollywood movie stars, and the appearance of Gov. Young and other dignitaries.

FOREIGN TALENT ENGAGED

The "Band of All Nations," which comprises forty-two musicians playing the national instruments of a dozen countries, is expected to be an outstanding entertainment feature that has never before been seen at a National Orange Show, according to the management. This galaxy of foreign talent will remain throughout the entire show, while none of the other artists will appear more than two days, thus permitting five complete changes of program during the show and necessitating the appearance of some 300 artists of one kind or another.

Spanish guitars, Hawaiian ukuleles, Italian accordions, along with the inevitable array of American saxophones and trombones; Scottish bagpipes, German flutes and Russian instruments that could neither be pronounced nor spelled by the orange show manager, will be a part of this unique "band of the nations," the show officials made known.

SOUTHLAND BANDS TO PLAY

For those whose musical tastes are rather more conservative, outstanding Southern California brass bands will give daily concerts, it is stated. For the most part these bands will appear as part of community day observances. Long Beach is sending its band for a day, according to Mack, as is Santa Ana, Santa Monica, the Los Angeles Fire Department, Redlands and other cities.

UNIVERSITY TO ADD TEACHERS

Redlands Trustees Meeting

President Need for

Institution's Be Written

REDLANDS, Jan. 29.—Plans for additions to the faculty were authorized, and other matters acted by the trustees of the University of Redlands at its annual meeting here today. Matthew J. Slaughter presided.

Two vacancies caused by a death and resignation, were filled. They are Russell, executive Southern California Conference, who succeeds the late F. F. Harper, whose death occurred during the session of the meeting, editor of the Pacific Union Herald, and a resident of Redlands for many years.

George P. Conner was given the degree of in addition to his duties as manager of the Dr. Curtiss D. Wilcox, secretary until he resigned to become the pastorate of the Church of Whittier, where the work that he was in charge of has been handed over to the established department in charge of L. L. Bell.

BURGLARY ATTEMPTS FAIL

Three Endeavors to Break and Enter Redlands Foiled But Miscreants Escape

REDLANDS, Jan. 29.—Three attempts were made to enter homes during the night and none were successful. When M. Donald found two Mexicans attempting entrance to the window of her home, 25 San Gorgonio Drive, at 6 a.m., today, to force open the front door in an apparent desire to keep her from completing her telephone call to the police, Traynor and H. L. Thomas found no suspects in the neighborhood when they arrived. Only a meager description was gained, was given Mrs. Donald, who had risen to open the front door in the house. By the time of the arrival of Mr. Clyde.

A third attempt to enter a local residence was made at 5 a.m. today was reported to police. In this instance entry was made at the rear residence, 321 Ridge Park man fled when he heard gerault, a member of the moving about with a revolver.

Awakened by a noise of the house, Ingerault got up and made his way to the door. Arriving there he found door had been opened and no one in sight. The man removed something from the door, enabling him to open and he had then attempted to lock the rear door.

SIGN LANGUAGE GOES ASTRAY

Japanese Women Misunderstand Pantomime Speech of Rabbit Hunter Asking Permission to Seek Game, and Tell Police He Threatened Murder

GLENDALE, Jan. 29.—Some folks can convey their meaning by pantomime, but there are times when the party of the second part places an entirely wrong construction on the signs, and gets the message all tangled up. Witness the case of two Japanese women who rushed into a factory at San Fernando Road and Elk street today to tell the members of the office staff that some one had been threatening to murder them in cold blood.

Telephone calls brought Detective Sergeant Browne and Detective Woodard on the run, and in some way the word had also been flashed to Lincoln Heights station, and Lieut. Bradley and a colleague rode over to the river bottoms west of the city to investigate the attempted assassination.

The police forces of the two cities found Frank Acosta, 122 South Adams street, hunting rabbits in the brush, and Acosta explained that he had asked the two Japanese women, who were working in a vegetable garden, whether he could hunt in their vicinity.

The women did not know enough English to understand what Acosta was trying to say, and he resorted to pantomime, giving them the impression that a general massacre was about to start.

After the bilingual police had explained the matter, Acosta went on with his hunting and the women went back to their truck patches.

JUDGE TURNEY DRAWS LINE

Addressing Glendale Churchmen, He Says Actions for Contempt Should Not be Brought for Criticism

GLENDALE, Jan. 29.—Actions for contempt of court should only be initiated when it can be clearly shown that contempt and not merely criticism, is intended, Judge Raymond L. Turney, presiding judge of the Los Angeles Municipal Court, told the United Church Brotherhood in an address at the Y.M.C.A. today. Turney is a candidate for election, opposing Judge Carlos S. Hardy.

The speaker contended that the right of free speech and a free press should be sustained by the courts, declaring that the condition of the government and of the nation will always be healthy if public officials refrain from attempting to curtail the right of the citizen to express himself freely.

The recent reorganization of the Municipal Court, Turney said, was carried out largely with the idea of restoring the confidence of the people in the courts.

The old licensing system of fines by which bootleggers, gamblers and other offenders were arrested at intervals and fined a nominal amount, has been changed, and such offenders receive heavy fines and jail sentences. The business of the "fixer" has been curtailed through the system of assigning cases by the master calendar, by which not even the judge knows what cases he is to hear until they are called in court, according to Judge Turney.

Oil Company Plans to Alter Capital Set-up

NEW YORK, Jan. 29. (AP)—The Transcontinental Oil Company today announced a proposal to reduce by one-half the present outstanding common stock, totaling about 6,500,000 shares, by exchanging one share of new capital stock for each two now held. The plan is to be submitted to the stockholders on March 4.

The company's authorized capital is 7,000,000 no par shares, but the directors propose an increase to 8,000,000 shares of the new stock to provide for future business expansion. Net profit for 1929 was $4,723,990 after Federal taxes. In 1928 profit was $1,506,802 before taxes.

Extra in Stock on Program of Deere Company

MOLINE (Ill.) Jan. 29. (Exclusive)—Directors of Deere & Co. today declared a stock dividend of 1½ per cent in addition to the regular quarterly of $1.50 on the common stock, payable April 1 to stock of record March 15.

The board also voted a five-for-one split-up of both the common and the preferred stocks, subject to the approval of stockholders at the annual meeting April 29.

It is proposed to change the par value of the preferred stock from $100 to $20 and the common to no par from $100. The split-up would make 1,575,000 new preferred shares and 948,565 new common shares outstanding.

Bovey to Head Flour Concern

Charles C. Bovey, former president and director of the Washburn Crosby Company, Inc., subsidiary of General Mills, Inc., has been elected chairman of the company, succeeding James F. Bell, while H. R. McLaughlin has been promoted from vice-president to president, it was announced yesterday. Mr. Bell retains his position as president of the holding company.

Third in the series of advancements is the appointment of A. H. Crosby from the general salesmanagership to vice-president and director. E. K. Pickett, for thirty years active in the sales end of the business and before the merger, sales manager of Washburn Crosby Company of Kansas City, has also been elected a vice-president and director.

REVIEW ISSUED

Investors will seek bonds for relative price stability and their superior security, but they will also wish to own the right kind of common stocks to be carefully selected and resolutely held, concludes M. M. Reese, in contributing the leading article to Gorman, Kayser & Co.'s "Investment Topics" for January, just issued.

CLAUDE NEON UNION CLOSER

Conferences Here Next Month Expected to Result in Nation-wide Combine; Delaware Unit to Lead

BY EARLE E. CROWE

New developments in the Claude Neon picture are coming to a head much sooner than generally realized. Sometime next month it is understood that conferences will be held in Los Angeles that are expected to result in the combination of all the American companies operating under Claude Neon patents, probably through a new holding company.

What is more important is the information that the Los Angeles company, Claude Neon Electrical Products of Delaware, will likely play the leading part in the new set-up. This would mean the centering of the Claude Neon operations in Los Angeles instead of New York, or the transference of the seat of a thriving industry from the east to the west coast.

OTHERS EXCELLED

Rise of the Los Angeles company to the position as the healthiest and most profitable unit in the Claude Neon group accounts, it is understood, for the decision to build the proposed consolidation chiefly around Claude Neon of Delaware. Under the leadership of John B. Miller, chairman, and Paul D. Howse, president, the local company, which operates throughout the western states, has advanced in a comparatively short time to a dominant place in the growing business of electrical signs, exterior illumination and allied fields.

Earnings of Claude Neon of Delaware for 1929, which are scheduled for release early next week, are expected to run substantially ahead of the previous year to establish a new peak in the company's earnings record. The report will be so satisfactory, it is intimated, that consideration will be given to raising the cash dividend from $1 to $1.50 around April 1.

If this advance in the cash dividend is effected, the assumption is that the directors will continue the stock dividend, but probably at a decreased rate. The current supposition is that the stock payment would be reduced from 6 to 4 per cent annually.

CO-ORDINATION DESIRED

Combination of all the American Claude companies has been discussed for some time, but litigation with other companies has hindered consummation. This situation is clearing up satisfactorily, according to the latest information. The advantages of centralized management are desired to more effectively market the Claude products on a nation-wide scale and furnish more efficient direction to the various operating companies.

This step, furthermore, is hastened by the development of a number of new uses for the neon light in the New York laboratory and by the Claude research experts in Europe. The white light is only one of the discoveries that the Claude companies plan to introduce to the market within the next few months. Patents on the new developments are now pending.

To prepare for the nation-wide combination, the Los Angeles company has been working on the consolidation of its western licensees. The Delaware company recently absorbed the Oregon company, but will not take any further steps with the Washington company until later in the year, according to an announcement yesterday. This situation, however, will not interfere with the general unification program.

Another interesting piece of news is anticipated shortly concerning the award to the local company of new business that should run into substantial figures.

Strength of Bond Market Improving

NEW YORK, Jan. 29. (Exclusive) Increasing strength of the bond market was again indicated today when Dillon, Read & Company announced that the $18,000,000 5 per cent forty-year bonds of the Canadian National Railway Company have all been sold.

The bonds were offered at 99½ and accrued interest.

This is the second large bond issue to be heavily oversubscribed this year, the first being the $150,000,000 American Telephone and Telegraph debentures which were quickly taken on the offering day. With the demand shown for these issues, it is expected in financial circles that other important issues will soon be placed on the market.

LOCAL REALTY BONDS ON ACCREDITED LIST

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29. (AP)—Albert A. Rosenshine, State Superintendent of Banks, today announced two bond issues he had set aside as legal for savings bank investment. The first is the Hollywood Knickerbocker, Inc., issue of first closed mortgage sinking fund gold bonds, bearing 6½ per cent interest, dated July 1, 1929, due July 1, 1944, aggregating $750,000 and covering a Class A hotel apartment building in Hollywood. The second is the Merchants' Exchange Building of Los Angeles, Inc., issue of first closed mortgage 6½ per cent sinking fund gold bonds dated December 1, 1928, due December 1, 1943, and aggregating $750,000 par value.

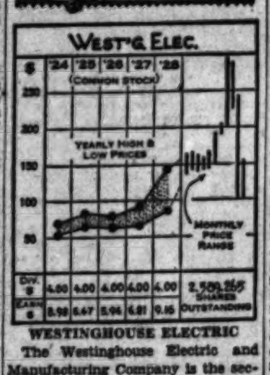
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29. (Exclusive)—Directors of the Consolidated Paper Box Company have passed the regular quarterly dividend of 37½ cents due February 15 on the Class A stock.

WHAT'S BEHIND YOUR STOCK



WESTINGHOUSE ELECTRIC

The Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company is the second largest unit in the electrical manufacturing industry, and has plants strategically located in various parts of the United States. Products are diversified to include practically every important line from electric locomotives and large marine power installations to machinery for electrical generation and transmission. The company also has extensive foreign connections which have in recent years assumed a growing importance in the company's total output.

Net income for the nine months ended September 30, 1929, amounted to $19,544,200 comapred with $14,234,000 for the same period in 1928. These earnings were equal to $7.33 and $6.01 per share on the preferred and common stock. The preferred stock has equal voting power with the common and participates equally with the common after receiving $3.50 per share in any year. The balance sheet as of December 31, 1928, showed current assets of $118,717,900 including $17,165,200 cash compared with current liabilities of $16,961,300.

Bank Institute Announces New List of Courses

Five new courses have been added to the schedule of the American Institute of Banking for the second semester, which begins February 3, C. E. Lones, president of the Los Angeles chapter, announced yesterday. Registration for the courses is now under way.

New courses include mechanics of escrows, safe deposit, international banking and financing, foreign trade, scientific management and human engineering, and personal relations. Aside from these courses all standard and prestandard courses, except credits, will be repeated for the semester, bringing the total number of courses offered to ten.

Membership in the Los Angeles chapter in the first semester, according to Mr. Lones, was more than 3100 bank people, and 500 more are expected to enroll in the next semester.

First of the spring social activities of the institute will be a theater party on February 18, according to Evelyn Anne Davis, chairman of the women's committee.

CURTISS AIRPORTS TAKES NEW NAME

Directors of the Curtiss Airports Corporation have changed the name of the company to Curtiss-Wright Airports Corporation, the new name to take effect immediately, it was announced yesterday. The change was made to conform with the names of other companies in the Curtiss-Wright aviation group. The Curtiss-Wright airport at Glendale is known as the Grand Central Air Terminal.

VALUE OF GRAYMUR TRUST STOCK TOLD

Graymur Corporation, the investment and trading company organized in May, 1929, by G. M. P. Murphy & Co., showed a net reduction of only 9.7 per cent in the asset value of its capital stock as a result of the market crash, according to a statement issued yesterday. At the close of the year, the liquidating value of the outstanding shares of no par capital stock was $45.16 a share, as compared to $50 per share received when the stock was offered.

CAPITAL INCREASE PLANNED

CHICAGO, Jan. 29. (Exclusive)—Stockholders of Super-Maid Corporation at their annual meeting February 13 will be asked to ratify the proposal to increase the common stock from 150,000 to 200,000 shares.

PROFITS ON ICE CREAM SALES GAIN

Chapman Company's Net for Year Up $27,789.69 Over Previous Period

Net profits of the Chapman Ice Cream Company for the year ended December 31, last, were $123,849.93 before Federal income taxes, equivalent to $2.47 a share on 50,000 shares of capital stock outstanding as compared with $95,960.24 or $1.91 a share on the same share basis in the preceding year, according to the annual report just issued by A. A. Comey, president. After allowance of $13,487.37 for Federal income taxes, the net earnings for 1919 were $110,162.56 or $2.23 a share.

Sales for the year totaled $657,915.76 as against $480,123.30 in 1928, an increase of $177,792.46 or 37 per cent. The report pointed out that the gross sales for 1930 as well as net profits should show an increase owing to the fact that the company is now operating twenty-four stores as against a lesser number through the entire year of 1929, fourteen units having been added during the course of the year.

Total current assets as of December 31, last, were $94,384.91 as against current liabilities of $32,919.80, a ratio of about 2.9 to 1. During the year the company retired mortgages totaling $32,800 and at the present time has no obligations other than those incurred in the day-to-day operation of its business, the report stated. This financial position, the report added, was maintained in spite of the expansion program necessitating heavy additions to fixed assets totaling $75,742.99 for the year and without the investment of new capital. Total assets were given as $263,831.22.

The company in addition to its own retail stores has inaugurated a system of franchise stores from which it receives a franchise fee at the rate of $50 a month. The company has no investment in these stores, the report stated. These franchises have been granted for stores in Arizona, Nevada, Texas, Florida, certain cities in California, and it is planned to extend the system into other States.

Net Profits of Northern Pacific Sag

ST. PAUL, Jan. 29. (AP)—Net operating income of the Northern Pacific Railway for 1929 was $3,678,228 less than for 1928, it is shown in the December earnings statement of the company, made public today.

An extra dividend of $3,500,000, however, received by the Northern Pacific from its subsidiary, the Northwestern Improvement Company, practically made up the difference. Earnings for 1929 are estimated at between $8.50 and $9 a share. In 1928 the earnings were $8.52 a share.

Gross operating revenue for 1929 was $96,522,348 compared with $101,272,724 in 1928. Net operating income for 1929 was $21,410,344 compared with $25,088,572 in 1928.

As a result of the extra dividend from the Northwestern Improvement Company, the road shows a surplus after dividends of about $9,400,000, or about $675,000 in excess of last year.

Business Dull on London Mart

LONDON, Jan. 29. (Exclusive)—The stock market had a quiet tone today with trading on a small scale. Issues of trans-Atlantic interest were easier. The industrial shares generally had an irregular tone. The oil group had a steady tone. Tobacco and match shares were steady. Rubber, artificial silk and textile issues were quiet. Margarine shares were easier while molasses issues were firmer. The mining group generally had a quiet tone but tin issues showed improvement. Ford Motors, Ltd., was quoted around 22 9-32, Brazilian Traction ordinary around 40½, and International Nickel around 38.

The gilt-edge division had an easier tone today. Foreign issues generally were quiet. Home and Argentine rails had a quiet tone.

Net Profits of Southern Gas Up

Net earnings of the Southern California Gas Company for the year closed December 31, last, amounted to $2,941,667 after all charges, as against $2,869,973 for 1928, an increase of $71,694, or more than 2½ per cent, according to a statement issued yesterday by the company.

Operating revenues for the year reached an aggregate of $17,295,290, a gain of $1,361,901, or nearly 8 per cent over revenues of $16,033,389 reported for 1928. Operating expenses totaled $9,306,742 against $8,486,339 in 1928, an increase of $820,403, or more than 9 per cent.

Kinner Motor Gets Contract

Kinner Airplane and Motor Corporation yesterday received a contract from the St. Louis Aircraft Corporation of St. Louis, Mo., calling for the delivery during 1930 of 100 motors, according to an announcement by Robert Porter, chairman of the Kinner company.

The St. Louis Aircraft Corporation, which is a subsidiary of the St. Louis Car Company, will use the Kinner 100-horsepower motors in a new model Super-Cardinal plane embodying many new innovations, Mr. Porter said.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Investors looking for bargains these days should not overlook some of the more successful fire insurance companies. Many of the stocks of these companies have been selling at book value or less, taking no consideration for high-grade management. These companies have cash premium receipts coming in daily which sums can be attractively invested now.

Noah MacDowell, Jr., a student of fire insurance stocks, makes this prophecy:

"I believe an investment in intelligently selected insurance stocks at current prices will prove lucrative."

In the "good old days"—six months ago—fire insurance common stocks were selling to net 3 per cent on the investment. Now 4, 5 and even more can be had.

While one must be extremely careful in picking any common stock for investment, some of these insurance companies' stocks are extremely attractive today.

"Teaching the public to pay promptly" is the slogan of the nation-wide campaign of the National Retail Credit Association. This organization estimates that the delinquent credit accounts constantly outstanding on the books of the retailers amount to $15,000,000,000, while the average turnover of accounts receivable is about seventy days.

If this turnover can be cut down by about one month several billions of dollars of credit could be released for use in the further expansion of business and the saving of interest alone would amount to $100,000,000 a year.

The association is stressing the problem in order to eliminate this rather careless waste in the economic process. It does not want, however, to restrict consumers' credit.

How far-reaching is the association's work?

Briefly, it has 1060 branches in as many American cities; reaches 180,000 merchants and has personal records of 60,000,000 persons.

C. E. Neill, vice-president and general manager of Canada's largest bank—the Royal—thinks the Canadian people should concentrate on making Canada and its products far more attractive to American tourists.

"As yet there has been no concerted effort to build the tradition that there are purchases which can be made in Canada more advantageously than in the United States," says Mr. Neill.

The Royal Bank of Canada has made a study of the tourist problem and estimates that 15,000,000

Steel Industry Improvement Stimulates Buying

Break in Cotton and Wheat Bearish Factors

NEW YORK, Jan. 29. (AP)—Speculative interest in today's markets was divided between the further recovery in stock prices, which carried the index of ninety leading issues to a new high level for the year, and the renewed weakness of wheat and cotton futures, the latter touching new low levels for the season. Gains in the stock market ran from 1 to 12¼ points but these were interspersed with a number of declines ranging from fractions to 4 points.

Excellent steel news, including the publication of the unexpectedly favorable statement by the United States Steel Corporation and reports of a further upturn in steel-mill activity, provided the chief stimulus to the buying movement. This was fortified by favorable dividend developments, including a resumption of payments by Colorado Fuel after a lapse of nine years and extra payments by Liggett & Myers to the Harbor!

A new

Major Traffic Boulevard

RELIEVING the heavily congested traffic to Harbor points, Normandie Avenue has just been paved from the Los Angeles City limits to Wilmington as a part of the major traffic plan. The new boulevard is located one-half mile west of Vermont and one-half mile east of Western and passes through a district largely composed of valuable acreage.

The importance of this boulevard is clearly indicated by the fact that a considerable portion of the cost is being contributed by the County of Los Angeles from its general fund. To provide the remainder of the cost, Los Angeles County is issuing Acquisition and Improvement Bonds of which we are now offering District No. 70, priced to yield 6%, completely exempt from all Federal, State and local taxes.

These bonds are due serially 1932 to 1941 inclusive and are issued in $1,000 and $500 denominations. Interest and principal are payable from an unlimited ad valorem tax levied upon all lands in the District collected with and as a part of General County Taxes from which it cannot be separated.

The issue is a legal investment for California savings banks, insurance companies, trust funds, etc.

We shall be pleased to furnish detailed circulars showing financial Statement of the district and other pertinent information. Simply send name and address below.

BARGAIN TIPS FOR INVESTORS

Americans visited Canada in 1929. This is nearly 50 per cent more than the entire population of the Dominion. The bank officials estimate that in France each American visitor spends $750 annually.

"If we could make purchasing in Canada sufficiently attractive so that the average value of merchandise taken out of the country amounted to only one-tenth of this sum (or $75) it would make a difference of more than $1,000,000,000 a year in our trade," observes Mr. Neill.

Canada's tourist trade is potentially her greatest asset.

This compares with $2,792,514 or $9.38 a share reported for 1928.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Air Transport Shares Shoot Upward; Transamerica and Pacific Finance Top Trading

Western Air Express and Aero Corporation of California jumped to the forefront in yesterday's session on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange and held the center of the stage along with Transamerica and Pacific Finance which, after a relatively quiet turnover for the two preceding sessions, once more assumed a dominant place in the market's activity. The day's transactions for the entire board more than doubled Tuesday's volume.

Western Air Express was in demand from the opening, and shot up nearly 5 points and closed in an upward direction at 34 3-4. Aero Corporation, which will merge with Western Air through the exchange of twelve of its shares for one of the latter, recorded a turnover of 5900 shares and advanced 40 cents, or more than 15 per cent, from the opening to close at 3, the high point for the day.

Transamerica had another period of unusual activity and 6800 shares of the issue crossed the board. The stock ranged between 43 5-8 and 44 1-4 and closed at 44, up 3-8 net. Pacific Finance, which had been relatively neglected during the two preceding sessions, transferred to the extent of 2700 shares and reached a high at 41 7-8 closing later at 41 5-8 for a net gain of 5-8.

Petroleum shares once again took a position in the background and were traded only in small amounts. Price changes, none of which exceeded 1-4 point, were of a mixed character.

Southern California Edison rallied 5-8 to end at 58½ and Western Pipe and Steel, recently inactive, turned up 3 points to 28 on the transaction of a board lot. Golden State Milk Products, also an inactive issue, crossed the board at 29 for a slump of 7 points from the preceding sale.

Sales totaled 27,971 shares valued at $743,353; previous day, 12,443 shares valued at $331,217.

LOS ANGELES CURB

Heavy liquidation of the shares of Electrical Products of Washington and Claude Neon of Delaware provided the principal activity of operations yesterday on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange. Price fluctuations elsewhere on the board were of a mixed character and on the whole tended toward fractionally lower levels.

Selling of the Neon stocks followed closely on the heels of a statement by Paul D. Howse, president of the Delaware company, who just returned from Seattle, that negotiations for acquisition of the Washington company would not take place before July and that it now seems improbable that the deal would take place this year.

A total of 9000 shares of the Washington company crossed the board and the stock was knocked down 2 points to 14 5-8. The opening was at the new recent high figure of 17 1-4. Stock of the Delaware company dropped back 1 1-4 points to 37 1-8.

Another feature of the session was the action of Caterpillar Tractor. Transactions in the issue, which has been recently inactive, totaled 400 shares, on which quotations advanced 3 points to 62½.

Sales totaled 26,295 shares valued at $302,678; previous day, 38,751 shares valued at $343,879.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Jan. 29. (P)—Trading in today's curb market showed a sharp contraction in volume, but the main price tendency continued upward. Chief interest centered in a handful of issues in which special developments are pending, the general list moving within a rather narrow range, due to the absence of any extensive public participation.

Dorr & Co. soared 19 points to 640, or within 2 points of the record high established last year, and then dropped back 5 points on realizing, in response to the announcement of a 5-for-1 stock split-up. Gleaner Combine Harvester (new) advanced 1½ to a new top at 23½.

Oils failed to make any responses to reports of a sharp decrease in crude oil production last week. Cosden dropped 2¼ points and Gulf 3¾, with the other active issues showing only narrow fractional changes. Pandem, a low priced issue, was turned over in large volume.

Public utilities displayed a rather firm undertone, with gains of 1 to 4 points recorded by American Light and Traction, American Gas and Electric, Standard Power and Light (new) and United Gas Electric Bond and Share recorded A large fractional gain, but Commonwealth Edison dropped 5 points and New England Power 3.

Republic Steel (new stock) sold down 4 points at one time, but recovered more than half its loss. A gain of 2 points in Western Air Express was based on reports of a favorable 1929 earnings report. United Zinc and Smelting (new) fell to a new low at 2, and Kobacker Stores broke 13½ points to a new low at 29.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

Wheat Futures Drop Close to Season's Low

CHICAGO, Jan. 29. (AP)—Big setbacks in price for all grain brought wheat within ¾c a bushel today of the season's bottom-most level here. Corn, oats and rye fell below any previous quotations for the present crop. Sudden widening out of pressure to sell wheat from Russia to other European countries was largely responsible, together with British reports that Argentine is also giving evidence of anxiety to rush export marketing of wheat.

After a day of heavy liquidating sales of wheat futures deliveries, Chicago closing quotations on wheat were nervous, 2@2¼c a bushel lower than yesterday's finish. Corn closed ¼@¾c down, oats 5@1¼c off and, provisions unchanged to a decline of 2c.

Hand-in-hand with disconcerting advices that Russia had disposed of 370,000 bushels of wheat to Italy and Germany and was offering 400,000 bushels more elsewhere, including Great Britain, North American wheat export business came to a virtual halt. Signs that foreigners were sellers of wheat future deliveries in Chicago acted also as a disturbing influence. It was not until wheat prices here had collapsed nearly 3c a bushel that rallying power developed. The fact that the Winnipeg market was weaker than Chicago proved a decided handicap on efforts to check price breaks here, especially in view of the meagerness of export demand today for wheat either from Canada or the United States.

Accelerating the downward course of wheat values here was execution of many standing orders that future delivery holdings be sold out at various fixed limits so as to put a stop to further losses. No buying of wheat for the farm board's co-operative allies was done here today, although prices went somewhat below the Farm Board's loan basis. The Chicago futures market closed within ½c of the day's bottom figures.

Although corn as a result of sympathy with wheat weakness established a new all-around low price record for the season, the corn market showed stubborn resistance to selling pressure. The fact that corn and hog values are at a profitable feeding ratio of about 12 to 1, led to predictions of a smaller movement of the corn crop to market centers than of late has been generally looked for. Oats followed corn.

Provisions were easy owing to grain weakness and a late downward trend of the hog market.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Receipts of approximately 200 included a load of Arizona steers. Four loads and a sizable number of truckins were offered in the sale stock division, most of these being dairy type cows. Trade was rather active and prices generally unchanged with the yards practically cleared at the noon hour.

A load of 1135-pound holdover California steers brought 11.35, and the load of Arizona steers averaging 971 pounds turned at 11.25.

A few odd common heifers scored 8.25. Medium cows in small lots cashed at 8.00@8.85, with bulk of common to low medium arrivals making 6.75@7.25. Low cutters and cutiers were fairly numerous at 4.00@5.50. A few good bulls brought 6.00@6.75, with plainer kind at 5.50@7.75.

CALVES—A few head of good light yealers sold steady at 10.00, with bulk of medium to good calves quotable at 12.00@14.00, and cull and common kind selling at 8.00@11.75.

HOGS—With five loads available, trade was moderately active at steady to 10c higher prices, most of the desirable butchers showing the advance. Packing sows and over and underweights showed little change. A load of good 190-pound Texas butchers landed at 11.80 with three loads of 185 to 197-pound Nebraska and Kansas offerings at 10.90. A load of 184-pound Nebraskas made 10.85. Some 178 to 190-pound truckings scored 10.50, with some 259-pound packing sows at 8.50.

METAL MARKET

CLEVELAND, Jan. 29. (Exclusive)—Daily Metal Trade today says: Specifications for steel bars, shapes and plates fail to show as rapid expansion as had been noted during the early part of the month, but incoming tonnage is fairly heavy and bar demand shows a further slight gain. Gold bar finishers are taking larger lots following a moderate upturn in demand.

Prices are firmer on bars than on shapes or plates. Little change is noted in tin plate specifications, with business continuing to hold to a good seasonal level. Recent competition between billet and rail steel bar fabricators has unsettled prices. More than 25,000 tons of structural shapes for subway work are on inquiry in the New York district.

METAL PRICES

NEW YORK, Jan. 29. (AP)—Copper quiet; electrolytic spot and futures, 18.

"TIMES" THEATER GUIDE

MOTION PICTURES

Alhambra, Hill bet. 7th & 8th.—"It's a Great Life." Merriment in a department store, provided by the Duncan sisters with song and dance embellishments.

Biltmore, 5th near Grand.—"Hunting Tigers in India." A really thrilling travel film, showing modern methods of the tiger hunt.

Boulevard, Wash. at Vern.—"Sunny Side Up," Something about Cinderella. If you've forgotten. Done in a tenement with Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell singing and dancing.

Carthay Circle, Carthay Center.—"Devil May Care." Reviewed in today's Times.

Criterion, 843 South Grand.—"Anna Christie." Greta Garbo speaks the lines of Eugene O'Neill's heroine in fine style. Clarence Brown has done some of his best directing.

Figueroa, Figueroa at Santa Barbara.—"The Mighty." Another crook story of incredible happenings, featuring George Bancroft with Tom Moore.

Filmarte, 1328 Vine.—"Arsenal." War as symbolism which is difficult but powerful. Russian made. Without titles.

Grauman's Chinese, 6925 Hollywood Blvd.—"Rogue Song." Lawrence Tibbett makes a powerful impression on the films in a vagabond romance of nearly great quality.

Grauman's Egyptian, 6708 Hollywood Blvd.—"Romance of the Rio Grande." On the order of "Old Arizona." Well played by Warner Baxter and Mona Maris.

Loew's State, 7th & Bdwy.—"Not So Dumb." Opens today.

Million Dollar, 3rd & Bdwy.—"Sweetie." Song and dance in a prep school, done in a breezy manner. Presents Nancy Carroll, Jack Oakie and Jaunty Stuart Erwin.

Palace, Bdwy. bet. 6th & 7th.—"Hallelujah." A return of King Vidor's drama of the South, credited by some as one of the best pictures of the year.

Paramount, Hill at 6th.—"The Love Parade." Delightful satire in operetta form about the effects of love on royalty. Lubitsch directed Maurice Chevalier and Jeanette MacDonald.

Rita, 3300 Whittier.—"The Mighty." See above.

R.K.O., Hill at 9th.—"Dark Streets." Opens today.

R.K.O. Orpheum, Bdwy. at 9th.—"Hit the Deck." A lot of fun and music from the stage show, with Jack Oakie and Polly Walker.

Tower, 6th & Bdwy.—"So Long, Letty." Charlotte Greenwood brings her long and lanky comedy successfully to the screen in one of her old standbys.

United Artists, Bdwy. at 9th.—"Untamed." Youth again, fast, furious and incredulous, showing how Joan Crawford can turn from a savage to society over night.

Universal Western at 10th.—"New York Nights." Norma Talmadge returns to the screen in some nice talk about Tin Pan Alley. With Gilbert Roland.

Warners' Downtown, Hill at 7th.—"Show of Shows." A revue with seventy-seven talented stars. Shows much improvement, but still rather tedious.

Warners' Hollywood, Hollywood at Wilcox.—"Hollywood Revue." The comedy becomes a fine screen show and Marilyn Miller a new star.

Westlake, 628 Alvarado.—"Three Live Ghosts." Rather nice comedy-drama about three soldiers reported more dead than alive. Merrit Mercer is good and so are Robert Montgomery and Claud Allister.

STAGE

Belasco, Hill at 11th.—"Journey's End." R. C. Sherriff's fine war play is produced splendidly by an English company with Basil Gill.

El Capitan, Hollyw'd Blvd. nr. Highland.—"The Boomerang." A pleasing little comedy about love and such, with Kay Hammond, Tom Moore and Ben Lyon.

Hollywood Playhouse, 1133 Vine.—"It Pays to Advertise." A good comedy about how love can come from making soap. Robert McWade returns.

Majestic, Bdwy. at 9th.—"New Moon." The popular operetta is well put on, featuring the song hit, "Lover Come Back to Me," Perry Askam and Josephine Huston.

Mason, Bdwy. bet. 1st.—"Chauve Souris." A more intellectual revue by Nikita Balieff and his Russian actors. Last night.

Mayan, Hill nr. 11th.—"Oh, Susanna." Tuneful and nicely staged, an operetta of the gold rush in California. With Carroll Gibbons.

DAVIS DEFINES LIQUOR REMEDY

Ex-Police Chief Says Rum Laws Can be Enforced

Jurors Obtain His Views at Trial of Officer Trio

Co-operation Held Keynote; Courts' Leniency Hit

Prohibition could be made 98 per cent effective within a period of one year if all the government agencies would co-operate "100 per cent in applying the liquor laws as they should be applied."

JAMES E. DAVIS

This was the opinion expressed yesterday by former Chief of Police Davis, who was a witness in Superior Judge Wilson's court in the trial of M. B. Sheffield, Roscoe Washington and Richmond Dunn, suspended police officers charged with conspiracy of bribery.

Called as a character witness for Sheffield, Davis was subjected to cross-examination for more than a half-hour by members of the jury who showed a pronounced interest in his views on prohibition enforcement.

LENIENCY BLAMED

Leniency of the courts in dealing with liquor law violators was blamed by Davis for many of the tribulations faced by peace officers in their efforts to enforce the law.

Asked by one juror why a number of known places of vice and bootlegging apparently were able to continue in business in spite of the law, Davis declared the "liberal enforcement" of the abatement laws is chiefly responsible for such conditions.

"I don't believe there is generally any 'open and shut' vice business in Los Angeles," he said in reply to the juror's question.

"The police can only make arrests—they can't close anything. Because the abatement laws are applied so liberally we suffer from such places as those you speak of year after year. The police may make 100 arrests in one place, with no power to close it, and the citizens feel the police are responsible."

FIGURES QUOTED

Davis pointed out that a known house of vice or bootlegging can be closed only by order of court following the prosecution of abatement proceedings, with which the police have no connection except possibly to provide evidence.

In explanation of his remark that bootlegging could be practically eradicated by the full enforcement of the law, Davis said that in one year the police had made 8400 liquor arrests, convictions being obtained in 85 per cent of the cases.

"Only 400 of these offenders were given jail terms," Davis continued, "and the average sentence was twenty days. About 3500 of them could have been sent to jail for eighteen months under the law and if such sentences were imposed and were now being imposed it would not be long before there would be no bootleggers in Los Angeles."

Davis expressed the opinion that the usual practice of assessing fines in vice and liquor violation cases "amounts to licensing" places engaged in violations of the laws.

LONG EXAMINATION

The former Chief was on the witness stand the greater part of the afternoon under examination by Defense Attorney Thomas P. White, and cross-examination by the jurors and Dep. Dist.-Attys. Dennison and McKay. He concluded his testimony just as adjournment for the day was ordered.

Davis commended the work of Sheffield, declaring "negro politicians and their friends have hated Sheffield because he has interfered with their activities."

He asserted law violators who found Sheffield a constant menace to their "business" had charged him with rough and brutal treatment on many occasions that large numbers of law-abiding citizens had reached the conclusion that the accused officer employed "strong-arm" methods in his work. The former Chief admitted that on several occasions Sheffield may have made raids without search warrants.

RECORD READ

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Dennison read into the evidence the official police record of Sheffield from the time he became an officer until he was indicted on a murder charge three years ago in connection with a shooting during a liquor raid in the

POLICE TO GET NIFTY NEW TOGS

Uniform Similar to That Worn by New York Force Adopted by Commission

A new uniform for Los Angeles police, similar to that worn by the New York police force, was adopted yesterday by the Police Commission on recommendation of a special committee consisting of Commissioners Pierce and Wehn. The change is to be made soon.

Police Sergeant C. C. Jackson wore a sample of the new uniform furnished by Foreman & Clark, one of the concerns represented in a conference with the commission yesterday. Others included the Klein Clothing Company, the Brooks Clothing Company, Harris & Franks and Desmond's.

The new uniform is to be of eighteen ounce dark blue serge, with a turn down collar instead of the present military coat collar. Starched linen collars are to be worn. The coat will have pockets similar to those of military officers and a Sam Brown type belt, with the pistol carried on the right hip, instead of the left, as in the army.

The cap is to be of the yachting type, with a white top which may be removed as occasion requires for laundering.

Estimates of the cost of the new uniform vary from $35 to $39, which is to be borne by the police officers, as in the past.

COUNCIL PLANS AID FOR JOBLESS MEN

After listening some hours to pleas for the appropriation of $100,000 for the "army of unemployed" from James Eads Howe, who has gained much notoriety as the "millionaire hobo," the City Council's Public Welfare Committee yesterday afternoon, in taking Howe's proposal under advisement, announced its intention of developing additional means of giving employment to men out of work.

COUNTY DEATH FIGURES LOW

Rate 17 Per Cent Less Than That for United States

Statistics for Year Given by Health Officer Pomeroy

Showing Laid to Co-operation and Progressive Action

The death rate for Los Angeles county is 17 per cent lower than that of the United States as a whole, according to an announcement of Dr. J. L. Pomeroy, county health officer.

Vital statistics of the County Health Department for the year 1928-29 disclose that the County Health Department territory, comprising 3400 square miles and thirty-six incorporated cities, had during this period but fifty-seven deaths for each 1000 of population, as compared with sixty-eight deaths per 1000 persons throughout the United States.

Dr. Pomeroy attributes the low mortality rate to the new era of co-operation of the public with health authorities and to the progressive action of the County Board of Supervisors in establishing a modern and complete program of public health.

CAUSES OF DEATH

A survey of the causes of deaths in Los Angeles county made by Dr. Pomeroy shows that all forms of tuberculosis are held responsible for a mortality rate of ninety-four in each 100,000 persons. This figure, considerably higher than the rate of the United States rate of 77.5, is attributed to the Soldiers' Home, veterans' hospitals, and many sanatoria located in the county because of the climate, said to be favorable for the treatment of this disease.

Pneumonia comes next with a rate of eighty-four in each 100,000 persons, which is 5 points lower than that of the United States. Climatic conditions hold down this rate, Dr. Pomeroy says, because of the absence of extreme weather conditions.

INFLUENZA'S TOLL

Influenza takes a toll of thirty-one lives in each 100,000 persons, thirteen lives less than those lost throughout the nation because of this fitness.

Diphtheria has a rate of but 2.08, which is one-third that of the United States. This low rate is attributed to the immunization campaign conducted by the County Health Department throughout the year.

Typhoid fever has a rate of .46 which is one-tenth that of the nation because of the excellent sanitary conditions maintained and the purity of the water supply in Los Angeles county. Scarlet fever also has the low rate of 0.46 as compared to 1.9 in the United States. Quarantine regulations keep this rate low, Dr. Pomeroy says.

OFTEDAL TO DIRECT NEW OFFICE HERE

Former Dry Official to be Internal Revenue Agent for Tax Investigations

Alf Oftedal, formerly assistant to the prohibition commissioner at Washington, will arrive here this week to take charge of the newly created division of the Internal Revenue Department, it was stated yesterday at the Federal Building. Oftedal, now in San Francisco, will take charge of the new unit on Saturday and will be Internal revenue agent in charge of the Los Angeles district.

He and a staff of about 200 will investigate income tax returns of more than $25,000. Formerly this work was in charge of an agent in San Francisco, with S. S. Stahl in charge of the local office. The new unit will supplement the work of the office of Collector of Internal Revenue Welch. This will be the first time that the local office of the unit will be operated independently of the San Francisco office.

Oftedal's appointment recently as collector of internal revenue at San Francisco, was withdrawn when it was pointed out that he was not a resident of that city.

PAY ASKED FOR HUSBAND'S LIFE

Model Shows How Workman Was Killed

Mrs. Lela A. Brust and Daughter, Betty Jane

MRS. LELA A. BRUST appeared before a jury in Superior Judge Valentine's court yesterday, asking $75,000 for the death of her husband, Edward J. Brust, killed when he fell from the twenty-sixth floor of the new City Hall Building.

Attorneys for Mrs. Brust produced in court a model of the City Hall to show exactly the location of the fatal accident. Brust, foreman of an elevator construction gang, fell several floors before becoming entangled in a coil of loose rope. He was strangled and died before he could be released.

Mrs. Brust sued the contractors, C. J. Kubach & Co. Her husband worked for the Baker Iron Works, who paid her $5000 workmen's compensation, and then joined in the suit as intervenor asserting that the contractor provided faulty material. Also joined in the suit are Brust's two children, Betty Jane, 6 years of age, and Lester, 16.

OPTIMISM EXPRESSED BY STRAUS

Business Leader Arrives for Winter, Voicing Belief in Building Revival

Remarking "I'm happy to be back in California," S. J. T. Straus, vice-president of the Ambassador Hotel Corporation and vice-chairman of the board of S. W. Straus & Co., yesterday announced his optimism in regard to America's general business outlook. The prognostication he bases on statistics gathered for his companies.

S.J.T. STRAUS

In a statement made yesterday at the Ambassador, where he arrived with Mrs. Straus to spend the winter, he reviewed the building industry with which he is concerned principally. Admitting yearly declines since the peak year of 1926, Straus asserted that his reports show that the turn for the better is not far away.

"I feel that perhaps by midyear we will find ourselves definitely on the upgrade," he said. "And when the new era does arrive, it will bring a very substantial prosperity to all interests directly or indirectly affected by construction.

"We are now in a period of easy money, and building activities always have gone ahead vigorously under those circumstances. It is natural that owners of property will take advantage of cheap money and proceed with projects, many of which may have been deferred because such a large part of the na-

BOYS HALF CIRCLE EARTH TO GET AIR COURSE HERE

Evidence that the fame of Los Angeles as a center of aviation development is spreading to the far corner of the world was seen in the enrollment yesterday of two boys from South Africa as students of aeronautical engineering at the Western College of Aeronautics, 154 West Slauson avenue. The two South African boys made the 13,000 mile trip from Cape Town independently and in fact were not acquainted with each other until they were introduced yesterday in the office of Walter E. Gifford, dean of the college.

FREDERICK B. COWLES

GERHARDUS L. DUNN

The coincidence resulted in an examination of the college rolls to find out how many different sections of the world are represented among the home towns of the 198 students of the college. It was found that in addition to another student from a far-away British dominion, a boy from Sydney, Australia, there are eighteen students from Canada, several from Mexico, and students from thirty States of the United States.

The boy from Sydney, Max Rosenfeld, son of a wealthy Australian lumber dealer, was introduced to the two South Africans, and the three, it developed, were induced to come here by the fact that in their respective countries there are no civilian educational institutions devoted exclusively to the teaching of aeronautical engineering and that the local school has a comprehensive course in that subject approved by the United States Department of Commerce.

One of the boys, Gerhardus L. Dunn, lived on a lonely ranch in the Transvaal, near the town of Ernelo, and he first learned of the local school by seeing an advertisement of it in the Aero Digest.

He set sail on December 21 and arrived here Tuesday. After being in the city one day, he inquired of Dean Gifford yesterday as to how he could become naturalized as an American citizen. At present, he and the other two boys are in the country under the classification of immigrant students, which requires their return to their native lands at the completion of their courses.

The other South African boy, Frederick B. Cowles, also lived on a ranch, which was near Durban in the State of Natal. It was natural for him to come to this country to study, he said, because the last three generations of his family have all been educated in the United States. His brother is Dr. Raymond B. Cowles, professor of biology at the University of California at Los Angeles. Young Cowles started for the United States last October and made the journey by easy stages, arriving here Saturday.

DAIRY MERGER PLANS RELATED

Seattle Man Proposes New $100,000,000 Combine

Properties in Nine States Slated for Inclusion

Listing on Local Exchange Sought for Stock

Announcement that there is being formed in Los Angeles a $100,000,000 dairy products distributing firm which on completion will include properties in nine States was made through the Chamber of Commerce yesterday by S. H. Berch, D. M. Dorman and associates. The announcement states that the organization will extend itself into other States as rapidly as favorable deals can be made. It is declared to be in a formative stage at this time under a Delaware incorporation, as Creameries of America. Work was begun in a preliminary way late last year.

Berch is the Seattle milk products magnate who came here about two years ago as president of Western Dairy Products Company, which owned milk products concerns in Washington and Oregon and bought California Dairies, Inc., which is the merged organization of a number of milk products companies existing here before that time. Dorman was head of one of them and now is chairman of the board of both the Western and California companies. Berch is president of both.

SILENT CAMPAIGN

The announcement said that for more than a year acquisition of milk products firms in various localities of the nine States has been proceeding quietly because of keen national competition in such circles and that even at this time the identities remain mostly a secret. Western and California companies, it was announced, are not now in Creameries of America.

The nine States in which the merging properties are situated are Colorado, Utah, Idaho, Texas, Wyoming, New Mexico, Arizona, Northern California and Southwestern Washington. Berch will head the new organization.

Organization plans are said to call for the conversion of all preferred and common stocks outstanding in the merged companies into common stock of Creameries of America, the exchange to take place as soon as audits of the various units can be completed. It is announced that there will be only one class of common stock in Creameries of America, with no senior securities of any kind outstanding.

EARNINGS NOW SMALL

Combined annual earnings of the group of companies which make up the new organization are approximately $500,000, according to the announcement. It was said that additions will bring these earnings up to $1,000,000 per annum.

It is the intention, Mr. Berch said, to make a distribution of the stock and apply for listing on the leading exchanges.

"The mergers and combinations effected within the industry in the past few years," Mr. Berch said, "tend to insure the stability of the business. By abolishing duplication of executive control, effecting economies through the massing of a greater purchasing power, eliminating unnecessary expense and overlapping operations these merged groups have established the industry on a sensible business basis."

Honors Planned For Dead Jesuit

Plans for the establishment of a memorial to Rev. Henry Welch, S. J., will be drafted at an informal meeting at 2:30 p.m. February 5 in the home of Mrs. William Brophy, 100 South Rossmore avenue, it was announced yesterday. The memorial will take the form of special decorations in the sanctuary of the Church of the Blessed Sacrament, Hollywood, where Father Welch spent the last four years of his life. All friends of the Jesuit are invited.

The City Council yesterday passed a resolution of intention for the establishment of set-back lines in Third avenue from Jefferson Boulevard to Rodeo Road.

TRAINED DOG DOES HIS OWN SHOPPING

Being Helpful
Jack the Comet carrying little Sally Heagle's basket.

Jack the Comet, 2-year-old German police dog, here from Chicago for the winter, is finding more ways to make himself useful than he or his master, Arthur Heagle, ever thought of while he trained in the eastern city.

For instance, Jack known in Chicago as the wonder dog, makes it a daily practice now to go shopping in neighborhood stores near the Heagle residence, 1122 West Fifty-fourth street.

He packs a large market basket in his mouth, saluting tradespeople by entering and leaving their stores on his hind legs.

Then when his little charge, Sally Heagle, 2 years of age, wants anything, Jack gets it for her. It may be her bottle of milk or a toy, but whatever it is Jack gets it.

Police Board's Inspector Put Back on Force

Dwight W. Longuevan, chief of inspectors for the Board of Police Commissioners for the last year and a half, yesterday was transferred by the authority of Chief of Police Steckel for assignment in a resolution passed by the commission. He will go back to the detective bureau, in which he was an inspector.

Commissioner Drake stated that he considers the transfer a "promotion" for Longuevan, and commended the officer for his unfailing courtesy and efficiency. Longuevan tops the civil service eligible list for deputy chiefs.

No reason was assigned for the transfer. The job consists in investigating and making reports on all applicants for police permits, and other matters.

EDUCATOR TO LECTURE

"A Blue Stocking Looks at the World" will be the subject of a lecture at the Central Library, 530 South Hope street, tomorrow at 8 p.m. The lecturer, Dr. Margaret S. Carhart, assistant professor of English at University of California at Los Angeles, is much in demand by clubs and other organizations. This lecture is sponsored by the literature department of the library.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

"JOURNEY'S END" is an amazing and overwhelming play.

It supplies food for thought.

There isn't a woman on the stage from start to finish. What the movies call "love interest" appears only inferentially . . . a wife back home . . . a girl with whom a young officer has a vague "understanding" . . . three burlesque actresses whose legs have supplied photographs for the consolation of another young officer.

LOVE—AND SUCH

Just as "Journey's End" has been the tumultuous success of this year; so "What Price Glory" was the hit five years ago. And it, also, was a "he" play. The only love interest was a dirty affair between two marines and a little French tart in a saloon.

"All Quiet on the Western Front," by the same token, is acclaimed the greatest war story that came out of the conflict—not a love story.

HIGH-TONED TALK

The most popular war play until this flapper era was "Shenandoah."

I remember the big battle scene in this. While the Union Army was retreating from the Battle of Cedar Creek an incredibly handsome young officer was proposing marriage to a pulchritudinous young female. He had a stage line which sounded the keynote of that play—and of the mood of that era:

"That," he said, with a quavering voice, "is only a battle—and you love me." Whee!

Contrast the dying boy in "Journey's End" with the party who died all over the landscape in "Shenandoah;" who struck a deathbed attitude and exclaimed—with another kind of quaver: "Tell my children how I died; not how I lived."

COULD IT?

Confidentially, down here in small type and a weak voice:

I am not so sure that "Shenandoah," with its Christmas card love story and its noble heroics, wouldn't make a hit right now—in spite of "Journey's End."

BAD ACTING

What we suffer on this Coast is not so much bad plays as bad acting. I know now what has become of all the ex-bartenders and the boys who used to work in the livery stables. "Journey's End" is the first play I have seen in a year that didn't make your flesh creep from atrocious fifth-rate actors.

PANTAGES DECISION TODAY

Judge Fricke Expected to Rule Early on Illness Plea for Theater Man's Release on Bail

Decision on the second attempt of Alexander Pantages to obtain his release from the County Jail on bond on account of impaired health probably will be made shortly after Superior Judge Fricke convenes court at 9:15 a.m. today.

Affidavits and testimony of seven physicians covering the various examinations they have made of the physical condition of the millionaire theater man, under sentence of one to fifty years in San Quentin, were heard yesterday at two short sessions of court. A recess then was taken until this morning.

It was announced that this evidence completes all the information relative to the present health of Pantages that will be presented in support of a motion that he be released on bail pending decision on his appeal.

Attorney Le Compte Davis will present a brief resume of the findings of the physicians to the court this morning, but Chief Deputy District-Attorney Stewart announced that he will make no argument, but will submit the application without comment.

Testimony by Dr. Henry M. Lissner, personal physician of Pantages, supported by affidavits from Drs. E. C. Fishbaugh, O. M. Justice and Aaron Rosanoff, was presented to the court setting out that the convicted theater man is suffering from heart disease, known as "true angina pectoris," and that his incarceration is aggravating the malady.

Dr. Gustavus P. Boehme, Jr., who examined Pantages at the request of the District Attorney's office, testified that he did not discover the heart malady. To the direct question as to further stay in a jail cell resulting in an immediate impairment of the prisoner's health, Dr. Boehme replied:

"I do not believe that further incarceration will impair his health in any way."

In answering the same question, which was put to him by Stewart after his testimony on the condition of Pantages, revealed from an examination Tuesday, Dr. John V. Barrow said:

"I believe that further incarceration is not necessarily of immediate and permanent injury to Pantages. I personally believe that he can be given as good and perfect care in one place as in any other."

The physician also told the court

COLLEGE ANNOUNCES GIFTS

Occidental to Get $50,000 for Endowment Fund and Receives Various Other Items

Gifts of $50,000 for the endowment fund for religious education, $25,000 for scholarships and numerous gifts to the library were announced yesterday afternoon by Dr. Remsen D. Bird, president of Occidental College, following the annual meeting of the board of trustees. Plans also were announced for the improvement of the college campus and playfields.

Dr. Bird announced the gift of $50,000 to the religious education endowment fund as a conditional one from Thomas Synnott of Philadelphia, who said the fund will be made available when the endowment fund totals $250,000. The trustees were told that the religious fund now aggregates nearly $200,000.

Included in the gifts to the library is one amounting to $1300 from Willis H. Booth of New York for the establishment of an economics library. Robert Dollar of San Francisco, announced to the board the formation of a fund to establish a library for oriental study, and acknowledgment was made to James G. Warren of Los Angeles for a gift for the formation of the Warren Library of Musical Literature. Mrs. Ruth Esterly contributed the private library of her husband, the late Dr. Calvin O. Esterly, former professor of zoology.

Mrs. Florence O. Cutter of River-side, is the donor of $20,000 for a scholastic fund, and an additional $5000 was received from an anonymous source.

Dr. Bird announced the acceptance of the newly completed Thompson gates at the north entrance to the campus, the gift of Walter Van E. Thompson, graduate of the class of 1896, and also the gift of an unnamed sum from Alphonso E. Bell for campus improvement. Further improvements projected by the college authorities include the widening and regrading of the Westdale entrance and the removal of the north grand stand on Patterson Field, which will allow for the formation of an auxiliary play field and accommodate an expansion program of intramural sports.

The appointment of two additional members to the board of trustees was announced at yesterday's meeting. They are Mrs. Clifford Allen of Pasadena and Miss

STATE COUNCIL FINISHES WORK

Governor's Cabinet Reports on Stewardship

Los Angeles Prominent in Accounts of Doings

Major Industrial Activity Found in Southland

Increasing importance of Los Angeles and Southern California in the State's industrial, financial, educational and agricultural life was reflected in the reports of directors of State departments yesterday at the second meeting of the Governor's council in the City Hall. The first meeting was held Tuesday. The next meeting will be in the north in February.

In his report Will J. French, director of the Department of Industrial Relations, listed the following statistics:

"The United States Bureau of Census reports 262,936 wage earners in 10,066 manufacturing establishments in California. Los Angeles county alone is credited with 38 per cent of the total and 35 per cent of the State's wage earners.

FEATHER FOR CITY

"The Division of Industrial Welfare reports that approximately 40 per cent of the three major women-employing industries of California are in Los Angeles. The Associated Apparel Manufacturers state that the output of the needle trades in Los Angeles represented more than $60,000,000 last year.

"United States records show that while the additions in the number of manufacturing establishments from 1925 to 1927 in California was 4.5 per cent, in Los Angeles the increase was 10 per cent. During the same period the increase in the number of wage earners in manufacturing establishments in the State as a whole was 5.4 per cent, while in Los Angeles the percentage was 14.7."

OTHER ACTIVITIES

French declared that his department has been of service in collecting $1,000,000 in wage claims for workers, assisted in the reduction of industrial deaths, reduced fire hazards and accomplished many other services in the industrial field, including considerable propganda work against age discrimination by employers.

The report of Alexander R. Heron, Director of Finance, contained some unusual features. His department makes purchases for State institutions and reports on price fluctuations and reasons for them.

COFFEE DROP EXPLAINED

A sharp decline in the price of coffee, Heron said, was explained by Lyman M. King, chief of the Division of Service and Supply, as follows: The Brazilian government for the past five years supported a coffee defense plan but when it attempted to obtain loans on coffee early in October from London bankers the security was rejected, the retault of which was a sharp decline in Brazilian coffee, which was felt in Colombia and other Central American countries.

Brazil today, Heron asserted, has coffee stored in government warehouses which, from latest reports, amounts to 30,000,000 bags and on this amount there has been a depreciation of $11 a bag since October 1, a loss of $330,000,000. The world's yearly consumption of coffee was placed by the State officer at 11,000,000 bags.

WATER FOR METROPOLIS

Activity of Board of Water and Power Commissioners of the City of Los Angeles attempting to obtain further watershed lands in Mono and Inyo counties was also commented upon by Heron. The local commissioners acted under a certain statute, which provides that unsold and unreserved portions of school lands may be sold by private sale. They filed approximately thirty claims. A representative of the Department of Finance was at once dispatched to Owens Valley to make an appraisal of the lands described, but on account of the unprecedented snowfall the appraisal has been delayed.

Heron asserted the finances of the State are in good shape and showed a healthy surplus.

George H. Hecke, director of the Department of Agriculture, reported further co-operation between farmers and State and county agencies in obtaining aid for agriculture. New market news service and more and better inspections of fruit, vegetable and meat products were listed.

SCHOOL PROBLEMS

School problems were discussed by Vierling Kersey, director of the Department of Education. He listed as important activities of his department the problem of physical education and school preparation for the 1923 Olympic Games in Los Angeles.

State athletic championships for boys have been eliminated except in track events, he said, and the tendency is to restrict championship games to local leagues, eventually giving every boy the opportunities he should have rather than shower the major attention on the few expert athletes who are already superior to the general group.

SPORTS REFORMED

Progress, he continues, has been made in changing the viewpoint of coaches and succeeding in "returning the game to the players, the original owners, and substituting psychology and democracy for fear and dictation.

"Some persons think that the railroads and the hotel men will be the ones that will benefit from the Olympic Games, but I think that the lasting benefit will go to the boys and girls," commented Kersey, as he outlined his department's preparations for the international athletic event.

OLYMPIC PERSONNEL

His report contained the names of a State-wide Olympic committee recently authorized by the State Board of Education, its personnel including the following Southern California members: Harry J. Moore, Long Beach; Dr. Sven Lokrantz, Los Angeles city schools; George Lunt, Riverside; Arthur J. Schuettner, Los Angeles Junior College; Sherman L. Brown, Chico High School; Walter Hepner, San Diego; Frederick Cozens, University of California at Los Angeles; C. L. Glenn, Los Angeles city schools, and Herman Spindt, Bakersfield.

Earl E. Jensen, director of State institutions, gave a summary of the work accomplished by his department, which listed improvements in buildings and personnel. Parole statistics indicated the success of the move, he said, particularly in the case of young persons.

SOLE SURVIVOR TALE IN ERROR

Tomlinson's "Sea Hawk" Comrades Still Alive —and "Kidding"

D. W. Tomlinson, once leader of the Navy's famous trio of stunt flyers, "the Sea Hawks," and now operations manager for the western division of a transcontinental air line here, hopes this story will be printed. He has two reasons; first, it may reduce his mail, and, second, it may free him from further "kidding" by his two "buddies."

Tomlinson says some one referred to him as the "surviving member" of the "Sea Hawks." As a matter of fact, Tomlinson declares all of the "Sea Hawks" are alive.

One of them, Lieut. A. P. Storrs, is chief test pilot at the naval air station, Anacostia, Washington, and the other, Lieut. W. B. Davis, Jr., is an instructor at the naval air base at Pensacola, Fla.

"Golly," he protests, "I'm getting letters on it from lots of folks, not to mention what Storrs and Davis have written me."

TAXPAYERS' SUIT ALONG NEW LINES

Action to Enjoin Lynwood From Collecting Paving Assessments Argued

Plaintiffs in a taxpayers' suit to enjoin the city of Lynwood from collecting assessments for paving Century Boulevard, are attacking the procedure along new lines, it appeared when the case came to be argued before Superior Judge Gates yesterday.

Among a long list of legal objections to the assessment, the claim was set up that assessments could not be legally collected by the city for the purpose of paying damages for water diversion, such as it is asserted will result from the paving of Century Boulevard and the consequent draining of the adjacent territory, by street gutters.

As the paving project is being done under the Mattoon Act, it is also asserted that neither the Mattoon Act, nor any other act, provides machinery for assessing and collecting water diversion damages, and inasmuch as the improvement purports to make a levy for such purposes, the entire project should be held illegal.

Judge Gates will rule later on the questions involved.

City Attorneys' Association to Elect Officers

The City Attorneys' Association of Southern California will hold its annual meeting for the election of officers at the City Club at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Guests of honor will be Superior Judges McLucas, Bishop and Shaw, who are serving on the newly created division of appeals which considers cases carried up from Municipal Court. These judges will speak on the jurisdiction, organization and procedure of the new court.

The call for the meeting was issued by the retiring president, R. C. McAllaster, formerly City Attorney of Pasadena, now a deputy in County Counsel Mattoon's office.

Maccabees Will Entertain Young

Ed L. Young of Ohio, Supreme editor of the Maccabees, is scheduled to arrive in Los Angeles Saturday morning to be guest at a joint rally of Sir Knights, Ladies and Juniors, February 4, next. He will address his associates on "Fellowship in Everyday Life," and "The Fundamentals of Maccabean Service."

The visiting official has been Great Commander of the order in Ohio for twenty-five years. Following his Los Angeles call Young will visit Oakland, Portland and Seattle.

HIGHWAY CORPS REVIEWED

Governor, Mayor and Police Officials Inspect Patrol of 100 Men on New White Motorcycles

Gov. Young, directors of State departments and local city and county officials yesterday inspected Southern California units of the newly organized California Highway Patrol. Approximately 100 men and officers, all in new uniforms and astride new white four-cylinder motorcycles, were drawn up in parade on the north side of the Coliseum grounds.

Eugene Biscailuz, superintendent of the State highway patrol, led the Governor and his party down the long lines of smartly caparisoned officers and men and identified the various units, while a score of news reel and other photographers went into action to record the scene.

Among those who participated in the inspection, in addition to the Governor, were Mayor Porter, Bert B. Meek, Director of the State Department of Public Works; Deputy Chief Davis, head of the Los Angeles police traffic bureau; Sheriff Traeger and Chief of Police Steckel.

Gov. Young shook hands with each man in the new patrol service and in a short address said that it was not the primary purpose of the patrol to make arrests, but rather to assist traffic. He congratulated Supt. Biscailuz on the appearance and equipment of his men.

The new units, which, in many instances, will take the place of county motorcycle officers, will be divided among various Southern California counties, the largest number—twenty-four—being allotted to San Diego county. Orange county's quota is eighteen. While Los Angeles county keeps its county motorcycle officers under Capt. Cannon, six State patrolmen will make their headquarters here at 2419 South Grand avenue, as will E. L. Bruck, district inspector.

The State patrolmen are equipped with motorcycles capable of a maximum speed of ninety miles an hour and each carries first-aid kits and flares for night work.

HEARING ON WILLIAMS CLAIMS SET

Final Disposition of All Charges Against Widow, Due Tomorrow

Final disposition of all charges pending against Florine Walz Williams, widow of the motion-picture actor, Earle Williams, will be made tomorrow, Dist.-Atty. Fitts announced last night.

Mrs. Williams appeared at the District Attorney's office yesterday and requested permission to leave the State for New York City, where she intends to obtain employment as a saleswoman in a dress shop.

A grand theft charge against Mrs. Williams was disposed of by Superior Judge Wood Tuesday when he declined to honor the claims of numerous creditors and granted the widow probation for five years. In confessing to a charge of illegally borrowing money on property already mortgaged, Mrs. Williams also admitted that she had spent the $250,000 estate left by her husband, giving much if it to an oil promoter, whom she named as the father of her 6-month-old son, Billy.

The claims of Albert Lucas and C. H. O'Connor, two of Mrs. Williams's creditors, are scheduled to be heard in civil court tomorrow. These men attached $10,000 worth of gold bonds belonging to Mrs. Williams to satisfy their claims totaling $8400.

Girl's Shopping for Trousseau Leads to Jail

Shopping for a trousseau with assertedly bogus checks yesterday led to the arrest of a girl giving her name as Dorothy Dellinger, 20 years of age, and her incarceration in the County Jail on suspicion of forgery. She was taken in custody in a Hollywood department store by Detective Lieutenants Posner and Crowley of the Central forgery detail, when a clerk's suspicions were aroused by the check she had tendered in payment of a purchase. According to the officers, the girl has passed several forged checks on downtown stores.

Miss Dellinger made no admissions concerning the checks, but stated she has been accumulating a trousseau. She gave her address as 2510 West Norton avenue, which the detectives say is fictitious.

MRS. EMIL KAYSER EXPIRES

Funeral Services Will be Conducted Today for Wife of Shoe Company President

Mrs. Gertrude Visscher Kayser, resident of Pasadena for the last forty-eight years and wife of Emil Kayser, president of the Wetherby-Kayser Shoe Company, died at her home, 325 South Madison avenue, Tuesday midnight following a month's critical illness. About a year ago Mrs. Kayser underwent an operation, and since that time had been in failing health. She was 67 years of age.

Members of the family were at her bedside when death came, her son Frederic having come by plane from Kansas City to reach the family residence just a few hours before the end.

Funeral services will be conducted at 3 p.m. today from the Madison-avenue address, with Dr. Robert Freeman of the First Presbyterian Church of Pasadena, of which she was a member, and Dr. Leischman officiating. Burial will follow in the Mountain View Mausoleum, Altadena.

Mrs. Kayser first came to Pasadena with her family for a visit in 1881, and the following year they left their home in Omaha and established a permanent residence in the foothill city. In June, 1892, as Gertrude Visscher, she married Emil Kayser, who has been identified with the business life of Pasadena and this city for forty-two years.

Besides her husband Mrs. Kayser leaves two daughters, Nancy and Gretchen; her son, and her sisters, Mrs. F. Bruce Wetherby, Mrs. David Conrad of Montecito, Miss Henriette Visscher and Miss Helen Visscher.

The three negro officers are asserted to have accepted "protection" money from a number of reputed bootleggers to refrain from arresting the latter on charges of violating the Wright Act.

Mother Accused of Child Neglect

Accused by her mother, Mrs. Mable Luman, of failing to provide for her three minor children, Mrs. Pearl Tharp, 1648 Ricardo street, is in the County Jail awaiting jury trial on the charge. She pleaded not guilty in Municipal Court yesterday, her trial being set for February 6, next, when she declared she was unable to give $500 bail.

Mrs. Luman declares that she has been supporting her daughter's children: Ethel, 12 years of age; Nellie, 9, and Thomas, 8, at her home, 200 North First street, Alhambra, for the last three years. During that time, she said, Mrs. Tharp has contributed only $5 toward their support. The father, who disappeared seven years ago, was declared legally dead by the courts some time ago, investigators reported.

RICH PAIR'S ROW LAID TO SOCIETY

Hutchinson Suit Brings in Prominent Names

Social Strivings Blamed as Cause of Discord

Woman Sued for Alienation Tells of Baby's Birth

Names of persons socially prominent were introduced into the $300,000 alienation of affections suit of Mrs. Mattie Deane Hutchinson against Mrs. Edith Patterson Taylor yesterday, when Attorney Byron Hanna for the defense sought to show that Mrs. Hutchinson's social strivings and not Mrs. Taylor's charms turned the love of Samuel S. Hutchinson, wealthy film distributor, from his wife.

For instance, Attorney Hanna asked Mrs. Hutchinson who has been on the stand two days, if Mrs. J. Ogden Armour, wife of the millionaire meat packer, attended a certain reception given by Mrs. Hutchinson at her $500,000 lake shore home in Chicago.

Mrs. Hutchinson admitted that Mrs. Armour was present, and also Mrs. Kellogg Fairbanks, whom the plaintiff identified as "the soap man's wife."

ONLY THE VERY BEST

"Didn't you write to your husband of this reception that a 'common butcher's wife' was present?" Attorney Hanna asked.

"I wasn't referring to Mrs. Armour," the plaintiff replied.

"You made friends only among the socially elite in Chicago, did you not?" asked the attorney.

"Certainly, only among the best people."

"What do you mean by the 'best people?'"

"Oh, the very best."

Attorney Hanna devoted much of his cross-examination to an attempt to show that Mrs. Hutchinson was confused in her testimony, and often contradicted herself. The plaintiff said she was "under a strain," and might not have remembered details.

Mrs. Hutchinson was asked if she loved her husband at all times, and if she had never ceased to love him. She replied in the affirmative. Attorney Hanna then introduced into the record a letter which Mrs. Hutchinson wrote, demanding that her husband pay a bill for painting the house, if he had to pawn his diamonds to do so.

LETTER CHIDES HUTCHINSON

The letter chided Hutchinson for not paying attention to his business, and reproached him for not taking an interest in his family.

Mrs. Taylor, on the stand for a short time yesterday, told of the birth of her first child, of whom she said Hutchinson is the father. When the baby was born, it was quite small, and the attending physician took it to the hospital in his medicine case. Mrs. Taylor, who was residing at her mother's home in Omaha at the time, said that her mother did not know the child was born.

Other witnesses yesterday were Mrs. Helen Hutchinson, widow of Winston Hutchinson, the plaintiff's son; J. Hobart Hutchinson, another son of the plaintiff, and Mrs. Hutchinson's brother, James M. Lett, of Chicago.

Questioned by Benjamin F. Biedsoe, the plaintiff's attorney, all the witnesses testified that Hutchinson was a kind and considerate husband, although Hobart said his father was "cold by nature," and not demonstratively affectionate.

The trial will be resumed in Superior Judge Keetch's court today.

"Another factor is the concerted effort being made by all interests to keep business going ahead. This means that many millions of dollars worth of projects will get under way which might not have come along at this time. Every dollar so expended by railroads, utilities, industries, municipalities, State and nation, will add just so much to the prosperity of the whole country. Looking at the whole situation, there is justification for the belief widely held by business leaders that an optimistic view may be maintained."

Court Fixes Valuation of Hanzi Property Needed in Market Street Plan

All obstacles to extending Market street from Moneta to Redondo-Riverside Boulevard, were removed yesterday, when Superior Judge Gould fixed a valuation of $3000 an acre on land owned by John Hanzi, one parcel of twenty-seven condemned by the county. Owners of the other twenty-six pieces of property already had accepted the appraisals of referees who set a value of $3000 an acre.

Condemnation proceedings were begun by the county a year ago. They were directed by Deputy County Counsel Kennedy.

TRADE CENSUS APPEAL ISSUED

Merchants' Co-operation For New Plan Invoked

Distribution Data Declared to Be Important

Benefits For All Sighted in Business Survey

A message to Los Angeles merchants, manufacturers and others having to do with the purchase and sale of commodities was issued by United States Census Director Stuart yesterday on departing for San Francisco in his tour of the country preparing for the 1930 decennial census.

The message deals with the particular importance of the new phase of this census, that having to do with distribution of commodities as never before undertaken.

TEXT OF STATEMENT

Its aims, uses and difficulties are set out in Dr. Steuart's statement which says:

"The census of distribution is a new field of statistical work. No one has had the experience necessary to enable me to give a satisfactory explanation of all the problems involved. During the past two years numerous conferences have been held with leading business men, representatives of chambers of commerce and others interested in statistics concerning the advisability and practicability of the census of distribution. Some of those who attended these conferences were in favor and others opposed to such a census. It was the consensus of opinion, however, that statistics showing mercantile transactions were essential to an understanding of the industrial and business conditions existing in the United States and especially in the cities. Such information would be of value to the manufacturer because he is also a distributor, of prime importance to the merchant because his business consists entirely of the purchase and sale of commodities, to the consumer because it desires to make purchases to the best advantage.

FIVE PROBLEMS

"These discussions developed five problems which we are now endeavoring to answer satisfactorily: Namely, the reason for such a census, the scope of it, the authority under which it would be taken, questions to it and of what use all the data be when collected.

"We now have statistics covering almost every other phase of our social and industrial development. There has been no definite information collected to show the number, variety or extent of the wholesale and retail merchants for the country as a whole. The development in this city has been very rapid during recent years and no one knows the extent to which the city is meeting the requirements of its population and of the large territory served through it as a distributing center. Each merchant in this city undoubtedly has definite information concerning the extent of his business, but he has no information upon which he can base an intelligent effort to increase his business. The census, therefore, should cover in its scope every wholesale and retail merchant, manufacturers' agent, broker, importer, exporter and in fact, all who have a definite place of business connected with the purchase and sale of commodities.

CONFIDENTIAL DATA

"The work is done under the authority of the law providing the fifteenth and subsequent censuses, approved June 18, 1929. This law makes it obligatory upon every person to furnish the information required for census purposes but irrespective of the law every merchant in Los Angeles should be sufficiently interested to furnish the data required for this census.

"All the reports will be treated as strictly confidential and if the merchant so desires, he may mail them directly to Washington, official envelopes being furnished for that purpose.

"Naturally, there is objection on the part of some to supply information of this character, that is, objections that are either personal or financial. By personal, I mean the disposition of some individuals to neglect or oppose the collection of data that can be used by all other people in an intelligent conduct of their business. He is apt to overlook the fact that totals of the character compiled by the Federal government are made available to every person and can be used with equal facility by every merchant, manufacturer or consumer.

POPULATION TREND

"The population of this country has been increasing very rapidly. One of its characteristics is the concentration in large cities. This urban population now forms about 51 per cent of the total, and taking into consideration the environments of the cities, it is probable that the population thus separated from agriculture forms more than 60 per cent of the people. The latest figures show that only about 29,000,000 people live on farms. It is certain that the population of the cities will continue to increase with greater rapidity than in the past and it behooves us to have information that will enable a proper service for this large concentration of population.

"A census of distribution is the missing link in the chain. It is now the intention to make such an enumeration for the purpose of collecting the statistics which will be of the greatest value to industry and business."

The manufacturers' census here will be conducted under supervision of E. D. Austin of Washington, D. C., who will soon open an office and start the work.

Suicide's Trial to be Dismissed

When the case of Sarah J. Byrne, 64 years of age, is called before Superior Judge Aggeler today, it will be dismissed, because she ended her life in San Francisco yesterday by inhaling gas, according to word received by Dist.-Atty. Fitts yesterday.

The woman was accused of stealing clothing from a downtown department store.

JOYS OF SILENCE

Now they want talkies for deaf people—whatever they may be. Why not leave the deaf to the happiness they must be having?

GIVE THE LITTLE GIRL A HAND

An usherette in an Oakland theater has had five divorces in six years and is still but twenty-six years old. She is in training for Hollywood, all right.

THE RULING PASSION

Somebody mentions that while dentists were in convention recently their wives had a bridge party at a swell hotel. Can't get away from their bridge-work.

SWEARING BY WIRELESS

Senator Dill is in another pickle. He is insisting upon instant and adequate punishment for a southern radio announcer who has been using swear words in his broadcasting. The Senator does not care what they do in the films or on the stage, but the mike must be kept pure and unsullied. Let the wireless come to the ears of America free from all verbal violence. If a broadcaster defile the ozone with a cuss word let his air be shut off instanter. The Senator will compromise with no infamy.

THE BRITISH COPS

London policemen draw pay at the rate of about $25 a week and there is nearly a year of probation before they are sure of the job. Only about 5 per cent of those taking the examinations are able to make the force. But the idea is that they have a life job when they get there. The average appointee will draw a pension for twenty years after he has retired. The pension is three-quarters of full pay, which makes it rather attractive to the ordinary bobby. There is a large suspicion that the London force is more efficient than anything we have in this country.

STANDARDIZED MEN

The United States Bureau of Standards contributes some deep stuff bearing on discoveries in respiratory fermentation—by which red corpuscles are created or extended. The trend would be toward the possible creation of synthetic life. If the men and women of the future are to be built along the specifications of the government bureau of standards they are going to be mighty efficient. As the maker of a new generation Uncle Sam would have a track team that could clean up the universe. Our standardized men would be able to knock a couple of home runs every day.

A MISTAKEN POLICY

The reported action of the Universal Air Lines, Inc., in destroying immediately after a crash the wreck of one of its airplanes near Kansas City and in attempting to prevent newspaper photographers from taking pictures of the accident is no help to commercial aviation. The company should learn—and doubtless will from the unfavorable public reaction there will be to such tactics—that attempts to hide facts are always a serious error. Such attempts lead investigators to place the worst construction possible on such incidents as are learned, and the whole cannot possibly be concealed.

Companies engaged in business which affects the public interest—and transportation of passengers is emphatically such a business—are not entitled to any secrets about accidents; they owe the public the fullest revelation of truth that can be made, so that preventive steps can be taken.

This is fully realized by the companies operating in California. In the recent crash of a T.A.T.-Maddux liner at Oceanside all the officials of the company co-operated fully with all efforts to bring the facts to light and did their best to establish the causes of the accident, with the result that public confidence in the line was not in the least shaken, and it was recognized that the company could be relied upon to take any steps necessary to prevent a recurrence. Such an attitude of frankness with the public is the only correct one, and the only one that commercial aviation can take if it is not to suffer more heavily than is its due for catastrophe.

WATER, OIL AND GAS

Secretary of the Interior Wilbur spoke his mind out plainly Tuesday in regard to three California problems, water, oil and gas. Concerning them he said nothing that California, and particularly Southern California, ought not to have known without his telling. There has been verbal agreement upon the truth of every item, but accompanied by a strange lethargy about practical measures to put to work these development and conservation measures which are urgently needed.

Too many Californians consider water as something to be had by turning a faucet handle, gas as something that comes through pipes and oil as goods to be purchased at the corner service station. Public indifference to the problems of production of these very necessary commodities has made them the football of political or selfish interest. Secretary Wilbur made an effort to dispel this indifference and to point out that every resident of this State has a very vital concern in these matters and must take a part in seeing that they are disposed of wisely.

The Secretary of the Interior also took occasion to make plain that his hands are not tied in the disposition of Boulder Dam matters and that he proposes to use the discretion which the law imposes in him for the best interests of all concerned. His declaration, "you must think in terms of millions—not dollars, but people," is an indication of his own viewpoint on the subject.

This means that too much delay is being caused by haggling over trivialities—too much attention is being paid to individual trees and not enough to the forest.

Secretary Wilbur himself took practical steps in the oil and gas matter in his conference with the Kettleman Hills operators, having previously told the Chamber of Commerce that enough gas was being wasted there daily to take care of the whole of Southern California's needs. Upon the operators he urged the necessity of so developing the supply that there will be intelligent and reasonable use, with nothing thrown away than can possibly be conserved.

He defined the "Colorado River business" as a "reaching out by people for more opportunity to grow" and warned that too much attention is being given to artificial boundaries such as State lines and not enough to laws of physics. This may be interpreted as a declaration that the water of the Colorado should be distributed to the best economic advantage, or in other words, used where it can be placed so as to benefit the maximum number of people.

"We can't play the regional game against nature and play the political game against ourselves," he said. "We can't have it a political football. We must get the water. Give and take—take your time—do your share—these are the communal laws associated with the distribution of water. You must think of the future and must get yourselves working together."

The problem which the Secretary outlined as that of getting "political units and their difficulties into harmonious accord" is being tackled, incidentally, at Reno, where the conference of lower-basin States which Secretary Wilbur himself brought about is proceeding. A powerful incentive for this conference to reach a result was given by Senator Pittman of Nevada in his warning that Congress might refuse to appropriate money for Boulder Dam in the absence of a tri-State agreement. Senator Pittman, to be sure, is not all of Congress, and there is little doubt that that body would override protests from Arizona if that State should put itself in the attitude of making unreasonable demands. But there is no question, on the other hand, that California needs this Colorado water very badly and should make concessions to obtain it.

The whole Southwest has a powerful friend in the Secretary of the Interior, and the advice he gave was accompanied with a proffer of his services in working out these problems. It is good advice; it should be followed and the raising of finicking objections to details of his plan should be discontinued. We shall get farther quicker by co-operating with Secretary Wilbur to the full.

TROUBLES OF SOVIET AGENTS

There is a certain directness about the government of the so-called Union of Socialist Soviet Republics. Other ruling bodies may hesitate and fumble and blunder about and pretend to consult public opinion and be generally inefficient and time-wasting, but that is not Stalin's way. He has just, for instance, decreed death and confiscation of all his property for Peter Miller-Mallis, who formerly represented soviet Russia commercially in Germany, who made a contract for a wheat deal with a German firm which Stalin did not approve, and who—naturally—declined to return to Russia thereafter.

Stalin's solution for such problems is that of the queen in "Alice in Wonderland;" he merely shouts "off with his head!" The queen's orders were infrequently carried out, but Stalin's are if the offender is within reach. Miller-Mallis doesn't happen to be within reach, but his property is, and that is sequestered into the soviet treasury. The law under which this was done was made for the occasion, ex-post facto. It couldn't be done in most countries, but apparently anything can happen in Wonderland.

As a device for pepping up the soviet service abroad this scheme has certain advantages. Soviet agents will presumably hereafter obey orders, or at least will take care to be at a safe distance before they disobey them. They will never dare hold out anything on Stalin, not even a good get-away stake. What, never? Well, hardly ever.

Is Commissar, or whatever his title is, Miller-Mallis bewailing his fate in sackcloth and ashes or is he making the rounds of the Berlin cafes and thumbing his nose at the stuffed club Stalin is shaking in Moscow? One wonders.

NATURE'S NOBLEMAN

Stephen Tyng Mather was not only a native son but the guardian angel of our national parks. He induced millions to develop a passion for the great outdoors and that, of course, meant California. We could well name our biggest mountain and our tallest tree after this departed friend. His name belongs to one of the parks anyhow.

The LEE SIDE O' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

IF LOOKS could kill we would not be writing a colyum today. We would be lying in state, or something like that. For yesterday we showed ourself utterly lacking in gentlemanly instincts, and two perfect ladies did not try to conceal their scorn.

Voices in the Mist

That street car was empty when we boarded it at the end of the line. We had our choice of the forty-eight vacant seats for nonsmokers and the twenty-two seats for smokers. We chose one of the latter and lit a cigar.

The car stopped and two women got on. They had their choice of the forty-eight seats for nonsmokers and twenty of the seats for smokers. But they chose the two immediately in front of us.

We blew out a cloud of smoke. It should have risen above their heads, but it didn't. They seemed to draw it with magnetic force. It caressed them, it enveloped them.

Out of the mist came a voice: "Isn't that horrible!" And as the cloud gradually dispersed and the two heads in front of us reappeared one of them turned, leveled a long, double-barreled look at us and took careful and deadly aim. But the experiment failed. We know now that mere looks never can kill.

The Decline of Chivalry

There was a time when we would, instantly, have stopped smoking, or at least moved to a seat on the other side of the car. But yesterday we didn't do that. We only sat there and pondered. We had been there first, the ladies had chosen to sit within two feet of us when they could have taken seats just as good at least twelve feet away, we had been smoking when they entered and it was a brand new cigar for which we had just paid 10 cents—and, as has been revealed before, we are of Scottish descent.

When we ponder we always smoke rapidly. We honestly tried to blow most of the smoke well above the heads of the indignant ladies. But you know how it is at such times. An unseen devil hidden in an air current catches the smoke and carries it directly where you don't want it to go.

"There aren't any gentlemen any more," said one of the smoke-wreathed heads, with more feeling than we ever heard in a talkie.

"Not riding in street cars, anyway," agreed the other, in a tone which might have been a whisper, but wasn't.

Wouldn't Eavesdrop Anyway

Well, we knew we were no gentleman, but didn't want to make it worse by eavesdropping. We did our best not to hear what was being said in front of us, though some of it was almost thundered at us. We turned our head and looked out the window. But every time we stole a glance forward we saw that the smoke still clung 'round the seat ahead of us as if it had found an air pocket. Or maybe it was doing its best to stop mouths which were saying harsh things about it. But it failed utterly. The chap who asserts that an ancient prejudice has been removed would have lost his faith in that atmosphere.

Yet, since they talked so much about "gentlemen," we knew that the occupants of the seat ahead must be real ladies. Therefore, if they knew they were being overheard they would be pained, we argued, and the politest thing we could do was to just sit there and smoke on as if unconscious of their presence.

Marvelous Endurance

The cigar we were smoking was a Scottish Favorite, the longest we ever saw for 10 cents. The car traveled block after block and mile after mile and it burned on. Yet those ladies were so ladylike that they wouldn't hurt our feelings by getting up and taking other seats, though they continued to discuss the dearth of gentlemen in a very sincere and heartfelt way.

Then, as the car neared the downtown district, the other seats filled, and they couldn't have moved if they had wanted to. But we don't think they wanted to. We think they were enjoying martyrdom too much. They say, too, that self-expression is one of the greatest of human satisfactions, and they certainly were expressing themselves freely. And they were getting a chance to experiment thoroughly to determine the killing powers of looks. They tried both single stares and enfilading fire on us. But they never even made us miss a puff.

Grateful But Mystified

But we don't feel at all grouchy about this. No, indeed. Lord bless them, they've filled a whole colyum for us. And they have brought us one deep and puzzling reflection, to-wit:

There still are many thousands of people in Los Angeles to whom the odor of tobacco is distressing, a fact some of us are inclined to forget; yet we never saw anyone like that who didn't prefer the smokers' seats in the cars to all others. Did you?

IT IS TO LAUGH

Lady orator at the convention of the National Republican Club makes a dramatic plea to the American people to cease laughing at Congress. But how can they help it? Isn't Congress to blame? Folks feel as if they had to laugh at a joke. Ain't that the truth?

THE COLD WAVE

The mercury fell to 57 below zero in Northern Montana the other day. That would make Admiral Byrd's quarters seem like a dry kiln.

THE OVERPRAISED ANT

By James J. Montague

I've been always obliged, since my infantile days,
To listen to wearisome cant
Which sounded the fulsome but undeserved praise
Of the so-called industrious ant.
While the grasshopper, although a master of song
Which from dawn until dark he poured out,
By the dull-witted Aesop was put in the wrong
And denounced as a time-wasting lout.

The ant, I have never been able to find,
Was a creature of any great worth;
He rendered no service to animal kind
By drilling deep holes in the earth.
He had not the beauty the butterfly flaunts
Nor the song of the birds in the trees
And only to serve his own gluttonous wants
He sacrificed comfort and ease.

And now I discover that wholly unearned
Is the praise that this creature has gained—
With soft living solely his mind is concerned
And his industry wholly is feigned.
For the grasshopper gathers from various plants,
By dint of laborious toil,
The honey which later the rascally ants
Remove from his grasp as their spoil

But such is existence upon this grim earth
And shall be forever, I fear.
The creatures addicted to music and mirth
Are viewed with a sardonic sneer,
While those who but study to serve their own need
And look out for their own reputations
Even though they are chiefly impelled by their greed
Get away with the public ovations.

WHAT OTHERS THINK ABOUT IT

THE PROHIBITION REPORT

[New York Times]

Some public documents carry their sting in their tail. The report of the President's Law Enforcement Commission strikes with its head. In the first paragraph certain general principles are laid down, before proceeding to the specific matter of prohibition, which are not in form a condemnation of the Eighteenth Amendment or the Volstead Act, but which, by fair inference, challenge their wisdom in the most forcible manner. The prohibition question, declares the commission, cannot be kept apart from "the views and habits of the American people with respect to private judgment as to statutes and regulations affecting their conduct." The report goes on to assert that violations of law cannot be studied without giving due weight to "the attitude of the people, both generally and in particular localities." The commission proceeds to enumerate the factors which in our history lie behind present-day opposition to the prohibition laws; the resentment of the American pioneer spirit; the Puritan objection to offensive administration; the conception of "natural rights" steadily clung to in our democracy; the tradition of the "right of revolution" long cherished here. Finally, the commission reminds us: "We must not forget the many historical examples of large-scale public disregard of laws in our past." It was said that the commission would not pass upon the merits of the prohibition enactments. But by these utterances in the very opening of its report, it does, by obvious implication, render an adverse verdict upon them.

DEMOCRATIC DREAMS

[New York Times]

It is good Republican politics in the West to fight the Eastern stalwarts in Congress and hamper the program of a regular Republican President. But it is bad politics in the West to bolt the national ticket. Senator Borah's course for twenty years is a perfect example of successful Republican insurgency, for the Senator even supported Mr. Taft in 1912. In 1920 he and Senator Johnson of California went storming about the platform committees, demanding concessions to their position on international affairs and the nomination for Senator Johnson. They got the platform concession—they always do. They were denied the nomination—they always are. So in the campaign they were regulars, as they were in 1924 and 1928. In between, however, they and their Progressive associates gave the usual encouragement to the Democrats by smiting the regulars hip and thigh.

In such times as these come high Democratic hopes and rosy Democratic claims. Imbued with these bright illusions, the Democrats forsake their opportunity to make a party record and form coalitions with the insurgents against the regular Republicans. When election time comes they are promptly deserted by their allies, to be as promptly rejoined when a Republican sits safely in the White House.

WEAPONS FOR CAMPERS

Phoenician Explorers

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Jan. 16.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In issue of 16th inst. of your paper is a short editorial in which you ridicule the claim of writers that inscriptions on rock along Amazon are in Phoenician characters. The Phoenician alphabet of twenty-two letters was perhaps the oldest of all alphabets. The Phoenicians were daring adventurers, the first explorers of their age. Have found inscriptions in the Southwest which I believe are in Phoenician. As in one I found four Greek letters and the Phoenecian was the parent alphabet of the Greek and the Phoenecians in their commerce on Mediterranean were in contact with Greeks, assuredly they acquired a knowledge of both alphabet and language.

There are other indications in this Southwest and Ohio and Missouri valleys indicating that the first colonists came from Western Asia via Persian Gulf. It is my conclusion after observations during last three years that they were Phoenicians and Chaldeans who fled the dominions of Sennacherib of Assyria, leaving Persian Gulf in a fleet of war galleys built for Sennacherib's raid on the Chaldeans of Beth Yakin, who fled his dominions while he, Sennacherib, was besieging Tyre, 701 B. C., and established a Chaldean colony on the southeast shore of Persian Gulf.

I believe that the Phoenician sailors left in charge of that fleet at head of Persian Gulf while Sennacherib engaged in war with Babylon, to suppress revolt, confiscated fleet, picked up remnant of Chaldeans on southeast shores of Persian Gulf, crossed Indian and Pacific and landed on Mexican or Californian shores about 688 B. C.

Therefore, I can believe that the inscriptions along Amazon are Phoenician.

More on San Quentin

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 27.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Now that the hair-raising tales by a former San Quentin inhabitant are concluded, let me suggest that before such articles are published that a little investigation be made as to the veracity of same.

In justice to the officials, permit me to say that I was sent there for overdrawing my own bank account to the extent of $21.90 and spent three years. I arrived there without any money and received none while there. Like all others, I was sent to the mill and after a couple of months, I was given one of the best office positions and enjoyed many privileges and when the author of these articles states that guards may be bribed with tobacco or candy, he knows, or should know, that such is not the case. While there may be occasionally a dishonest guard, I venture to say that for the meager pay they receive, they are an unusually honest lot.

As for the officials, I will say this, that the superintendent under whom I worked came to me the day I left and asked me if the money given to me by the prison official would be enough—if not, he would give me some and I know that he has done that with many another man.

As to fights, there is no more fighting there than one would expect in any city of 4500 people. Of course, there are degenerates which one would expect to find in a place of this kind and should be separated from others, but the overcrowded condition prevents the officials from so doing.

Can Do No Good

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 28.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I happened to read the article written by an ex-prisoner relating to life in San Quentin and also the note of an ex-guard, as well as your own notation asserting your interest in the problem.

However, since I, myself, know life in San Quentin, I also know that such exaggerated articles as these can do no good. They were plainly written for the purpose of self-benefit, directly or indirectly.

While I never was in the "hole" I did work some in the jute mill and while I did not gain weight like the guard, I did retain fairly good health. Later I worked in the turnkey's office for over a year and so had quite an opportunity to get into the inside of things. And I say that if there were cases of frame-up for the hole, they were few and far between.

Of course, this was under the regime of Warden Johnson. It may be different now, but I judge not very materially. As to the petty graft in sobano that refers to the con-bosses—not the guards. The latter would hardly be tempted by such. Among the prisoners, sobano passes for money and the charge of the writer is true, although even that amounts to nothing very important.

EX-CON.

GREAT EXPECTATIONS

Chicago, bent on keeping the fires of home talent burning and anxious to detain her literary chicks in the home roost, is offering, through the Chicago Foundation of Literature, $25,000 in prizes for the best writing of those who live and write in Chicago. It is expected that in this way, the city of lake breezes will build up a literary center that "points with pride" to native talent.

GETTING DISARMED

BY EUGENE BROWN

Letters of a Penurious Nephew to His Prodigal Uncle

Dear Uncle Sam: Maybe it just happens that way, but it seems to me that every man I meet is dead sure that he can get along without another dog-gone battleship. You might think warships were wooden legs the way they go begging.

A man may yell for his three meals a day and full protection for every right he thinks he has, but he doesn't believe that he will have to build an armored cruiser to gain his point.

We have some pinchbecks in our midst who think that all you need for a navy is a sailor shirt and a couple of skiffs. They say that you can already reach your island possessions by radio and that if you tell them how to behave and to blow the whistle in case of need that is all there is to it.

They figure that nobody wants to fight and if the world is unanimous for peace, why keep a dog?

We heard a funny noise at 3 o'clock the other morning and learned that the world was beginning to disarm by radio. We figured that that was where it would begin. And why not? They even lured out King George to talk about it. That was going some. Of course the good King explains hat he lives on an island and has to have a yawl to go ashore occasionally. Otherwise he might be able to get along with a wheelbarrow and a bicycle.

But with water all about his kingdom there would naturally be a lot of talk about boats and ever Ramsay MacDonald sleeps with a life preserver buttoned over his midriff. But, anyhow, George is hot for peace and wants the long, clinging kind. It was wonderful to think that all over the world there were millions listening to the voice of the British King. Usually when a king wants to be heard he pounds on the table with the handle of his sword and tells the caitiffs where to get off. But this George was as bland and gentle as a helping of chocolate creams. Here he was at your pillow speaking as smoothly as waxed paper. No wonder that thousands of us turned over and dropped back into peaceful slumber. What evil could happen when royalty was at your elbow breathing a message of peace and good will?

It's a mighty good sign.

I don't know what instructions you gave the boys you sent across the pond in your name, but there are a lot of us here who are willing to go the limit in the matter of pruning the Navy. We are even ready to beat our spears into pruning hooks. If we have a scow to go fishing with occasionally it will be all right with us. I have no more use for an armored leviathan than I have for a saxophone. To stock up a big ship with ponderous guns for the chance of blowing somebody to kingdom come is lost motion so far as I am concerned.

If I don't like a guy I tell him so by mail and then go 'way and forget him.

It saves a lot of hardware.

Of course I know you have a bevy of brass-buttoned admirals who think the only hope for the country lies in its battle fleet. The nation with the biggest broadside is the cock of the walk. But a peaceful broadcast over the waves of the wireless will go a thousand times farther than a fiery broadside over the waves of the sea. Just putting out a bunch of ships merely to shoot at one another doesn't get anybody anywhere—unless it is into hades.

Let the boys do their trading behind locked doors if they want to. There is such a thing as too much publicity and some of it is as explosive as dynamite. Of course some folks will think that a locked door means a poker game, but what of it? Supposing the bunch does get to playing stud with ships for chips? Keep them in a jackpot until they are ready for the curtain and then mark off the slate. Let 'em go into the big sinking.

As a matter of fact I would rather have a police dog than a battleship this minute.

As long as the boys don't have to walk home it will be all right with us.

So no more at present.

WHERE CAN I LEARN

Red Cross First Aid?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

So important is the knowledge of what to do in emergencies, that the Red Cross sends out instructors to train the American people and to grant senior first-aid certificates to those who complete the course.

The first-aid course to be given at the Banning Evening High School, 1500 North Avalon Boulevard, Wilmington, is free to all, and there is no charge of any kind. Work will include bandaging and treatment for shock, sprains, bruises, burns and scalds, sunstroke suffocation and drowning, poisoning, snake bite and common injuries of the home and playground.

This class meets on Monday and Wednesday evenings and it is necessary to attend virtually every meeting in order to secure a certificate. The new term begins February 3 and the course lasts about six weeks.

New Orleans papers regularly publish lists of articles found on street cars, which owners may identify and redeem, gloves, umbrellas and caps leading the list.

slaps me on the back, as I go drilling up the street, and I don't fall down in my track or jump some twelve or twenty feet. I think, "No doubt it's

LOVELAND MAY LIVE, SAYS WIFE

Mexican Officers Let Body Cross Line at Yuma

Pasadenan's Mate Declares Death Proof Lacking

She Asserts Glasses Differ from Her Husband's

The body of a man found in an irrigation ditch near Cuervos, Mex., was taken to Yuma last night through the Mexican port of Algodones on tentative identification as W. Paul Loveland, a Pasadena architect, missing for nearly a month, while Mrs. Loveland at Pasadena expressed doubt as to the identity.

Held at the border for several hours by Mexican authorities, the body later was released to the United States authorities at Algodones, who, in turn, surrendered it to Sheriff Hunter and Chief of Police Levy of Yuma, who assert they made identification of the body as that of Loveland through two pairs of spectacles and comparison of the teeth with the dental chart of the missing man.

BELIEVES HUSBAND ALIVE

Mrs. Loveland, president of the Pasadena Browning Society, said she was in telephone communication with Sheriff Hunter and that the description of the spectacles found with the body does not check correctly with those worn and carried by Loveland. She said also that the dental chart was not forwarded to Yuma until yesterday. She believes her husband still alive.

Loveland disappeared December 31, last, from Yuma. He sent his wife a postcard from the Arizona town saying he was going on a fishing expedition. No more was heard from him. Attendants at an auto camp said the last time they saw him he was going into Mexico with two unidentified men.

TACKLE IN AUTO

Mrs. Loveland made a private investigation of her husband's disappearance and found his fishing gear and extra clothing in his car at the auto camp. Yesterday two of the missing man's friends announced a $1000 reward for him, dead or alive.

While investigating the possibility of murder, the authorities also considered that Loveland may have gone to the Laguna Dam reservoir near Yuma to fish, where he may have slipped into the water, drowned, was carried through the Laguna gates into the irrigation system and lodged in the Cuervos canal. His friends do not believe he may have taken his life in a fit of despondency.

The delay in bringing the body across the international line was caused when the Mexican authorities had not completed their investigation of the discovery of the body, and found all possible facts on which to base a murder inquiry.

BATTLESHIP DIVISIONS IN PORT AGAIN

Return to Base Follows Successful Completion of Night Gunnery Practice

The battleship divisions were back at anchor yesterday after having concluded their gunnery year by completely successful firing of night battle practice "A" on the Santa Rosa drill grounds. With all other battle fleet units the dreadnaughts will remain in port until the fleet's departure for the Caribbean on February 15, next.

Loading of stores and fuel for the long cruise, which next May will take them to New York before the start home, will occupy a great part of the at anchor period for the next fortnight.

Six battleships, the California, West Virginia, Colorado, Tennessee, New Mexico and Idaho, are now at the base, together with the aircraft carriers Saratoga and Lexington; the train flagship Procyon and a dozen secondary units of the train. The battleship Maryland completed annual overhaul at the Puget Sound Navy Yard yesterday and sailed for the home base. She will rejoin the fleet here on February 5. The dreadnaught Mississippi, also undergoing overhaul at Puget Sound, will not leave the yard until February 15 and will join the fleet at Panama on March 3.

Factory Chiefs Visiting Agents for Chevrolet

Bringing a carload of new factory equipment for exhibition, a large group of Chevrolet Motor Company officials arrived in Los Angeles last night for a series of conferences, beginning today, with more than 600 dealers and salesmen of the Los Angeles territory. The sessions will be held in the Biltmore and the Philharmonic Auditorium.

The opening conclave this morning will be attended by members of the "One Hundred Car Club," an organization of Chevrolet salesmen who sold 100 or more cars during 1929. This afternoon's meeting in the auditorium will be featured by a sound motion picture, depicting the motor-car salesman's problems in serio-comic form.

The visiting party is headed by D. E. Ralston, assistant general sales manager of the company.

K. C. DANCE SLATED

The third monthly dance given by Southern California Chapter, Knights of Columbus, will be held at El Patio Ballroom, February 4, it is announced by Benno M. Brink, president. The dance will be sponsored by the Alhambra Council and Grand Knight William C. Wolf will be host of the evening.

Mexico's Fete for Ortiz Rubio Shown on Screen

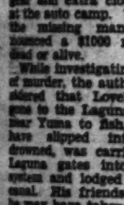
Cheering throngs welcoming President-elect Ortiz Rubio back to Mexico City are shown in the latest issue of the Times-Universal news reel, to be shown at an important group of Southern California theaters. Graham McNamee, talking reporter, describes the news events from all corners of the world shown in this reel.

Thrills in film are presented in subjects showing a mighty blast of new explosives at Centralia, Wash.; a lightning-fast sled race down dangerous steeps in Germany; breath-taking high dives in Florida, and neck-risking stunts by visiting Mexican motorcycle police in Los Angeles.

Novelties shown in this issue of the Times-Universal news reel include Tibetan yak-hide rafts, a new-fangled time-saving garage in New York, a perfect-baby show in Hollywood, and American motorists making an 8000-mile trail in darkest Africa.

SOCIETY TO HEAR HARRIS

Wadsworth Harris, descendant of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, will appear on the program of the New England States Society to be given next Tuesday evening in Veterans' Hall, 246 South Hill street. He will contribute readings and impersonations. The program will be followed by dancing.



Today's Fact
on SINUS TROUBLE

No. 18—The Antrum

THE usual sinuses are cavities in the skull that communicate with the nose. One of the largest sinuses is known among doctors as the Antrum, and is most frequently infested by cold germs.

Many who have frequent colds in the head very rarely suspect antrum trouble. An acute antrum infection is often accompanied by a feeling of stuffiness in the head, dizziness on bending over, neuralgic, throbbing pains, and a sensitiveness to pressure over the cheek bones. In chronic cases trouble, headache is seldom present, and often there is no discharge from the nose; but there is frequently a foul taste, a dryness of the pharynx, and coughing and clearing of mucous from the throat, especially in the early morning.

People with chronic or acute antrum infections will be amazed at the immediate results obtained with SinaSiptec in ridding the nose of the accumulation of germ-laden mucous secretions, and the discharge of pus that often accompanies even a common head cold. SinaSiptec reduces the congestion and inflammation of the mucous membrane, and thus aids in starting free drainage of the infected sinus. Try it today. It's remarkable how many people are reporting immediate relief from the aches and pains in the head, and near the eyes, after using SinaSiptec applied with hot water in a nasal douche. All druggists sell SinaSiptec. (Next article, No. 19, Thursday; "Snuffling: Clogged Air Passages.")

SHADY DEAL CHARGED IN CAFE SALE

Nix Asked to Investigate; Police Officers Accused of Sharing in Transaction

The attention of City Prosecutor Nix yesterday was drawn by the Police Commission to a report made by its investigator, Dwight W. Longuevan, on the complaint of Mrs. E. M. Stewart of 2609 Pasadena avenue, that a cafe had been sold to her husband on misrepresentation and that on its books are the names of many police officers listed as having been given money. The name of a man connected with the Police Commission also was found on the cafe's books, according to Longuevan's report.

The commission asked Nix to investigate and take any action he sees fit.

Mrs. Stewart, according to Longuevan's report, informed him her husband purchased early in 1928 from Pete Dokas the cafe at 221½ West Fourth street, that Dokas had "guaranteed to obtain a dance hall permit from the Police Commission for Stewart" and that his profits were $700 net a month, but that after the purchase Dokas advised Stewart he had made his profits from the sale of liquor and advised Stewart to adopt the same method.

Longuevan said the Stewarts declined to give the necessary information as to names. They plan to take the matter to the District Attorney, he said.

The books are in the hands of some lawyer, unknown to him, according to Longuevan, who said that after the Stewarts had mortgaged their home to pay for the cafe it burned down and now Dokas seeks to foreclose the mortgage.

GEMS AWAIT REDEMPTION BY BERMANS

Brothers Given Ten Days to Recover $10,000 Worth from Pawn Shop

Jacob Berman, also known as Jack Bennett, the "bright boy" of the Julian stock debacle, and his brother Louis are given ten days in which to redeem $10,000 worth of diamonds they pawned to borrow $7100, under a court order entered yesterday by Superior Judge Gould. The stones are being held by the United Loan and Jewelry Company.

The loan was revealed in a suit brought on a complaint for claim and delivery by Attorney Roland T. Kinney for Joseph I. Kurzweil, to whom the Bermans sold their pawn ticket. When Kurzweil went to the pawnshop and offered to pay the $7100 pledge, the pawnbrokers refused to turn the stones over to him, it was asserted.

A settlement of the action in court was agreed upon, after which Judge Gould entered a judgment in favor of the plaintiff in which he is given the diamonds providing he pays the $7100 pledge with interest. Under the order the Bermans are given ten days in which to redeem the property.

Telegraphers' Parley to Draw Record Crowd

Expectations that a record number of delegates and their wives will attend the summer convention of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers in Los Angeles were expressed by B. C. Lewis, of Denver, first vice-president of the telegraphers' organization, on his arrival here yesterday.

Lewis said that more interest is being manifested in the forthcoming Los Angeles gathering, scheduled to take place May 12 to 24, than has been displayed in any of the organization's other meetings. Attendance of at least 1200 persons is anticipated, Lewis said.

Lewis conferred at the Alexandria with Frank J. Ellison of Los Angeles, chairman of arrangements for the convention.

that he believed from his diagnosis that Pantages's sickness is the result of senile changes that come to a person during the sixty-year period.

It developed during the testimony that the sick spells which have attacked Pantages recently were first noticed in October of last year.

Dr. Benjamin Blank, County Jail physician, told of an attack, described as severe, which was suffered by the convicted man last Sunday. He also testified that Pantages has lost four and one-half pounds since about a month ago, and now weighs 114½ pounds.

A previous attempt to obtain freedom on bail was made for Pantages on December 27, last, but failed when Judge Fricke ruled that the convicted attacker of Eunice Pringle, dancer, would be held in jail. The court made an order at that time granting Pantages the privilege of employing his own physicians and specialists to treat him in the jail hospital.

Motion Picture Course to Begin

Milton Sills, motion-picture actor and chairman of the committee on college affairs of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, will lecture at the initial session of a cultural college course in appreciation of the photoplay at the University of Southern California February 5, next, when the spring semester opens.

The course will be in charge of Dr. Karl T. Waugh, dean of the college of letters, arts and sciences, assisted by W. Ray MacDonald.

NOTED TALK-FILM SINGER HOME

Late Train Makes Welcomers Wait

AS IN the time-worn comic situation, the reception committee, scores of friends and a brass band were on hand, but the hero failed to arrive. Lawrence Tibbett, opera singer and overnight sensation as a talking-picture player, duplicated this yesterday in what was to have been his triumphant return to his home city following his debut on the screen.

A snowbound train in Arizona was the cause of his delayed arrival, Tibbett explained, when he stepped off a train at the Southern Pacific station at 12:30 p.m. yesterday, three hours and fifteen minutes late.

Civic officials, executives from Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, the entire Chinese Theater staff, a band from Manual Arts High School which Tibbett attended and scores of his friends were on hand at 9:15 a.m., the time of his scheduled arrival. A train pulled in at that hour, but it wasn't the one Tibbett was on.

When his train finally did arrive, however, he was given a gala reception anyway, for many of his friends, the studio executives and film players returned later to greet him. His wife, Mrs. Grace Tibbett, and their 9-year-old twins were there to greet him.

Tibbett's first picture, "The Rogue Song," recently had its world premiere at the Chinese, following which Louis B. Mayer of M.-G.-M. hurried to New York, where Tibbett affixed his signature to a long-term contract for one picture a year. The singer expressed regret yesterday he was unable to be here for the opening.

He returns here for a stay of a week. He appeared in a concert at Philharmonic Auditorium last night, and will be in Pasadena, Long Beach and surrounding communities. From here he will go to San Francisco, thence back to New York on his concert tour, returning here in March to start his second picture.

Lawrence Tibbett greeted at train by his family, Lawrence Tibbett, Jr., Richard Tibbett and Mrs. Tibbett.

BELL ROCK PLANT VOTE DUE TODAY

City Council Expected to Pass Ordinance, Putting Question Up to Mayor

The City Council this morning will take up the ordinance granting to Alphonso Bell's Los Angeles Mountain Park Company permission to erect and maintain in the Santa Monica Mountains a quarry and rock crushing plant as part of a cement mill scheme. On two occasions ten Councilmen have voted for Bell, and on this basis it is regarded as a foregone conclusion that the ordinance will be passed to Mayor Porter in spite of warnings that the ten restrictions contained in the ordinance are considered ineffective by the City Attorney.

Another flurry was occasioned in the Council yesterday morning when a bitter letter, containing accusations that "campaign funds, strong liquor, high priced dinners and other improper promises and considerations" were used in connection with the Bell permit, was submitted to that body. After some acrimonious discussion, the letter was filed, but not before Councilman Randall, an opponent of the cement scheme, managed to get the gist of the communication into the record.

The letter was written by J. A. Quinn, organizing chairman of the Developers' Association, who has been active in City Hall politics.

"These are accusations that can't be proved," said Councilman Davis, who voted for Bell.

"If I'm involved," said Councilman Williams, a Bell opponent, "I want to know it. Suppose Mr. Quinn is brought in to support his charges."

"There's no use taking up our time with this thing," protested Councilman Holland, a Bell supporter.

Quinn's letter asks for an investigation. He makes two charges other than the use of campaign funds and liquor, these being that several Councilmen are disqualified, having promised Bell their votes in the past, and that Councilman Martin has "practically been acting as an agent for Bell and his associates for many months."

The Bell plan and the objections to it are being discussed nightly over radio KNX by Arthur Weber, president of the Miramar Estates Company. Tonight he will speak from that station from 6 to 6:15 p.m., tomorrow and Saturday nights from 6:10 to 6:25 p.m. and Sunday night from 9 to 9:15 p.m.

WATER BOND BALLOT MAY HAVE RIDER

Hint of Power Projects Follows Parley of Mayor and Commissioners

The conference on proposed water bureau extensions continued yesterday afternoon at the board room of the Department of Water and Power, but no concrete announcements were issued. However, despite the secrecy which cloaked the discussion of expenditures it was learned that the proponents of power development have projected into the situation the proposition of hitching a power rider on the proposed water bonds.

Yesterday's conferees, which included Mayor Porter and members of the Board of Water and Power Commissioners, will confer with the Chamber of Commerce next week. The hope of a definite statement is held out after that session. The discussion is believed to be concerned with the raising of water rates and the submission of a bond issue of between $30,000,000 and $40,000,000 for the purchase of land and water rights in the Owens River Valley and the Mono basin, with the purchase of a dam site in Bouquet Canyon to replace the destroyed St. Francis Dam.

SECT LEADER MAY TESTIFY

Woman Witness for Mrs. Blackburn Asserts Accuser "Expected No Returns from Donations"

Clifford Dabney once said he did not expect any monetary returns for money he had "contributed" to the Divine Order of the Royal Arms of the Great Eleven sect, according to testimony given yesterday in Superior Judge Fricke's court, where Mrs. May Otis Blackburn, head of the sect, is on trial on charges of having defrauded Dabney out of $45,000.

The testimony was given by Mrs. Emily Johnson, a member of the cult, who was on the witness stand the entire day and who will resume her story this morning.

Mrs. Johnson said she, Dabney, the latter's wife and Mrs. Blackburn were present on an occasion when Mrs. Blackburn offered notes for $4000 to several members who had made a number of contributions to the cult.

"I don't expect any monetary returns for my contributions," Mrs. Johnson quoted Dabney as saying. Dabney did take the note offered him, however, according to Mrs. Johnson.

Mrs. Johnson described another occasion when members of the organization were addressed at Ocean Park by Mrs. Blackburn.

"She said, 'Your friends and relatives may ridicule you for belonging to this order, but you will have to make the sacrifices necessary to carry on God's work,'" said the witness.

At that time, Mrs. Johnson continued, Dabney remarked that he was "going to carry on regardless of what the world said."

The State charges Mrs. Blackburn obtained large sums from Dabney by representing to him that the money was to be used to publish the "Sixth Seal," supposed to be a book revealing all the secrets of the universe. The defense is trying to show that Dabney's contributions were made voluntarily by him as a member of the sect.

Defense Attorney Thomas Cochran announced yesterday Mrs. Blackburn may take the witness stand tomorrow in her own defense. It is expected she will be the defense's concluding witness.

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Ferguson is prosecuting.

Of Interest to Women

Society

by JUANA NEAL LEVY

One of the lovely affairs of recent date was that with which Miss Madeline Grace Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Campbell of 713 North Maple Drive, Beverly Hills, entertained about thirty friends last Saturday afternoon, honoring Miss Alice Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arch Anderson of Camden Drive, Beverly Hills, whose engagement to Paul De La Vergne was announced recently.

The house was lovely with decorations of spring flowers and was lighted by pink tapers. Freesias, narcissus and pink tea roses predominated in the decorations.

Assisting the hostess were Miss Dorothy Campbell, Miss Archa Anderson, Miss Eugenia Ellison, Miss Maxine Curtis and Miss Ariel Scholdield. The announcement of Miss Campbell's engagement to John Robert Jordan of Indianapolis, Ind., was made last summer, but the wedding will not be celebrated until some time next summer.

Lovely Affair

Honoring Mrs. Alma Lacer and Mrs. Jessie Weyrich, who are leaving shortly on an extended trip, Mrs. Alice S. Jolley entertained yesterday afternoon with a beautifully appointed luncheon and bridge at the Women's Athletic Club. Spring flowers, ferns and lighted tapers adorned the luncheon table, where covers were arranged for the hostess, honor guests and Mrs. Leland Atherton Irish, Mrs. Althea Gilbert, Mrs. Hascel Freeman, Dr. Vittoria Armstrong, Mrs. Florence O'Reilley, Mrs. Charles Mattison, Miss Charlotte Fry, Miss Grace Stoermer, Mrs. Deane Harris, Mrs. Constance Balfour and Dr. Lillian Grandisason.

Important Event

Among the delightful events planned for the near future will be the charity ball to be given February 12, next, and sponsored by the Los Angeles joint committees of the Native Sons and Daughters of the Golden West. It will take place in the Elks' Temple.

Mrs. Arthur Wright, junior past president of the Native Daughters, California Chapter, is general chairman and is planning many novel features, including dancing by Elise Schuyler-Garrett. Trophies have been secured for awards in waltzes and through the generosity of Mrs. Isabella Grant, the lucky winner of the door prize will be given a round-trip airplane ticket to San Francisco.

The ball is for the purpose of raising funds for the work carried on by these organizations for homeless children, of whom 3600 have been placed in happy homes since the order took up the project.

The committee in charge of the ball includes Mrs. Arthur Wright, general chairman, assisted by Mrs. A. O. Evans, Mrs. Charles W. Decker, Mrs. Isabella Grant and Miss Florence Steineke. Irving Baxter is chairman of the Los Angeles committee, and Mrs. Annie L. Adair, secretary.

Publicity is in charge of Mrs. Grace S. Stoermer, Mrs. Olive Lopez, Mrs. Annie Adair, Miss Lillian Lassiter, Miss Katherine Kuhlman, Mrs. Mary Cope and Mrs. Nellis Kline. Miss Grace Norton is chairman of the ticket committee, assisted by Miss Irene Edan and Miss Florence Steineke. Refreshments will be looked after by Ammen A. Meta and Charles Gassayne. Ira Gee will direct the orchestra furnishing the music for dancing and a colorful grand march will open the ball.

Returning Home

Miss Agnes Murphy is returning home this week after a year and a half of study abroad. She visited many European countries by airplane, including Swansea, South Wales, where her paternal grandmother was born.

Before resuming her studies at Occidental College, Miss Murphy will be the honor guest at many charming affairs planned by her many friends.

Touring the Coast

His Royal Highness Prince Henry XXXIII of Reuss and the Princess, with the former's son and daughter, Marie Louise and Henry II, have been enjoying a most delightful visit to Southern California, coming up from Hotel del Coronado and visiting in Pasadena. From there they will go north, stopping at Santa Barbara, later at the Pebble Beach Lodge, Del Monte, and on to San Francisco before leaving for the East by way of Salt Lake City, thence through the Royal Gorge to Colorado Springs and Denver for a brief stay, then on to Chicago, arriving in New York about March 12. They will sail for Paris in April.

Princess Henry, an American, was the former Mrs. Anson W. Burchard, socially prominent in New York, Palm Beach and Paris, before her marriage last April at her home in Paris. Shortly afterward she and the Prince came to New York, where they have an establishment at 690 Park avenue, in addition to their Paris home and a castle in the eastern part of Germany.

The royal party is on a sightseeing trip of the western country, with which the Princess is familiar. They left New York the 12th inst., going direct to Santa Fe, N. M., where they took the Indian detour trip, then on to the Grand Canyon for a few days, on to Riverside, and motoring to Hotel del Coronado, taking the side trip to Agua Caliente, Tia Juana and visiting all the points of interest in and around San Diego.

Dinner Party

Mrs. Constance Deighton-Simpson of West Pico street entertained with a charmingly appointed dinner party Wednesday evening at the Writers' Club in Hollywood, honoring Miss Helen Freeman of New York, and her friend, Miss Ella Binford of Richmond, Va. Others included were Mrs. Daisy Bjornson, Mrs. Chauncey D. Clark, Miss Mary Read, Mrs. Robert Davis Clarke, Miss Mary Clark, Mr. and Mrs. John Street, J. E. S. McCurdy and Sam Lindauer.

Returns Home

Mrs. Walter Weaver Candy, Jr. (Kate Winnett,) who for the past month has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Percy G. Winnett, at their home in Santa Monica, left last evening for her home in St. Louis.

Dinner Party

Dr. and Mrs. Carl Patton of South Commonwealth avenue were hosts at a beautifully appointed dinner party recently at the Mary Louise, given to honor Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Foss of Boston, and Miss Peebles of Maine, who are stopping over here a few days on their way to Honolulu. The round table was effectively decorated with a profusion of roses and daisies in pastel tones, with stevia and maidenhair fern, candles in the same shades lighting the board, at which were assembled the honor guests, hosts and Mr. and Mrs. Karl Mcnair and Miss Virginia Patton.

VISITOR FROM NEW YORK FETED

Mother Will Give Tea on February 4

Mrs. Barclay Maynard Higginson

AMONG the attractive visitors to the Southland this season is Mrs. Barclay Maynard Higginson of Newburgh, N. Y., who is the house guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Albert Rose at their home in North Arden Drive, Beverly Hills. Mrs. Rose is issuing cards for a tea February 4, honoring her daughter when she will be assisted by Mmes. Harry Irving Dowd, James Jerome Canavan, William R. Crowley, Frederick Hickok, George Eastman, Irene Brush, Charles Le Roy Morfoot, Seth Hart, Warren Smith, Howard Stassforth, John McNaughten, Richard Cox Rush and Miss Gretchen Tremaine.

Mrs. Higginson who is prominent in social circles of the East also is vice-president of the Newburgh Junior League, and during this her first visit in Los Angeles will make several trips with her parents to points of interest including Del Monte, San Francisco and the Yosemite.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

A BREAKFAST AND A TEMPER LOST

Some people find their greatest joy
When they their neighbors can annoy.
—Chatter the Red Squirrel.

Blacky the Crow is black-coated and some people think he is black hearted. But this is not true. Blacky is not nearly as black as he is painted. Those who like him least have to admit that he is smart. Yes, sir, they have to admit that Blacky the Crow is smart. In fact, most of them will agree that there is no smarter person in all the Green Forest than Blacky the Crow.

Now, Blacky the Crow gets up early in the morning. He is a brave enough fellow by daylight, but he is anything but brave after dark. So as soon as it begins to get dark Blacky hides himself away where the big eyes of Hooty the Owl will not find him. Then, just as soon as the black shadows begin to leave the Green Forest in the morning, Blacky is out looking for breakfast and mischief.

Blacky knows all about Chatterer the Red Squirrel. He knows his habits, just as Blacky knows the habits of all the other little people in the Green Forest. When any one of them does anything unusual, Blacky is almost certain to notice it, so he had taken notice of the fact that Chatterer was scampering over to Farmer Brown's very early every morning.

"There must be a reason," said Blacky to himself. "That reason must have something to do with food. Chatterer isn't going over there every morning for nothing. I'll look into this. If Chatterer is getting a breakfast over there, perhaps I can get a breakfast over there."

So Blacky followed Chatterer one morning. Chatterer didn't know he was being followed. If he had noticed Blacky Crow at all he didn't give him any special thought. The only thought in Chatterer's mind was to get over to that corncrib and see if Timmy the Flying Squirrel had left anything for him. He did not notice Blacky the Crow when the latter alighted on the roof of Farmer Brown's barn. Blacky said nothing. His sharp eyes watched Chatterer. He saw Chatterer run across and under Farmer Brown's corncrib. Then he saw Chatterer begin to pick up something and eat it. Blacky simply spread his wings and sailed right down there. Chatterer was so intent on eating corn that he didn't see Blacky until the latter alighted right beside him.

If ever there was a startled squirrel, that one was Chatterer. You see, at first he didn't know whether it was Blacky or one of the Hawk family or one of the Owl family. He didn't wait to find out. He scampered for the nearest tree and dodged around the trunk. Blacky chuckled and began to pick up corn.

When Chatterer peeked around and saw who it was, he lost his temper completely. My, how his tongue flew! He called Blacky "a black robber" and "a black thief" and everything else he could think of. He even ventured halfway back to where Blacky was, all the time scolding as fast as his tongue could go and jerking his tail as only Chatterer can. Blacky didn't pay him the slightest attention and this made Chatterer angrier than ever. Blacky simply went on picking up the corn as fast as he could until the last piece had disappeared. Then he turned to Chatterer. "Caw!" said Blacky. "I'm much obliged to you for showing me a good breakfast, Chatterer. Caw!" Then he spread his wings and flew away.

As for Chatterer, his day was spoiled. He had lost his breakfast and he had lost his temper and for a while it didn't look as if he would get either of them back.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY
Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

LET US STUDY LETTUCE

As we look into the history of lettuce we find that it was a culinary delicacy in the royal Persian kitchen of 2000 years ago. Because of its mild flavor and delicate leaf lettuce was probably one of the oldest of plants to be used as a food by man, and it is at the present time the most widely used of all salad vegetables. Lettuce is mentioned in the literature of China and we find that it was as popular as a vegetable for salads during the glory of Rome as it is in modern America. The Emperor Augustus is said to have been cured of hypochondria by an exclusive diet of lettuce, and this started a vogue for its use in Rome. The Romans prized it so highly that they used to preserve it in oxymel, a Greek word meaning "sour honey," or by a pickling process in a syrup of vinegar and honey. They preserved it in this preparation so they could feast on it both in and out of season, as at that time the cultivation of lettuce had not been perfected as it is today, and was not to be obtained at every season of the year.

Today lettuce is shipped in refrigerated cars in special crates lined with oiled paper so that lettuce may be shipped long distances from warm climates to the metropolitan districts even when it is not obtainable locally.

Lettuce is supposed to have been introduced into England in 1520 and Henry VIII gave a special reward to the gardener who first brought him lettuce and cherries as a tempting combination for the royal palate.

The type of lettuce which we call Romaine is still called cos lettuce in England, named after the Island of Cos, where it was first found, the birthplace of Hippocrates, the father of medicine.

The Spaniards prepare lettuce by chopping it in a wooden bowl which has been rubbed with garlic, after which the lettuce is mixed with oil. This gives a delicate flavoring, but even a small amount of garlic is not advisable from a dietetic standpoint and creates an enormous amount of gas with most people.

The French became very fond of lettuce and worked out complicated culinary rituals for preparing wilted lettuce, a form exceedingly popular in France.

Lettuce has aptly been called a vital vegetable. It is a good addition to the diet on account of its vitamin and high mineral content. It is one of the richest of all alkaline foods, containing large amounts of potash, lime and iron. Lettuce contains vitamine A and B in more than ordinary amounts, and is rich in Vitamin C.

Nearly all salad recipes begin with instructions to wash the head of lettuce well under running water. Most people do not think of a salad without thinking of lettuce. Even in fruit salads, lettuce leaves are usually used to line the plate. Lettuce is also used in sandwiches to make them more moist and cooling. Pliny was right when he observed that lettuce leaves make a cooling and appetizing summer dish, but lettuce should also be used in the winter season to provide a freshness to the diet. Because lettuce contains a small amount of hyoscyamine, it is best not to use too large a quantity at one time, as this substance acts as a hypnotic to the stomach and may delay digestion of other foods. However, small quantities can be used to advantage with any meal. Although most people prefer the inner leaves, it is the outer ones which contain the most valuable elements.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

STEWED CHICKEN WITH OYSTERS

Cut a stewing chicken into pieces for serving. Just barely cover with boiling water, take a small piece of salt pork, and cut in strips, wash, and add to the chicken, two stalks of celery, a branch of parsley, a sliced onion and one sliced carrot, cover and simmer slowly until the chicken is tender, remove to a hot platter, mix together two tablespoonfuls of butter and two tablespoonfuls of flour, strain the broth the chicken was cooked in, stir in the butter and flour, and cook until slightly thickened, then drop in one dozen well drained oysters, cover the pan and cook until the oysters begin to curl, pour the gravy over the chicken, garnish with parsley and serve.

SCALLOPED CABBAGE

Cut a medium-sized cabbage in quarters, cover with boiling water and boil until tender, then chop fine, beat two eggs and add to them one-third of a cupful of melted butter, three tablespoonfuls of cream, a seasoning of salt and paprika, allow to heat slightly, place the cabbage in a baking dish, pour over the der, when cooked add to them two tablespoonfuls of water and sweeten to taste, add one-half teaspoonful of salt, rub through a sieve and add to well-beaten eggs, butter, a baking dish and cover its sides and bottom with fine bread crumbs, place the apple mixture on top of this, cover with another layer of bread crumbs, place in the oven and bake for thirty minutes, turn sauce and bake for thirty minutes in a moderate oven.

FRAIR'S OMELET

Pare and core ten large apples, cut in quarters and cook until tender from the mold, sprinkle with sugar and serve hot.

HAM PATTIES IN ASPIC

Chop as fine as possible enough cold boiled ham to fill two cups, season to taste, add a tablespoonful of Worcestershire sauce, a tablespoonful of finely chopped nut meats and one well-beaten egg, shape into patties, roll in a heavy mayonnaise, then cover with aspic on both sides, place on a bed of lettuce and serve.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

The Easiest Way

The quickest way of draining water from cooked vegetables is to pour them into a wire sieve and give the sieve several shakes over the kitchen sink. All water will drain off and the vegetables may then be buttered and seasoned and placed in a heated vegetable dish for serving.

Will Taste Better

In the winter when we use more canned goods it is well to know that fruits and vegetables that are opened a few hours before using and removed from the cans will taste lots better than those used immediately upon opening.

Keep Free from FAT in excess; it's easy now

Modern science has found that excess fat is largely due to an under-active gland. Starve as you will, exercise as you will, you are bound to fail unless you correct the cause.

That gland largely controls nutrition. When it is weak, too much food goes to fat, too little to fuel and energy. So modern physicians, in treating obesity, supply the gland substance which is scant.

That is the method employed in Marmola prescription tablets, prepared by a famous medical laboratory. People have used them for 22 years—millions of boxes of them. Anybody, in any circle, can see what a change has come. Excess fat is disappearing fast. New youth and beauty, new health and vitality, are conspicuous everywhere.

If you are abnormal in your weight, a certain gland is abnormal. Try Marmola. Feed the factor lacking. Watch the pounds go, the new vitality return. You will be amazed and delighted. But the formula in each box of Marmola will tell you the reason. To people who know, there is no excuse today for obesity. Start to remedy that ill condition now.

Marmola prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 a box. Any druggist who is out will gladly order for you.

THE LADIES DON'T SEEM TO BELIEVE IT!

TIME after time we've told them—and still continue to tell them—one teaspoonful in a basin of water is plenty! That's all that's needed for the finest lingerie. And for the washing machine, one cupful. No more!

But bless them! They're so used to ordinary soaps that they just can't believe so little White King Granulated will go so far. They continue to pour it out as though it weren't the purest condensed soap made. Which is regrettably wasteful.

So once more, ladies, we implore you: Use White King Granulated Soap wisely, and it will serve you well. At your grocer's

PATRIOTIC AIM OF CLUBS TOLD

Women's General Federation President Honored

Field Peace Objective for Allied Organizations

Looking for Far Tomorrows, Declares Mrs. Sippel

BY MYRA NYE

To create a patriotism in the new generation similar to that possessed by their grandmothers is the great aim of the foreign clubs of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, according to Mrs. John F. Sippel, president of the national and international groups of organized womanhood.

Mrs. Sippel was the chief guest and only lecturer at a luncheon with Los Angeles Ebell hostess yesterday when outstanding clubwomen from the Southland were present to do honor to this chief executive of 3,000,000 organized women. Mrs. Sippel will remain in California throughout February.

OTHERS INTRODUCED

Mrs. Alfred Bennett Cooke, president of the hostess organization, served as toastmistress and introduced in addition to the chief honoree, whose subject was "Foreign Clubs in the General Federation," Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, junior past president of the general federation Clubs; Mrs. John C. Urquhart, president during the World War; Mrs. W. W. Green, junior past California president; Mrs. Howard U. Sherwood, president of the Los Angeles District Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. John C. Urquhart president of the law Enforcement League; Mrs. Joseph F. Sartori, president emeritus of the Friday Morning Club and chairman of the biennial board when Mrs. Winter was elected president in Los Angeles in 1924; Mrs. Sarah Bixby Smith, author and president of the Friday Morning Club; Mrs. Charles Henry Thompson, president of the Around-The-World-Club, Mrs. J. J Carter, founder of Hollywood Bowl Mrs. Charles McKelvey, prominent in the State as a club parliamentarian; Mrs. Emmet Wilson, vice-president of California Daughters of the American Revolution; officers and past presidents of the Hostess Club, Mrs. T. J. Fletcher, president of the Iowa Federation ow Women's Clubs; Mrs. Creughton Matthews, president of the Louisiana Federation; Mrs. Homer Miller of the Iowa Federation; Mrs. C. L. Crosby, Wisconsin Federation; Mrs. Guy Bauerman, president Idaho Federation; Mrs. George Mayer, president of the Maine Federation, and C. C. Young, wife of the Governor of California.

WOMEN PRAISED

Mrs. Sippel stated that there are now seventy-two clubs in twenty-seven countries in the general federation and she named Mrs. Robert J. Burdette as the foreign correspondent for them. She stated further that nowhere in her itinerary among clubs of this country has she found so many prominent and active clubwomen as in Southern California.

To promote a great internationalism with world peace as its objective is the work of the allied clubs, Mrs. Sippel said and gave individual instances of clubs in South Africa, Europe and Alaska that indicate a better understanding among nations because of the solidarity of womanhood in the general federation.

BUILDING FOR TOMORROW

"We are aligning the young women of the nations so that there may be here in our own country a revival of the old patriotism of our grandmothers, a loyalty for one's own country while understanding the problems of other countries that shall be an upbuilding not alone for the near tomorrow, but for the far tomorows," said the speaker.

There were fully 500 gathered in the magnificent clubhouse, the most costly and one of the most beautiful in the general federation, to honor the chief of the organization. Mrs. Sherwood particularly congratulated Ebell upon its club home.

Since Mrs. Sherwood was inducted into office, Los Angeles Ebell has not been a member of the State or district federation, although retaining membership in the general.

About the tables was the interesting talk of coming elections for Ebell with general mention by their friends of the names of Mrs. Charles Crail and Mrs. Samuel Cary Dunlap as prospective candidates for the presidency, although no formal announcement has been made or petition signed.

YOUR BABY and MINE

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 8 weeks to 5 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, stye and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

DOES YOUR BABY DEMAND NIBBLES OF FOOD FROM THE TABLE?

"Just this little bit won't hurt" is one of those pleas which, like the straw, breaks the camel's back. And the back in this case is mother's resistance and the straw is a mouthful of food, any food which some insistent adult wants to give to baby.

The mother can't marshall any arguments to refute this statement; she doesn't know positively that baby will be made sick by the spoonful of rich pudding or the taste of chocolate candy, but she does know she doesn't want baby to have it. That should be enough, but seldom is.

Mrs. S. P. E. feels so deeply on this subject that she wishes her next baby might be brought up on a desert island, with medical advice by wireless and no interfering relatives to prevent her carrying it out. She says: "Relatives would grieve sincerely were the little precious darlings harmed, but they would feed them anything on the policy that 'just this little bit won't hurt them!'"

What can the young mother do when faced with this problem?

DEMAND OBSERVANCE OF BABY'S SCHEDULE

We do know it isn't that first little bite which is harmful; the harm comes from the disastrous habit initiated by giving the baby bites of food from the family table. The food itself may be harmless—it may be the same food that baby is eating—but to prevent baby's expecting food which the adults eat his food must always be served on his own little plate and at his own mealtimes. Otherwise we have the unhappy spectacle of some adult holding a cross baby whose loud screams bring him at least a taste of everything he points at, not because it is good for him, but because that way lies peace. Soon baby demands more and more of the highly seasoned, rich, undesirable foods on the table and refuses his own simple, commonsense fare.

Only that first bite will lead to this deplorable stage. Adults must stick together. If Aunt Fay says it is all right to give baby candy or mince pie, mother's refusal to give it to baby is followed by a temper tantrum. "No" must be "no" consistently and, since large amounts of candy and mince pie are definitely harmful for the child, mother has to prevent baby's developing an appetite for them.

Adults give the child forbidden food for just one reason, which is to elevate themselves in the child's favor. This bit of cake or that spoonful of ice cream forge a secure bond between the adult and the child. Most relatives are willing to over-ride all the mother's expressed wishes just to make baby's eyes twinkle. Any mother has a perfect right to deny baby's company to an adult who won't come right out in the open and angle for baby's favors honestly. Forbidden food is a sneaky weapon to use. Baby's good habits, baby's good health and baby's confidence in his mother's good judgment can all be undermined by such tactics. Any mother has a right to be upset by that.

Club to Have Afternoon of Russian Music

An afternoon of Russian music interpreted under direction of its composer will be provided for the public Sunday from 4 to 6 p.m. by the California Art Club in its Barnsdall Park clubhouse. The composer is Anna K. Klutchansky, American composer of Russian themes, and she will introduce interpreters by voice, piano and violin solo and ensemble in the persons of Robert Ullman, Margaret Atchison, Raymond Williams and Manuel Friedman.

The club's salon during February will show the work of member etchers and block-print makers. The exhibition committee, under direction of Henri De Kruif, is selecting the hangings.

The galleries are open to the public from 2 to 5 p.m. every day except Monday. Admission is free on Thursdays.

Half of Fund for Glendora Home Obtained

Half the $600,000 endowment fund for the proposed California Wildwood Retirement Center in Glendora has been obtained, it was announced yesterday by the home's sponsor, Mrs. Katherine Bayer Hensler.

Meanwhile applications for charter memberships and admittance to the home have been increasing daily, Mrs. Hensler said. Many of the applications, it was reported, are from artists, musicians and other celebrities who desire to retire in the home for the balance of their lives.

The buildings have been designed for the setting they will have in the foothills on the estate of the late John B. Coulston, formerly Wildwood ranch. Construction will start as soon as the endowment is complete, Mrs. Hensler stated.

Lunch Planned For Secretary

A luncheon in honor of Frederick Hopkins, executive secretary of the National Tuberculosis Association, will be given today noon at the Alexandria. The luncheon is sponsored by various Southern California tuberculosis associations.

Mr. Hopkins is making a tour of the western States, meeting executives of the State, couty and local tuberculosis associations to discuss problems common to each. The 1930 program of the National Tuberculosis Association, according to Mr. Hopkins, is in the process of being completed, and his tour is to stimulate interest among the affiliated members.

BISHOP ATTACKS EXTREME CREED

Stevens Gives Talk Before Diocesan Convention

New Churches Pointed to as Sign of Prosperity

Use of Radio to Broadcast Services Commended

The attitude of the immoderate modernist who questions everything and the extreme fundamentalist who doubts nothing, was criticised by Bishop William B. Stevens, in his annual address yesterday at St. Paul's Cathedral to 100 clerical and 900 lay delegates to the Los Angeles Diocesan Convention.

"The weakness of many so-called liberals," said Bishop Stevens, "is found in their bland assumption that all conviction should be thrown overboard.

"Wherever foundations are rotten, it is our duty to remove them, but we must beware lest, in our zeal and our quest for the new, we abandon so much that there is nothing left on which to build excepting the shifting sands of a superficial modernity. My charge to the Los Angeles diocese is to build the future on the past."

PROSPERITY CITED

Discussing the increasing prosperity of the local diocese, Bishop Stevens said that within the last year new church buildings have been completed for St. Philip's Church, Los Angeles; Christ Church in Torrance, All Saints' Church, Long Beach; Trinity Church at Murrieta, and St. Matthias Church, Whittier. New edifices now are being erected by Trinity Church Los Angeles; St. James Church, La Jolla, and St. Mary of the Angels Church in Los Angeles.

"Construction of new temples soon will begin at Elsinore, Glassell Park, Pomona, Hollywood and San Clemente," said Bishop Stevens. "New parish houses have been built, or are being constructed by All Saints Church, Pasadena; St. Stephens Church, Beaumont; All Saints Church at Beverly Hills and the Church of the Advent and the Good Shepherd in Los Angeles."

The financial condition of the diocese is sound, according to the report by Bishop Stevens, who also paid tribute to the officials of the various diocesan institutions for their splendid management of the educational and social service work of the diocese. The institutions include the Neighborhood Settlement, County and City Mission Society of San Diego, Church Home for Children, Home for the Aged, Harvard School, Bishop's School for Girls, Glendora Foothills School, Girls' Friendly Lodge and the Good Samaritan Hospital.

"It is of interest to know that, during the year, apart from the work of the Good Hope Hospital Association, the Hospital of the Good Samaritan itself has done $71,518.40 worth of gratituous work," said Bishop Stevens.

RADIO COMMENDED

In a tribute to the memory of the late Bishop Johnson, Bishop Stevens announced that the committee in charge of the fund for the Bishop Johnson Memorial Chapel at Westwood now is at work and that the sum of $200,000 will be required to erect the chapel, about $100,000 to be donated by personal friends of Bishop Johnson and the rest of the amount by the churches.

Commending the churches which have adopted radio, Bishop Stevens said that the inspiring programs broadcast through the ether prove a great boon to hundreds of shut-ins and also awaken in many persons who otherwise might remain indifferent to spiritual things, an interest in religion and the work of the church.

Bishop Stevens closed his address by suggesting that the convention delegates take into consideration the appointment of a suffragan bishop to assist him in his numerous diocesan duties. Stating that while he feels equal to continuing the work alone, Bishop Stevens said that with a suffragan bishop the diocese would be able to take greater advantage of the extraordinary opportunities for service to the churches and to society at large.

The convention program today will include Holy Communion at 7:30 a.m., devotional and business sessions at 9 a.m. and 2 p.m., and a meeting of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew this evening. Sessions of the Girls' Friendly Society and Daughters of the King will feature the program tomorrow.

HUSBAND SAYS WIG DECEIVED

Suit for Annulment Also Charges That Wife Has False Teeth

It took Luiz Franklin six months to find out that the woman he married last June had bald spots, false teeth and was addicted to wearing a wig, it appeared from his suit for annulment of his marriage with Mrs. Rose P. Franklin, on file yesterday.

Franklin said he made his startling discovery regarding his wife's appearance a few days ago, and immediately filed suit, asserting that he had been deceived by false representations. Not only did the defendant wear a wig, it is asserted, but she said she was 55 years of age, when as a matter of fact she was 60. Franklin is 62.

PALESTRINA CHOIR HEARD IN CONCERT

Alma Real, Julius Bierlich And Others Assist in Program

Another milestone was added to the musical progress of this city last evening when the Palestrina Choir of Los Angeles, under the able direction of Thomas Taylor Drill, made its debut in the auditorium of the Catholic Woman's Club. Assisting artists were Alma Real, accompanist, and the Julius Bierlich Trio, Julius Bierlich, violin; Ludwig Foerstel, 'cello; and Lucia Larala, harp.

A group of selections of finely contrasted moods comprised the first part of the beautiful and inspiring program, the choir manifesting from the outset a remarkable control of dynamics, and a quality and volume of tone that would have been well suited to a larger auditorium.

"Autumn Storms" by Edward Greig was very impressive in its interpretation, the choir exhibiting a fine understanding of the musical content of this difficult selection, and lovely and appealing was the Christmas Cradle Song of the fourteenth century, harmonized by Ernest Bodenschatz, which followed. Praiseworthy, too, were the "Ave Verum," by Gounod, and the Elgar selection, "My Love Dwelt in a Northern Land."

The Solemn Mass in A, by Cesar Franck, which closed the program, was enthralling in its beauty, the choir giving a superb rendition to this inspiring selection. In the Kyrie and the Credo the ensemble was especially noteworthy, some beautiful climaxes being attained in the performance.

Much credit is due Burling M. Stump, tenor, for his expressive singing of solo parts in the Panis Angelicus and Agnus Dei. His voice exhibits a smoothness and evenness in tone quality that is especially attractive, and which was particularly suited to the selections of last evening's program.

The singing of Ethelyn Fridley Beyer, soprano, and Arnold P. Schunck, bass, and the performance of the Bierlich Trio, in the renditions of two instrumental selections also drew the admiring plaudits of an appreciative audience.

"Dark Streets" Opens Today at R.K.O. Theater

The R.-K.-O. Theater today inaugurates the policy of presenting four complete vaudeville shows daily in conjunction with the start of Jack Mulhall's talking picture, "Dark Streets." It is an underworld melodrama. Lila Lee furnishes the feminine interest. Mulhall will play a dual role.

Taking the parts of two brothers, enough alike to be mistaken frequently for each other, Mulhall is seen as a cop and as a gangster. Other members of the cast include Aggie Herring, Earl Pingree, Maurice Black, Will Walling and E. H. Calbert. Frank Lloyd directed.

ORGAN CONCERT LISTED

The fourth of a series of Thursday evening organ recitals at St. Vibiana's Cathedral will be given this evening by Dr. H. J. Stewart of San Diego. Dr. Stewart is the municipal organist for the southern city and his program will be interesting.

ACTRESS WRITES SONG

"Loving You the Way I Do," is the title of a song written by Sharon Lynn and soon to be a theme song for a picture in which she will appear.

M.-G.-M. SIGNS FRANK M'GLYNN

Fifi Dorsay, Armand Kaliz Are Cast in "Hell's Belles;" Marceline Day Will Be Benny Rubin's Heroine; Mary Brian to Play Opposite Arlen

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Strange and ironical things do happen in these movies, to be sure.

Take Frank McGlynn for instance. Mr. McGlynn is famous everywhere, especially in New York, for his several seasons of impersonation of the nation's idol, Abraham Lincoln, in John Drinkwater's play, "Abraham Lincoln."

Now Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has signed him for "Good News!" but this isn't really dropping down so far from the sublime to the ridiculous as it may appear at first blush. For McGlynn is to play the role of the college professor in this musical version of college life—a role that is philosophical and sympathetic, and which, we hear, is to be developed even beyond its stage scope.

FIFI DORSAY PLAYS LEAD IN FOX FILM

No sooner had Fifi Dorsay returned from a vaudeville tour, in the course of which she delivered professional kisses at each performance, as she relates with amusing and amused gusto, to two or three admiring males on the front row of seats, than she was put to work by Fox in a new role.

FIFI DORSAY

Miss Dorsay is to play the leading feminine role in "Hell's Belles."

Another important member of the cast was selected yesterday also. He is Armand Kaliz, who is to play a featured role in the same picture. Kaliz also has just returned from a vaudeville tour.

Marceline Day With Tiffany

A new shuffle and deal of players has taken place over at Tiffany studios regarding the cast of Benny Rubin's starring vehicle, "Sunny Skies," according to the announcement of Phil Goldstone.

MARCELINE DAY

Marceline Day is to have the leading feminine role, and Pauline Garon, who had the role of the college widow, has left, probably to undertake a stage role.

That promising young actor, Robert Randolph, will have the juvenile lead, in place of Charles Morton, Morton having been drafted by M.-G.-M. for the juvenile lead in "Good News," which picture is to go into production sooner than had been expected.

William Jason and Val Burton are writing the songs and lyrics for the production.

Mary Brian With Arlen

Just what combination of qualities it is which renders two people particularly charming together on the screen, I leave to psychologists to argue over.

MARY BRIAN

At any rate it appears that Mary Brian and Richard Arlen make up such a combination, and Paramount is recognizing the fact by placing them together in another picture.

Having played together in several films, including "The Light of Western Stars," they are again to be teamed as hero and heroine in "The Border Legion."

"Devil May Care" Plot Goes Enlivening Pace

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

"Devil May Care," a romantic melodrama of Napoleonic times, introduced Ramon Novarro in his first full-fledged talking role last night at the Carthay Circle Theater. The customary grand premiere dignified the arrival of this newest feature of word and song, and drew a somewhat larger crowd of onlookers than usual to behold the arriving stellar procession at another initial showing. The audience was notable and brilliant according to the fashion of Wilshire first evenings.

Applause was bestowed at times during the presentation of the film, both Novarro and Marion Harris of vaudeville fame receiving this tribute, as well as the excellent male chorus. Much pleasure was apparently derived from the exciting phases of the picture, of which there are various, from its comedy and also its tunes.

"Devil May Care" carves no distinctly new pathways in the productions of synchronized pictures—at least as to form, but it is markedly away from the familiar course in its setting and the character of its plot. For Novarro especially it is a departure from anything that he has done recently.

What is most agreeable about it in relation to him is that it takes him back toward the swashbuckling accomplishments of his earlier days, for which he is most favorably remembered. Indeed, the costumery of this production not unvaguely suggests "Scaramouche." Novarro assumes no such ironic mask as in that earlier adventure, but he is superficially, at least, in somewhat the same mood.

NAPOLEONIC DAYS

The locale of the picture is France during Napoleon's exile in Elba and up to and including a portion of the return and the "hundred days." Novarro is an officer in the Napoleonic forces, who is cast into prison for attempting to foment plot for the bringing back of the Emperor. He is doomed to be shot, but by the clever ruse of giving the commands for his execution, and having the firing squad about face he manages his escape.

The comedy of "Devil May Care" eventuates from his subsequent impersonation of a serving man in the chateau of a Countess in Southern France. He is under her protection, as an old friend, and she takes the means of hiding him, a fugitive Bonapartist, from his Royalist pursuers, by disguising him as a groom.

A love theme is liberally dwelt on throughout the plot, and conflict is interspersed with this due to the apparent difference in the social stations of the girl who charms the hero and himself, and also in part to her detestation of all Bonapartists. His first meeting with her is when he invades her boudoir seeking to escape from troops that are hot on his heels. She first engages to save him, and then finding out his affiliation with Napoleon, discovers to one of the pursuers where he is to be found.

"Devil May Care" depends largely on its adventurous situations, and on the quick maneuvering of its central character in his efforts to get himself out of difficult places, for its appeal. Comedy and the love romance serve to carry along when more enlivening exploits are not present, and the music essays to brighten here and there.

There is a certain triviality about the songs, and the ideas they seek to impart that will hardly satisfy the more discerning. It is evident that they attempt to be Frenchified, and of the period. One or two of the numbers, and particularly one love song that Novarro renders, may, however, hit the popular fancy. The love song is the one that he sings to the heroine during a somewhat idyllic love scene in sylvan surroundings.

NOVARRO FACILE

Novarro's voice is light in quality, but eminently pleasing, and he sings his numbers in a naive, though attractive, manner. He is excellent in his emphasis on the humor of the portrayal, and on a certain note of bantering repartee that runs through the role. Much may be foreseen for him if he is cast in characters that afford latitude for this sort of thing. His accent is barely traceable, and may be said to add invitingly rather than otherwise to his qualifications for speaking dialogue.

Dorothy Jordan is both youthful and pleasing. She has a petulant charm in the role that she plays, and warmth as a personality.

Marion Harris does some effective acting in the scenes where she renounces her love for Novarro, without the flamboyancy that so often goes with this sort of thing. John Miljan is capital as the Royalist menace, extracting a note of humor in his portrayal. William Humphrey as Napoleon gives a little more actuality to this role than it generally enjoys. George Davis and Clifford Bruce are others to be commended.

The direction of the action scenes by Sidney Franklin is very effective, and the adaptation of the original play one can say is good, due to the efforts of Richard Schayer, Hans Kraly and Zelda Sears. Herbert Stothart wrote the music, except that used for the Albertina Rasch ballet, which was provided by Dimitri Tiomkin.

On the program with the feature is a short and amusing dog comedy, "College Hounds." The novelty of this type of film, which Jules White and Zion Myers directed, appears still to please greatly. This short comedy was warmly applauded, and was a genuine hit.

Carli Elinor's musical selections are drawn from Slavic sources, and afford unusual opportunity for orchestral display.

SMITH WRITING

Wallace Smith is writing the adaptation, continuity and dialogue for "Smooth as Satin," based on Bayard Veiller's stage play, "Chatterbox." This is the second successive instance in which Smith has been assigned to write for Bebe Daniels, having just recently contributed the same features for "Love Comes Along."

Talented Actresses Enact Roles

Lila Lee and Constance Bennett

Appear to advantage in "The Sacred Flame" and "Son of the Gods," respectively. The former starts tomorrow at Warner Brothers' Hollywood Theater, and the latter with a midnight premiere Saturday night at Warners' Downtown Theater.

NEW FILM ON LOEW'S BILL

George S. Kaufman and Marc Connelly's stage play "Dulcy" comes to the talking screen today at Loew's State with the new title, "Not So Dumb."

The comedy is said to poke fun at that particular youthful, blonde feminine member of many families who has a propensity for talking out of turn. Dumbly and innocently she tries to be helpful, only to mess things up generally by a lack of judgment.

Fanchon and Marco's "Eyes" idea is the stage fare on the new program. Georgie Stoll leads the band.

MODERNS FROLIC IN NEW FILM

"Locked Door" Includes All-Star Cast; to Start Saturday

An interesting item of contemporary life—known as "whoopee" boats—played an important part in "The Locked Door," opening at the United Artists Theater Saturday.

A police raid, with its splashes of riotous confusion and hysteria, and scenes in the locked cabins of the ship are said to be highlights of this picture, directed by George Fitzmaurice.

"The Locked Door," described as a swift-moving drama of present-day life, presents an all-star cast headed by Rod La Rocque, Betty Bronson and the Broadway stage stars William Boyd and Barbara Stanwyck. Norma Talmadge's talking screen debut, "New York Nights," will be seen for the last times Friday.

"Hit the Deck" Will Terminate Successful Run

"Hit the Deck" has entered its sixth and final week at the Orpheum Theater. The picture has already been held over a week longer than was originally intended.

During the successful run of "Hit the Deck," nearly half a million persons have passed through the turnstiles of the theater, according to reports.

Following "Hit the Deck," the First National version of the musical comedy success, "No, No, Nanette" will have its Pacific Coast premiere at the Orpheum Wednesday. The new screen musical will bring forth a new romantic team in Bernice Claire and Alexander Gray, who will be supported by Louise Fazenda, Lucien Littlefield, Bert Roach and Zasu Pitts.

SCREEN MUSICAL STARTS NEW RUN

Marjorie White

"Sunny Side Up," featuring Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell, will begin a popular showing today at the Boulevard Theater. The picture is one of the first original musical comedy romances written directly for the screen and records the singing voices of both Miss Gaynor and Farrell.

Important supporting roles are carried successfully by Marjorie White, El Brendel, Frank Richardson and Sharon Lynn. The entire production has been planned on a spectacular scale, it is said. Fox Movietone News and Slim Martin with his band round out the program.

"Anna Christie" Breaks Previous Theater Record

When Greta Garbo's "Anna Christie" entered its second week at the Criterion Theater statisticians were busily engaged in erasing all previous records of the theater and substituting those achieved by the Eugene O'Neill drama.

Each day during the first week, a new mark for attendance was established for that particular day in the theater's history, and the record for attendance for the first seven days was well above any previous mark for a similar period.

The unprecedented activity at the Criterion, brought about by the talking film debut of Miss Garbo, is denoted by the fact that with 1600 seats, the daily average attendance has been approximately 6000 persons during the seven shows. For the week just ended, it is estimated that 60,000 persons attended.

The Eugene O'Neill drama was directed by Clarence Brown and presents in the cast beside Miss Garbo, Charles Bickford, Marie Dressler and George Marion.

Actress Enacts Original Role at El Capitan

Hallie Manning, who will play her original role of the chorus girl in "Ladies of the Jury" at El Capitan, starting Sunday, has had real experience in her type of part. She is a graduate of Ziegfeld's "Follies" and she has just returned from London, where she enacted the soubrette role in the English production of "Burlesque."

Mary Boland, guest star with the Henry Duffy Players, will have the role of the socially elect Mrs. Livingston Baldwin Crane, who enters a courtroom for the first time when she is impaneled on a jury to try a murder case.

William Lloyd will play Judge Fish and prominent in the cast will be George Farren, Marie Hunt, Barbara Jo Allen, Myra Hubert, Olive Cooper, Mabel Hicks and others.

"JOURNEY'S END" CAST FETED BY ACTRESS

Memories of social hours whiled away in the drawing-rooms of London's Mayfair were revived last night at a testimonial banquet tendered to a group of British actors in a private dining-room at the Jonathan Club by Fern Andra, continental motion-picture actress, now in Hollywood. The affair was in the nature of a reunion planned by Miss Andra to honor members of the cast of "Journey's End," war play now here. Guests at the banquet included Forrester Harvey, Maj. Wellington Briggs, Edwin Ellis, Desmond Roberts, Hugh Willis, Wallace Douglas and Tom McCauley, all members of the cast; Hubert Lugg, Lewis Bench, Mrs. Forrester Harvey, Dr. Maxwell Dixon, Effie Lawrence and Gene O'Hara.

Stella Seager Now Has Chief 'Susanna' Role

Stella Seager last night replaced Carlotta King in the leading role of "Oh, Susanna" at the Mayan. Miss Seager disclosed an attractive personality and voice.

Little is known of the accomplishments of this stage player, for she has spent most of her time abroad, where she made her stage debut and achieved success, particularly in London and Nice. It is possible that Miss Seager will continue in the role of "Susanna" until the completion of the engagement at the Mayan and then travel to San Francisco, where the production will play a limited engagement.

JAPANESE PLAYERS ON WAY SOUTH

Largest Troupe to Visit America Arrives on Taiyo Maru

BY FLOYD J. HEALY

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29. (Exclusive)—The largest group of Japanese stage players ever to visit this country and the second organization in history to test Japanese success in the United States, arrived today aboard the Taiyo Maru, headed by Tokujiro Tsutsui, founder and star of the company and father of the school which brought it into being.

Only an overnight stop is being made. Tsutsui will lead his organization to Los Angeles tomorrow, entraining the company on the Daylight Limited of the Southern Pacific. Between now and February 10, next, the players will become acclimated, and necessary final arrangements made for the initial presentation of their play in Los Angeles, on that date in the Figueroa Playhouse.

A week later they will go to New York and it is understood, although, not definitely said, that the reception in Los Angeles and New York will govern the future itinerary of the group.

Tsutsui's company is brought to America by the Japanese Theater Association, a California organization, which will sponsor American presentations, although the latter will be under the direct supervision of the Theater Guild. Members were met at the pier by Yoshiaki Yoda, president, and George G. Yie, secretary of the Japanese Theater Association, which has headquarters in Los Angeles. They will be in contact with the group while the restaging of Tsutsui's play, a Ken-Geki presentation, known as "Samurai Geisha," is carried on in the south under the active direction of Michio Ito, whose position is the equivalent of the American director.

The first thing to be done, Tsutsui explained in most engaging fashion through Irie as interpreter, is to cut the length of the play. In Japan, where it has attained the distinction of the most popular of all stage depictions, the play consumes six hours. In America, it will be cut to two and one-half hours, and so arranged that the pantomime, interpreted by a sort of master of ceremonies, will be ample to make lines, songs and action intelligible to an American audience despite the absolute lack of the English language.

The Ken-Geki school of Japanese play, it was explained, is one which differs from the old school of Ka-Bu Ki plays only in that swordsmanship has been introduced and much of the triter elements of the Ka-Bu-Ki plays eliminated.

Tsutsui is an excellent fencer, having specialized in it all his life and he interposed it into the old-style drama. Incidentally, the old-style drama, as well as the new, he said, is not strictly drama, but a combination of all the elements of song, dance, and action which have been popular with the Japanese people.

Aaron Hoffman Authors Kolb, Dill Vehicle

Aaron Hoffman, who wrote "Give and Take," the farce-comedy which will bring the noted comedians, Kolb and Dill, to the President starting Sunday, is the author of other successes. He wrote "Welcome Stranger," "Two Blocks Away" and "Friendly Enemies," the last named with Samuel Shipman.

Hoffman penned a series of farce-comedies for Kolb and Dill, among them "Now and Then," "Give and Take" has proved the most popular of the list, it is said. Others in the supporting cast include Anne Cornwall, James Bush, John G. Fee and Harry Hollingsworth.

Million Dollar Plans Several Late Matinees

With the theater-going public evincing a determination to change night into day, Saturday midnight matinees will be a regular feature of the Million Dollar Theater, according to an announcement.

The feature attraction on the screen will be "Sweetie," starring Nancy Carroll and Jack Oakie, who has scored a hit in "Hit the Deck." Helen Kane, Stanley Smith, William Austin, Wallace McDonald, Charles Sellon and Stuart Erwin have important roles in the production.

In conjunction with the showing of "Sweetie," an elaborate stage show will be presented. Noodles Fagan, comedian, will act as master of ceremonies, with Nancy Fair and Pete Sims, and the Four Sailors, Ray Parker, Patsy June, Mildred Jardon and Jack Carlton will contribute to the program.

Theater Starts Second Week of "Love Parade"

The second week of "The Love Parade" opens at the Paramount Theater today. The first seven days of this musical romance comprised one of the most successful weeks in the history of the theater.

The magnetism in the personality of Maurice Chevalier, star of the picture, has captivated local theatergoers, it is said. Jeanette MacDonald, Broadway musical comedy star, also proves one of the main attractions of the film. The other outstanding members of the cast include Lupino Lane, Lillian Roth, Eugene Pallette, Ben Turpin and Lionel Belmore.

Ernst Lubitsch, director, has earned new laurels with his work on this lavish production. A new issue of Paramount Sound News will be seen and heard on the screen.

"SWEETIE" AT RITZ

Jack Oakie, Nancy Carroll and Helen Kane furnish the main interest in Paramount's picture of prep school life at the Ritz Theater, "Sweetie" boasts more than a dozen song hits, including "Sweeter Than Sweet," sung by Nancy Carroll; "Alma Mammy," by Jack Oakie, and "The Prep Step," by Helen Kane.

WITH the formal opening of the ticket sale for the sixth annual gambol of the Catholic Motion-Picture Guild of America yesterday, James Ryan, president, announced the list of patronesses for this year's event.

Among the women who will assist with the show, the proceeds of which will finance the work of the screen guild for the ensuing years, are Mrs. C. E. Sullivan, Mrs. John J. Gain, Mrs. Eddie Mannix, Mrs. James Gleason, Miss Vilma Banky, Miss May McAvoy, Mrs. Leo McCarey, Mrs. Robert McGowan, Miss June Collyer, Mrs. Frank Dolan, Miss Nancy Carroll, Mrs. John Ford, Mrs. Sam Taylor, Mrs. James Dunn, Mrs. Harry A. Bailey, Mrs. Eddie Dowling and Miss Lois Wilson.

The gambol will be given at Philharmonic Auditorium, February 19, next. Johnny Hines is chairman of the committee arranging the show, which will be staged under the supervision of Harry A. Bailey.

Scheinman to Quit as Aide of Prosecutor

Ben J. Scheinman, veteran prosecutor of the District Attorney's office, will resign his position Saturday to enter the general practice of law, according to an announcement made by him yesterday.

Scheinman has been associated with the District Attorney's office for more than five years. He has been head of the complaint department for more than a year and also identified with the homicide and trial departments. It was while in the homicide department that Scheinman tried and convicted Earl J. Clark of the Red Rose murder.

Scheinman expressed regret at severing his association with Dist.-Atty. Fitts, but said that he finds it expedient to enter a broader field of legal activity.

Dist.-Atty. Fitts commended Scheinman for his honesty and loyal service, declaring that his departure will mean a real loss to his office.

Graham Hunt Spurred on By Reward Offer

Spurred on by the announcement last night that Western Air Express will pay a reward to any private searcher locating Pilot Maurice Graham and his mail plane, missing for twenty-one days in the snows north of Las Vegas, Nev., ground crews were to operate today out of several settlements in the mountainous district.

Leeds, Cedar City and Toquerville, Utah, were to be the base for several searching parties, while mountaineers and cowboys scoured the land farther northward toward Salt Lake City.

Pilots Fred W. Kelly and Jimmie James meanwhile are flying again over the country that was at one time searched by nearly forty ships. Yesterday they concentrated on the district between St. George and Pioche, Nev. They are flying in separate planes, each carrying an observer.

BANDITS RENEW WAVE OF CRIME

Nearly $500 Obtained in Night's Hold-ups

Two Negroes Bind and Rob Chinese Restaurateur

Police Fire Shots at Pair Trying to Steal Tire

Under cover of darkness bandits early yesterday resumed their record-breaking activities of last week-end, perpetrating several hold-ups that netted them nearly $500.

Two negroes obtained the largest single amount of plunder, according to police reports. They surprised Louis Wing, a Chinese, in the back room of his restaurant at 2916 Compton avenue, bound and gagged him, robbed the cash drawer of $332 and escaped.

Two negroes also got $96 from Verne Johnson of 3645½ Trinity street, Johnson was approaching his home when the robbers accosted him, representing themselves as policemen. As he halted, they rifled his pockets and fled.

Jack Warner reported he lost $30 to two youthful robbers as he opened his confectionery shop at 1401 North Broadway.

The timely arrival of two policemen prevented theft of an automobile tire in Hollywood, but not without gunfire that startled sleeping neighbors. Officers Casselberry and Elliot were cruising about in the vicinity of Pickford street and Highland avenue, when they observed two men attempting to remove a tire from an automobile registered to T. Grossman of 3715 West First street. As the officers stopped the men leaped into their car and fled, pursued by the police machine. The police fired six shots in an effort to prevent the escape.

Aged Veteran Files Breach of Promise Action

I. R. Hunt, 86 years of age, yesterday sued Mrs. Elizabeth H. Pierpont, 50, for breach of promise to marry, asserting that Mrs. Pierpont not only jilted him, but took a considerable sum of money, a $1500 ring, an automobile and some real estate from him. In the suit, which was filed by Attorney Roy Hampton, Hunt asks the return of his property.

Hunt, a Civil War veteran, first saw Mrs. Pierpont in the lobby of a downtown hotel, he said. She told him he "looked lonesome," and they struck up an acquaintance. Mrs. Pierpont said she liked old men, and a month later, he asserts she became engaged to him.

Restrictions Put on Oil Drilling in Venice Area

Continuing its consideration of the pleas to grant permits to drill for oil in the Venice district, the Board of City Planning Commissioners yesterday fixed upon several restrictions which must be adhered to by the applicants already granted permits. These include the posting of $5000 bond and the completion of the job in seventy-five days.

A number of protests have come in to the commission within the past few days. They are from Lewis Stone, the actor; Frances Marion, scenario writer; George Hill, director; Clifford Horne, investment broker, and others.

TYPEWRITING RECORD BELIEVED SET BY GIRL

What is believed to be a record for Los Angeles for fast and accurate typewriting was made this week by Miss Thelma Stein, 17 years of age, of 3927 Trinity street, at a contest at Woodbury College. Miss Stein, following the contest, was proclaimed champion of the school. She wrote eighty-nine words a minute for fifteen minutes with but a single error and later increased her speed to 101 words a minute for fifteen minutes and did not make a mistake. She was awarded a portable typewriter. Miss Stein also has won several other prizes for her speed in contests.

STEEL MEN MAP EXPANSION

Leaders of Industry in State Lay Plans for Increasing Efficiency and Widening Markets

The executive committee of the iron, steel and allied industries of the California State Chamber of Commerce met in Los Angeles yesterday and completed final plans for the sixth annual conference to be conducted at Del Monte, February 13 to 15.

Reports from the various committee chairmen showed that approximately 100 iron and steel executives of Southern California will be in attendance.

J. E. Webster of Los Angeles, State chairman of the iron and steel groups, said that four definite objectives will be undertaken at the coming conference:

Promotion of simplified practice among the iron and steel groups in California in accordance with the recommendations of the United States Department of Commerce for the purpose of increasing efficiency and reducing costs in production and distribution of iron and steel products.

Fostering the extension of marketing territory for California iron and steel industries in Western States.

Development of markets for domestic products in California territory.

Application of Federal trade practices as an aid to self-government within the different iron and steel groups.

Leaders in the industry from the East and California who will discuss these problems at the conference include:

A. E. Elliott, Pacific Coast Electrical Wholesalers' Association, "Principles of Business Co-operation;" John Austin, president-elect of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, "Extension of Iron and Steel Industry in Southern California;" F. J. Koster, vice-president and chairman of the industrial committee of the State Chamber of Commerce, "California's Progress in Iron and Steel Development;" George L. Eastman, chairman of simplified practice committee, State Chamber of Commerce, "How California's Industry May Benefit in the Application of Simplified Practice;" Charles F. Abbott, American Institute of Steel Construction, New York, "Federal Trade Practices;" Will H. Fiscoer, Southern California Edison Company, "Relationship of Power Industry to the Iron and Steel Industry in California," and an address on general iron and steel activities by A. T. De Forest, vice-president of the United States Steel Products Company, Columbia department.

J. E. Webster will preside and will open the conference with a resume of the State chamber's development work to date in the iron and steel industry.

The State chamber's educational-membership campaign now being conducted in Los Angeles will close this week.

VAST NUMBERS AIDED BY RADIO

Entertainment Only Part of Benefit in Broadcast

Service Scope Adds Import to Congress' Action

KHJ Schedules Exceptional Array of Features

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

A press dispatch recently stated that National Broadcasting Company had taken a stenographic report of the words uttered by King George V of England in the opening of the world naval parley in London.

Do you know that there are hundreds of students of stenography here in Los Angeles who are using radio as an adjunct to their study? Do you realize that hundreds of musicians take their violins, or other musical instruments, or sit at the piano and use radio as an aid in improving technique? Do you know that hundreds of amateur singers, with radio aspirations, sit beside the receiving set and try to follow the crooning notes of a blues singer or an operatic star?

HUNDREDS OF OTHERS

We might continue the questions, bringing out the fact that some wait impatiently for the stock market reports, mostly those who never appear in the local markets because of secretive speculation or physical incapacity. We might mention hundreds, mostly old people, who study radio programs and keep their dials moving in quest of the voice of a little child. We might mention thousands of human beings discouraged, yet hopeful, who are seeking encouragement through radio.

Such is radio and, after all, it only accentuates the vital importance of this God-given channel which now is in the limelight of Congress.

Is it to be a human thing? Will it respond to the hunger of the millions who have receiving sets, or will it become a commercialized, perfunctory agency for the transmission of messages for those who have the money to pay.

Radio can be the melting pot of all religions and creeds, of human tendencies, such as the joy, the grief, the height and depth of human existence, or, it can become merely a common carrier at so much an hour, instead of so much a word, as the telegraph is today.

What it shall become rests entirely with the public, if the public is awakened to the crisis which is at hand.

The foregoing is not written in pessimistic vein, but only with a hope that the true valuation of this channel of public endeavor and uplift will be considered seriously, instead of being allowed to drift into the control of a few who appreciate its ultimate value and power.

FEATURE DIALING

Needless Pain!

Don't be a martyr to unnecessary pain.

Lots of suffering is, indeed, quite needless.

Headaches, for example. They come without warning, but one can always be prepared. Bayer Aspirin tablets bring immediate relief. Keep a bottle at the office. Carry the small tin in your pocket. Then you won't have to hunt a drugstore, or wait till you get home.

And don't think Bayer Aspirin is only good for headaches, sore throats, and colds! Read the proven directions for relieving neuralgic, neuritic, rheumatic, and other aches and pains. Remembering, of course, that the quick comfort from these tablets is not a cure; for any continued pain, see a doctor.

Bayer Aspirin is genuine. Protect yourself by looking for that name. Always the same. Always safe. Never hurts the heart.

HANLON'S EDICT STARTS RUMPUS

Official Order Barring Filipinos Stirs Rift

Hanlon Brands Chairman's Action Ridiculous

Trip from Sacramento to Be Ignored by Clubs

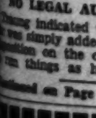
BY PAUL LOWRY

Open warfare broke out yesterday among the three members of the California State Athletic Commission, better known as the boxing commission.

The rift developed over an order sent out from Chairman William Hanlon's office in Sacramento barring Filipinos from future boxing programs.

Commissioner Charles Traung of San Francisco, who has been in this city for the past two days, characterized the order as absurd and entirely unofficial.

"Hanlon acted on his own initiative," said Traung. "Such an act cannot be official because neither Mr. Woods nor myself were consulted in the matter, and there was no meeting of the commission to discuss the situation."



TRAUNG GOES NORTH

Mr. Woods, Los Angeles member of the commission, is in San Francisco at the present time, but Traung said he had talked to him and that Mr. Woods was in harmony with his (Traung's) viewpoint. Traung left last night for San Francisco.

Before departure Traung told Tex Gallery, matchmaker of the Hollywood Legion stadium, he could ignore the order sent by Hanlon to fight clubs in the State and book any Filipinos he cared to on his regular fight card tomorrow night.

Gallery has young Carpentier, a Filipino, boxing in the main event.

Traung said he would have Mr. Woods confirm his order and so instruct his field inspector, Frank Moran, when he talks to Woods in the morning.

Traung was literally "burned up" over the matter, and said Hanlon's action, which apparently was inspired by Filipino trouble that broke out in Stockton, was ridiculous.

"This is a State matter, not a boxing commission affair," he said. "Hanlon had a heluva nerve to send out such a telegram to the boxing clubs. This was a general order. Hanlon has jurisdiction only in matters concerning his Sacramento district.

"I talked with the Governor, and he thought the same way about it I do.

"I will take absolutely no notice of such a silly order in my district.

"I talked to Chief of Police Quinn of San Francisco over the long-distance phone this morning, and he said there was no Filipino trouble in the Bay City.

"Hanlon has made a mountain out of a mole hill."

NO LEGAL AUTHORITY

Traung indicated the Hanlon order was simply added evidence of a growing opinion on the chairman's part of many things as he saw fit and

VON ELM LEADS RANCHO

Los Angeles, Flintridge and Midwick Blanket Foes in Interclub Team Match Debut

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Led by the one and only George (Jix) Von Elm of Detroit, America's second greatest amateur golfer, the Rancho Golf Club placed a powerful, if hetrogeneous, team on the field yesterday to crush California, 7 to 2, in the first round of Southern California's interclub team match championships.

Rancho's team was the sensation of the first round, which saw Los Angeles and Flintridge, last year's winner and runner-up, respectively, make a clean sweep.

Midwick, long the under dog in team matches, also furnished a bright spot by opening its season by blanketing Bel-Air.

It looks like the other clubs might just as well shut up shop as to compete against Rancho this year. Most of the Rancho stars number their handicaps in diminutive figures, and no club in Southern California can muster eighteen men to match 'em.

Von Elm was all that Rancho needed to round out a perfectly balanced team. Among the leading Rancho stars are George Lance

BRUINS TO LEAVE FOR PALO ALTO

Westwood Squad Departs Tonight for Two Games With Stanford

Carrying with them the championship hopes of the Bruin rooters, the U.C.L.A. basketeers will entrain tonight for Palo Alto, where they will meet the Stanford quintet tomorrow and on Saturday nights in the Cardinal gymnasium. Coach Caddy Works is taking fifteen men on the trip north.

Realizing that two victories are essential if they are to maintain their position at the head of the standings of the southern division of the Pacific Coast Conference, the Bruin cagers are bent on repeating and re-repeating their 63-to-30 victory scored over Stanford in the Olympic Auditorium in the first game of the season.

If the Bruins lose one game to Husky Hunt's Redshirts, they will lose the lead. If Southern Califor-

Four Spills Feature Opener of Title Tournament

Carleton Burke Aids Local Team to Cop Honors

BY FRANK ROCHE

Brilliant playing by Eric Pedley, the white knight of west coast polo, who rode as fast as a ninety-mile gale, and four hair-raising spills, the kind that send chills and fever up your spine, featured the opening of the Pacific Coast mallet championships yesterday afternoon at the Midwick Country Club field. Pedley, playing like an enchanted horseman, led Midwick to a 10-to-7 victory over a Cypress Point four in one of the most exciting games in Southern California polo history. It is safe to say that the game produced more thrills than any contest at the Purple club in many years.

It was Pedley and the veteran captain of the Midwick club riders, Carleton Burke, who pulled a victory out of the fire when all seemed lost for Midwick yesterday afternoon. Pedley, giving one of the most brilliant performances of his meteoric career, rose to great heights in leading the Purple four to further competition in the open championship play with his riding. Midwick, off to a bad start, seemed hopelessly outclassed for the first few chukkers of the game. Then Pedley rode into the breach and showed his team-mates the way to victory. Burke played his part by coming through in the pinch like all great players of his stripe scoring the goals that gave Midwick the heart to go on to tournament triumph.

SPECTATORS RISE

It was the riding of Pedley and the terrific spills in the game that brought the spectators to their feet, however, during the hectic contest. Cypress Point had jumped into a one-point lead when the excitement began. Neil McCarthy took a header from his pony for the first fall of the game. He remounted and rode back into action. Then Capt. Walford of the Cypress Pointers went down in what looked like

Rags Wilcox Star of L.A.A.C. Quintet's 56-36 Win

BY BOB RAY

Uncorking a dazzling brand of basketball that left the Hollywood Athletic Club cagers bewildered under a deluge of points the Los Angeles Athletic Club five last night scored a decidedly convincing 56-to-36 triumph over their rivals from the Movie City to take undisputed leadership of the A.A.U. casaba circuit. Some 1500 fans gathered in the Mercury gymnasium and saw the Hollywood quintet, heretofore unbeaten in A.A.U. play, go down

BARRY WORRIED AGAIN

Conference Cage Championship Depends on Result of Trojan-Bear Tilt, Says S.C. Mentor

BY RALPH HUSTON

The life of a basketball coach is no bed of roses. If you don't believe it, ask Sam Barry, the astute hoop mentor of the University of Southern California quintet. Sam was worrying last week in an attempt to spur his athletes to great heights in the U.C.L.A. game. Now he is trying to drive them off a flock of self-reared pinnacles in an effort to get them in the proper frame of mind for the all-important game with the University of California tomorrow night.

Few people believed that the Trojans had a chance against the unbeaten U.C.L.A. quintet, but Barry herded them through to a 2-to-1 victory. Everybody, including the athletes, apparently are confident that the S.C. five has something more than an even chance against California, and the Cardinal and Gold mentor is encountering plenty of difficulty trying to impress them with the ability of the Bear squad.

The Trojans and Bears split even in two games played at Berkeley a few weeks ago, the local quintet winning Friday, but taking a handy licking the following night. Coach

No Agreement for Game With Island Eleven

Despite all statements and evidence to the contrary, the University of Southern California has not scheduled a football game with the University of Hawaii for the 1930 season.

Plans for such a contest have been considered for some time, and tentative negotiations have been started, Gwynn Wilson, graduate manager of the Trojan institution, said yesterday, but to date no contracts have been signed, nor agreements reached.

ELDER WINS MILLS SPRINT SERIES

Notre Dame Speed Demon Victor in 70 and 60-Yard Races and Places Second in 50; Phil Edwards Defeats Conger in 1000-Yard Event in Good Time

NEWARK (N. J.) Jan. 29. (AP)—Speeding over the board floor in near-record time, Jack Elder, Notre Dame speed demon, tonight won the Rupert F. Mills memorial-sprint series in the St. Joseph Catholic Club meet. Elder won the 70 and 60-yard dashes and placed second in the 50-yard sprint.

The Notre Dame star, whose sprint of 95 yards defeated the Army football team last fall, stepped the 70 yards in 7 2-5s. to clinch the series after dropping the 50-yard dash to James Pappas of the Newark Athletic Club and winning the 60-yard dash in 6 2-5s. Elder's times for the 70 and 60-yard sprint were only 2-5 of a second off the world's record.

After bowing to Pappas at the shorter distance, Jack came back to demonstrate his superiority in the last two races. He breasted the tape four feet in front of Pappas in the 60 and led the Newark Athletic Club star six feet in the deciding race at 70 yards. William Bruder of Newark Athletic Club ran third and Sol Furth of New York University fourth in the latter.

MRS. LEONA PRESSLER ENTERS MIDWINTER GOLF TOURNAMENT

Mrs. Leona Pressler, runner-up in the national women's championship, and present California State and Southern California women's champion, will play in the annual midwinter championship over the Los Angeles Country Club next week. Mrs. Pressler announced her entry through Mrs. George M. Midgley, president of the women's auxiliary. Mrs. Pressler held the midwinter championship in 1927 and 1928, but did not defend her crown last year. Mrs. Midgley also announced that there will be defeated eights in each flight.

Los Angeles Tennis Moguls Planning to Build Stadium and Forty-eight New C

SOUTHLAND TO BE NET CENTER

Hope to Build Huge Central Racquet Plant

Southern California Behind Eastern Centers

Need Felt for Additional Sport Facilities

Making plans for one of the finest tennis centers in the United States to be built in Los Angeles, representatives of the most important tennis organizations of the city met last night at the offices of the Playground and Recreation Department in the City Hall to consider methods of putting into effect a huge central tennis plant as the nucleus of a greater era of the sport in Southern California.

A far-reaching project which would give the city a battery of forty-eight cement courts, a great tennis stadium, a community recreation building, and allied recreational facilities, all in one location that would be easily accessible to everyone, was the general plan decided upon at this meeting. Such a move would add more than half again as many courts to the city's present quota of eighty public courts, which includes those at parks, playgrounds and schools.

The great need for additional tennis facilities in Los Angeles was a fact emphasized by all who attended the meeting. Comparing the city with eastern population centers, Supt. George Hjelte of the city Playground and Recreation Department pointed out that the much smaller city of Toledo had 250 public courts or more than three times the number here.

Among those who gathered to discuss plans for the tennis center were: Robert Lorimore, president of the Municipal Tennis Association; Gene Warren, Los Angeles Tennis Club, Dr. Theodore C. Lyster, Tennis Patrons' Association; Simpson Sinsabaugh, president of the Southern California Tennis Association; Robert S. Weaver, president of the Playground and Recreation Commission; George Hjelte, superintendent of the Playground and Recreation Department; D. W. Lott, supervisor of municipal sports in the department; Aubrey Devine, representing Kennedy Ellsworth of the Junior Chamber of Commerce; Perry Lampert, playground and recreation commissioner; Col. Eric Fowler, president Tennis Patrons' Association; Dr. Isaac Jones, member of the Tennis Patrons' Association; Raymond E. Hoyt, superintendent-elect of the Playground and Recreation Department; Charles S. Lamb, secretary of the Playground and Recreation Commission, and Clyde Walker and Robert Phillips of the Yosemite Tennis Club.

Cage Defense is Discussed

BY SOL METZGER

My purpose in showing the various block plays of basketball and, later, in continuing with other movements of attack is to familiarize the spectator with the various fundamentals of offense. They are simple in the extreme.

Eddie McNichol, coach of Penn's team, winner of the eastern intercollegiate title the past two years, tells me there are but six fundamental plays in this game. The differences that make us believe it is filled with various and intricate movements are due to the feints, bluffs and trimmings that coaches add in order to hide the real purpose.

One of the well-established fundamentals on attack is the trailer play. Cornell likes it. No. 1 dribbles the ball up court with No. 2 trailing him at about ten feet. A defensive man rushes No. 1. He immediately pivots and passes to No. 2. No 2 then continues with the dribble.

HOLLYWOOD A.C. FACES MERCURYITES

Meeting for the second time during the season, the Hollywood and L.A.A.C. soccer football clubs tangle at Loyola Field Sunday in the feature game of the day for City League elevens. A win for Hollywood will practically assure the Sheiks of another league championship while an L.A.A.C. victory will give three teams, Hollywood, L.A.A.C. and the Magyars, a chance for the pennant. The two teams met in the first round and the Mercuries won, 4 to 3, after a terrific battle. This is the only game dropped by Hollywood during the entire season.

The first game at Loyola Sunday will bring two more good teams in action when the Magyars battle the Spanish Americans. At the Pasadena Rose Bowl the Scottish Highlanders open against a revamped Richfield line-up while the Pasadena A.C.C. faces the Sons of St. George in the second game.

ORATOWSKI SIGNS FOR RING GO WITH BROCK

Heavy support was assured the top bouts at the Main-street Athletic Club Saturday night with the signing today of Gus Oratowski and Russell Brock, 160-pounders, for the special event. Jack Chavez and Johnny Kern, middleweights, and Joe Pimenthal and Jack (Red) Stephens, featherweights, head the list.

Other bouts include Jack Kay vs. Rudy Mendez, 147 pounds; Carlos Montes vs. Frank Gil, 112 pounds, and Peppy Sanchez vs. Joe Rich, 112 pounds.

an awful spill. He was all right in a few seconds and resumed play, but the worst fall of the game was yet to come.

This spill, which almost caused some of the fair spectators in the stand to faint, came in the sixth chukker, when Capt. Selby McCreery of the Cypress Point team went down under his mare, Firestep, in what seemed to be a sure tragedy. McCreery was pinned under his mount and both horse and rider looked as though they were severely injured. It took several seconds to get McCreery free and the game was held up for almost ten minutes while players and others worked on the man and mount. Firestep had her loin badly twisted and was forced out of the play for the season. McCreery, after a short rest gamely resumed the game.

The last spill of the game came in the seventh chukker, when long-legged Elmer Boeseke was flung over the head of his mount to the turf. Elmer was up before the crowd could get its breath and the action was on again with the fans cheering like madmen.

The game itself was a perfect picture of action. Midwick failed to click for three periods despite the fact that they outrated Cypress Point five goals. The Purple riders were even up with their rivals at the end of the first three chukkers. The score was 4 to 4. Pedley, like a true warrior, came through in the fourth chukker and stole the show, scoring two goals and putting Midwick ahead for the first time of the afternoon.

CLOSE BATTLE

At the start of the second half Pedley, Boeseke, Burke, McCarthy and Company started to click and from that time on, although the battle was a close one, it was evident that the Midwick riders had found themselves and victory was just ahead. Cypress Point scored twice in the fifth while Pedley tallied, thereby keeping the edge for Midwick. Neither side scored in the sixth although the battling was furious. In the seventh Crocker scored, but Boeseke and Bruke came through for Midwick in great fashion with goals. It was Burke's playing that counted in this and the final chukker that assured Midwick of a victory. He was the great back of Midwick fame again.

In the eighth chukker Crocker scored for Cypress Point and it seemed as though they were going to tie Midwick. Then long-legged Elmer Boeseke rode down the field and on a pass from Pedley made a goal. Carleton Burke cinched the thing by scoring for Midwick just before the game ended.

The line-ups:

Midwick		Cypress Point
McCarthy 2	No. 1	Crocker 2
Boeseke 1	No. 2	McCreery 1
Pedley 3	No. 3	Perkins
Burke 2	Back	Walford 4

Payne to Face Eades Tonight

CECIL PAYNE

Cecil Payne, the Kentucky boy who picked on Goldie Hess at the Olympic, and Dud Eades, a Pasadena hope in the lightweight division, will meet tonight in the ten-round main event at the Pasadena arena. It promises to be the biggest night in Pasadena ring history. Payne has been unable to get anybody to meet him at the big clubs since he disposed of Hess. Promoter Cohan is giving Payne a good opponent in Dud Eades. The Pasadena boy may not be as long as some on science but he has enough to protect himself and he is a natural fighter who likes to swap punches every minute.

The six-round semifinal will present Young Peter Jackson, a negro boy who hopes to be another Joe Gans and looks it, against Ad Cadena, the Hollywood favorite. Johnny Previs, featherweight, will try to get his eighth straight knockout at the expense of Jess Vasquez of Ocean Park, in the six-round special event.

The four-round preliminaries will be: Jack Atkins vs. Gerry Schipper, 135 pounds and Joey Rich vs. Peppy Schanes, 112 pounds.

Fair Anita in Turf Triumph

AGUA CALIENTE (Mex.) Jan. 29.—Victorian, favorite and candidate of the Warm stable for the $100,000 added Agua Caliente Handicap, stepped off the cars here this afternoon after shipping from Lexington, Ky. The campaigner arrived in fine condition and will be pointed for the one big stake, with the possibility that he will enter some of the minor engagements prior to it.

Fair Anita, good race mare from the stable of H. Guy Bedwell, accounted for the featured number on the race program this afternoon. Fair Anita was clocked by Shasta Rose, the pacemaker, in the early running and forced to take to the outside, but in the last quarter she came again to take command and win by a length. Shasta Rose held the place and Short Price the show. Time for the six furlongs over the heavy track was 1m. 14 4-5s. Results:

First race, six furlongs—Engineer Day (Mulrooney,) won; Chard (Level,) second; Gallardo (Trivett,) third. Time, 1:15 4-5.

Second race, seven furlongs—Voltmeter (Moran,) won; Bento (Schuttle,) second; High Win (Depeso,) third. Time, 1:31.

Third race, three furlongs—Miss Cheyenne (Moran,) won; J. W. Grant (Lake,) second; Final Reading (McHugh,) third. Time 0:35 3-5.

Fourth race, seven furlongs—Ki Yi (Luthe,) won; Sunny Corn (Moran,) second; Muriel (C. Owen,) third. Time, 1:31 1-5.

Fifth race, seven furlongs—Sambeau (Redding,) won; Fair Bill (O'Brien,) second; George Groom (Greco,) third. Time, 1:28 4-5.

Sixth race, six furlongs—Fair Anita (O'Brien,) won; Shasta Rose (Greco,) second; Short Price (Moran,) third. Time, 1:14 4-5.

Seventh race, one and one sixteenth miles—Billy Basil (Mulrooney,) won; Ted Healy (Warren,) second; Plain Pete (Wolverton,) third. Time, 1:50 3-5.

Injured Stars Out of Races

Fred Merzney and Jim Davis, speed kings who were injured at the American Legion Speedway last Sunday, are not likely to be able to compete in the next event at the oval February 9, it was learned by officials of the track yesterday.

Merzney, who was pinned beneath his car when the mount turned over after hitting the top rail on the south curve, is still confined to the General Hospital. The Denver pilot is past all danger but physicians at first believed he had sustained a fractured skull.

Davis, one of the country's foremost motorcycle riders, is at the California Lutheran Hospital. The rider was thrown from his mount when the motorbike skidded on the far straightaway of the track Sunday. He was leading a five-lap race and, upon being hurled to the ground, he was struck by an oncoming contestant, Ralph Stalnaker.

Davis sustained a broken knee cap. Hospital attendants say there is possibility of internal injuries.

Hollywooders Face Leaders in Ice Clash

The Hollywood Millionaires begin their drive on second place and a chance at the championship play-off tonight when they go after the champion Oakland Sheiks in a California Hockey League match at the Winter Garden Ice Palace.

First and second place teams meet in the league title play-off and it is in this that Hollywood wants to land. A merry tug-of-war should result between Millionaires, Tigers and Oilers.

Manager "Smokey" Harris is anything but downhearted over his team's showing, however, and believes that the Oaks' smoothly running aggregation may run into rough waters tonight before the fighting Millionaires.

Form shown by the Oaks in walloping the Oilers Monday, 2 to 0, promises trouble for Hollywood, however. The same brand of hockey can give Hollywood plenty of uneasy moments, particularly with such high scorers as "Bud" Cook, Eddie Vokes, George Giroux, Russ Miller and Joe Sandercook in fine fettle. All rank among the league's best scorers and figured in the last Oak victory over Hollywood, scored Saturday, 3 to 2, in Oakland.

Standings:

	W.	T.	L.	GF.	GA.	Pts.
Oakland	16	1	3	72	41	34
San Francisco	10	4	6	53	39	24
Los Angeles	9	3	8	60	58	22

BRUIN SQUAD OFF TONIGHT

nia can defeat the California Golden Bears tomorrow night at the Shrine Auditorium, the Trojans will assume the commanding position, while a victory for California will place the Bears and the Bruins in a tie.

The probable starting line-up for U.C.L.A. includes Capt. Larry Wilds and Dick Von Hagen, forwards; Carl Knowles, center, and Frank Lubin and Carl Shy, guards. Shy has recovered sufficiently from his illness that kept him out of the Trojan game to play at least part of each game up north, and his return is expected to materially bolster the Westwood offensive.

Tennis Stars Clash Sunday

Southern Californian tennis enthusiasts who gather next Sunday at Los Feliz and Riverside Drive where play is resumed in the fourth annual Los Angeles open championships, marking the third week of the titular affair, will witness at least six hectic court battles in the fourth round of the men's singles, and the quarterfinal bracket of the women's singles events.

The fans may choose between four pairings which promise considerable fireworks. What looms as a marathon battle is the meeting of Captain-elect Len Dworkin at U.C.L.A. and his team-mate, Elbert Lewis. Both are steady hard-hitting players with services of about equal strength, and whose ground strokes, volleying and smashing are also about on a par. Dworkin is a slight favorite due to a finer tournament record as concerns victories.

Lester Stoefen, the L.A.A.C. representative to furnish the first upset of the 1930 season when he eliminated John Doeg at Midwick recently, will undoubtedly draw a considerable number of the fans present to his court in his match with Richard Lusch, a rapidly rising Hollywood junior, and former Foothiller prep star. Stoefen, with a harder serve, and greater height and range, should emerge the winner but Lusch has the game to upset the Mercury player, and may do so.

Doubles in both divisions will be sandwiched in between the various singles contests, and will entirely wipe out the first bracket in both events. The drawings were made last night at the home of Paul McClish, chairman, the leading combinations being Lester Stoefen and Ned Wheldon, Ellsworth Vines and Ben Gorchakoff, and Arthur Kussman and Jack De Lara.

PACIFIC PLAYS TODAY

of Indiana, Gibson Dunlap, Southern California amateur champion, who played under Riviera's banner last year; Phil Carter, 2 handimap star from the Midwest; Johnny De Paolo and H. K. Bachelder, former lights of the Stockdale Country Club, Bakersfield; Lee Pendergrass, formerly of Wilshire, and Dr. C. K. Manhart, mainstay of the Fox Hills team last year.

California, semifinalist last year in the interclub competition, found itself swamped by sheer power.

The results:

George Von Elm and Harry Atwater (R) defeated Fay Coleman and Guy Hanson (C,) 3 and 2.

Leon Kellar and George Lance (R) defeated J. F. Robinson and Lester Coleman (C,) 2 up.

Gibson Dunlap and Milo Marchetti (R) defeated Cliff Buck and George Shaw (C,) 3 and 1.

Phil Carter and H. K. Bachelder (R) defeated Nick Shaefer and Cappy Slade (C,) 6 and 5.

Frank Dunn and J. M. Feldman (C) defeated Johnny De Paolo and W. W. Beckwith (R,) 3 and 2.

R. K. Waddell and Paul R. Jones (R) defeated Dr. Wallace Dodge and H. F. Walton (C,) 4 and 2.

Lee Pendergrass and L. D. Rankin (R) defeated E. R. Hurst and F. C. Chandler (C,) 5 and 4.

Dr. C. K. Manhart and Cliff Turner (R) defeated D. F. O'Keefe and C. R. Cheney (C,) 3 and 1.

Fred Langdon and Conway Tearle (R) lost to Jack Douglas and Tom Gering (C,) 1 down.

GROUP NO. 2

Midwick, 9; Bel-Air, 8.
Lakeside, 7; San Gabriel, 2.

GROUP NO. 6

Rancho, 7; California, 2.
Hollywood, 5; Brentwood, 4.

GROUP NO. 7

Los Angeles, 9; Annandale, 0.
Flintridge, 9; Wilshire, 0.

Los Angeles, the defending champion, is going to find Flintridge a hard nut to crack this year. Wilshire, with a fine team, was not able to win a single point against last year's runners-up, and although Los Angeles won by a similar margin, Wilshire has a stronger team than Annandale, which was forced to concede 2 points as only fourteen men were available.

The remaining five leagues swing into action over the week-end. Following are the complete results of yesterday's matches:

FLINTRIDGE, 9; WILSHIRE, 0

Jim Reynolds and Bud Yoakum (F.,) defeated Howard Hughes and Norman Macbeth (W.,) 2 and 1.

Joe Hassman and Frank Richardson (F.,) defeated Frank Dellos and Joe Kaufer (W.,) 1 up.

Bill Taverner and Al W. Maine (F.,) defeated Elmer Ralphs and Lewis Baldwin (W.,) 1 up.

Maurr McLaughlin and Paul Reynolds (F.,) defeated E. F. Giffen and George Lockwood (W.,) 5 and 4.

Stan Mitchell and Hunter S. Robbins (F.,) defeated Ward Blackburn and J. A. Crawford (W.,) 1 up, 20th.

Eric Winston and Nate Mears (F.,) defeated George Davis and Sid Ellis (W.,) 2 and 1.

Bill Salisbury and Dick Lockwood (F.,) defeated Walter Ralphs and Walter Allen (W.,) 3 and 2.

Bill Horrell and Harry Collier (F.,) defeated Clarence Bean and Al Wilson (W.,) 3 and 2.

Fred Bernet and Jack Pratt (F.,) defeated Marion Gray and O. W. Butler (W.,) 2 and 1.

HOLLYWOOD, 5; BRENTWOOD, 4

Charles Ward and H. H. James (B.,) defeated A. Bullock Webster and Stan Hughes (H.,) 1 up on 21st hole.

R. Moore and Al Belsenthal (H.,) defeated H. W. Kirby and George Reimers (B.,) 3 and 2.

H. W. Baker and Leo Haughawout (H.,) defeated G. B. Runckle and W. C. Stranahan (B.,) 1 up on 19th hole.

Chet McGinnis and C. A. Herbert (H.,) defeated J. C. Perrin and Daley Bevis (B.,) 2 and 1.

George Hannon and E. E. Arnold (B.,) defeated Matt Corwin and Art Perry (H.,) 2 up.

W. L. Buckley and B. C. Mann (B.,) defeated J. A. Anson and D. A. Simpson (H.,) 2 and 1.

Phil Kauffman and E. E. Fultz (H.,) defeated J. H. Fixte and C. W. Hall (B.,) 3 and 2.

A. A. Lamm and C. E. Pratt (B.,) defeated W. H. Richards and George Twosser (H.,) 2 and 1.

W. S. Moore and R. L. Stevens (H.,) defeated Jim Ross and Dick Young (B.,) 2 up.

MIDWICK, 9; BEL-AIR, 0

E. S. Armstrong and Lieut. K. C. Bequette (M.,) defeated H. W. Campbell and Ward (B.A.,) 3 and 2.

A. Pratt and Capt. Pratt (M.,) defeated George Holstein, Jr., and Frederick C. Porter (B.A.,) 3 and 1.

Ed Muller and Phil Gough (S.G.,) defeated E. H. Browne and F. C. Spaulding (L.,) 1 up.

Rival Boxers End Training for Legion Go

Frankie Campbell and Benny Ross will round out their training today and so far both fighters have displayed plenty of pep and zip in their workouts. Campbell is favorite to win the main event at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium tomorrow night because of his string of knockdowns and the fact that Ross is a stranger to California fight fans.

The edict of the boxing commission that Filipino fighters are ruled out will make a change in the semi-wind-up. Luis Carpentero was matched with Tommy Gardner, but if Filipino fighters are out, then a substitution will be made.

The Campbell-Ross fight may and may not go the limit. Campbell was never in better condition and more confident for a fight than he is for this one. Unless Ross can punch he will have plenty of trouble keeping Campbell from doing some damaging swatting. The San Franciscan is so much like Dempsey that everyone is remarking about the similarity in their style of fighting and personalities that make friends.

Frankie Diaz will be promoted to the semi-wind-up next time out if he beats Bert Lamb in the special. These lightweights are rated good club fighters.

Nifty Gonsales is favored to beat Johnny Spencer in the second preliminary and Mickey McLaughlin is the favorite to win the curtain raiser from Ralph Armando.

Bulldog Five is Favorite

Occidental, 1929 basketball champion of the Southern California Conference, has drawn a bye this week, the fourth of the 1930 race for title honors, and will sit back to await results of the two important circuit pairings which are scheduled for Saturday night, and which involve the two league leaders, Redlands and Pomona.

The Bulldogs, topping the circuit with three victories and not a single defeat, meet Caltech at the latter's Pasadena gym in what is virtually a set-up for the visitors. Pomona, tied with Redlands for the circuit championship, has won two straight, and has yet to taste defeat, and this week faces the Whittier Poets.

While not conceding the title to Redlands, comparative scores indicate the greater strength of the Bulldogs. The three-game winners have toppled Oxy, defending champions, and the La Verne five twice, while Pomona nosed out Caltech by a margin of but eight digits, and San Diego State, a weak sister in the race, by only 2 points. Standings:

The standings to date are:

Team—	W.	L.	P.c.
Redlands	3	0	1.000
Pomona	2	0	1.000
La Verne	2	2	.500
San Diego	1	1	.500
Occidental	1	2	.333
Whittier	0	1	.000
Caltech	0	3	.000

Service Squad Plays Tonight

Hector Proulx's Van Fleet-Durzee ice hockey team, which on paper looks like the strongest outfit in the Southern California Senior League, will try to hit its stride tonight at the Palais De Glace rink. Dave Patrick's powerful Arrowhead Valley Club will provide the opposition and if the Van Fleets perform up to par, there should be plenty of excitement for the fans.

From the goalie to the forward line, Hector Proulx's Service puckesters show evidence of strength. In Ted Irland they have the best-looking young goalie in the Southland, according to critics. At defense are Tom Howard and Val Richards, two husky and smart stick handlers, while in the forward line are such fast-skating and straight-shooting players as Gene Proulx, Frank Crapper, and Hec Proulx.

FENCERS TO MINGLE

Junior swordsmen of the Southland will be assembled at the Hollywood Athletic Club tomorrow night in the Southern California junior dueling sword championship tournament to be held under sponsorship of the Amateur Fencers League of America. Some 30 of the leading junior fencers of this section are expected to compete.

Keep Eyes on Spot in Back of Golf Ball

BY SOL METZGER

When Harrison R. Johnston exploded his ball from the wet sands of Pebble Beach to the eighteenth green to halve that hole with Dr. Willing in the morning round of the finals of the 1929 United States amateur golf championship, the golf world knew it was about to greet a new champion.

How does Jimmy Johnston play this shot? Just about as Jones does. Open stance with feet imbedded and eyes on spot on surface of sand back of the ball where he intends driving in his open-faced niblick. Sure, he grips his club firmly. If not he'd lose control of it as he attempted forcing it through the sand. Be sure to do the same for this shot.

Sol Metzger has prepared a complete analysis of the pivot with illustrations which will aid any golfer. He will gladly send it to any reader requesting it. Inclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

TROJAN COACH WORRIED AGAIN

Nibs Price has won five out of six league championships, and the Bears can never be counted out until the last basket is hung up.

DECIDING GAME

Barry and the rest of the Trojan mentors believe that the Bear game has more bearing on the conference race than is apparent. At present, U.C.L.A. heads the league with two victories and one defeat. The Trojans are second, with four victories and two losses, followed by the Bears, with an even .500 record, and Stanford is last.

The Trojans have one game to play against California, one against Stanford, and two against U.C.L.A. On the other hand the Bruins must face S.C., Stanford and California twice each, which gives the S.C. five considerable advantage in their respective remaining schedules.

The Bears have one with the Trojans, two with Stanford and two with U.C.L.A. The loser in tomorrow night's game drops definitely out of the running for the title, unless some miracle occurs, while the winner will go on to fight it out with the Bruins for the league crown.

If the Trojans win, their schedule gives them the edge over the Bruins, as pointed out before. If the Bears win, they, too, will have it over Caddy Works's squad, as they will have finished with Barry's strong quintet, while the Bruins will still have to face the Trojans twice.

All of which, as Barry sagely points out, really puts the championship of the southern division of the conference more or less squarely on the result of tomorrow night's encounter.

PIERCE BACK

As another indication of his problems, Barry is still worrying about his athletes. Last week it was because so many of them were injured, and this week it is because he has too many of 'em. Bill Pierce, who didn't play against U.C.L.A., is ready to perform again, but Jess Mortensen, who turned in a great game in his place despite a bad shoulder, can hardly be displaced.

Barry has practically decided to start the same line-up that performed against the Bruins. This includes Capt. Johnny Lehners and "Moose" Caldwell at guards, Frank Smith at center, and Jess Mortensen and Jack Gardner at forwards. Pierce will be used as a substitute for either Smith or Gardner.

SWIM STARS OUT TO SET NEW MARKS

Pair of World Records May Fall in L.A.A.C. Meet Tomorrow Night

Leading swimmers and divers of Southern California are in great shape for the opening of the 1930 indoor swimming season with a gala carnival at the Los Angeles Athletic Club plunge tomorrow night. The stars took a heavy workout at the Ambassador plunge yesterday afternoon and today will taper off with a light drill at the Mercury tank.

The featured performers, "Buster" Crabbe, Josephine McKim and Helen Madison, are all in top form after steady work and all set for their assault upon existing world records. It developed yesterday that Crabbe will have some real competition when he goes after Johnny Weissmuller's 500-yard record of 5m. 47s. Coach Cady gave Herb Barthels, the new L.A.A.C. middle-distance prospect, a secret workout and, although he wouldn't disclose the time, Cady admitted that the Honolulu boy will have to keep paddling straight ahead to win. Barthels will be given a slight handicap and the race should be close.

Josephine McKim and Helen Madison, the latter a sensational schoolgirl paddler from Seattle, are ready for their attempt at Martha Norelius's world mark of 2m. 40 3-5s. for the 220-yard swim. Miss Madison will also appear in a special 100-yard dash against Olive Hatch of the L.A.A.C., now one of America's leading sprint swimmers in the feminine division.

The men's handicap 100-yard dash will bring out Wes Kimball, the Hollywood A.C. fish, and Southern California A.A.U. champion.

HAWAII NOT ON TROY SCHEDULE

Hawaiian team, has been in town for several days, and departed last night without having done anything about the matter. The contest, if it is arranged, will be played here November 15, the Saturday following the California game.

Nine games already have been definitely carded by the Trojans, Wilson announced yesterday, the tentative arrangements with the Utah Aggies, and with Denver, having been successfully completed. There are six conference tilts on the schedule, two with Rocky Mountain teams, and the anual classic with Notre Dame, which will be played in the Coliseum this year.

An interesting angle to the Hawaiian game is that the island school definitely hopes to be a regular member of the Pacific Coast Conference in the not-too-distant future. The islanders are limited to games with the Town Club and with service teams in their own back yard, but make frequent journeys to the mainland. Last year Kham's eleven held a fairly strong Oregon team to a 7-to-0 victory at Portland, but returned home somewhat bruised and battered to succumb to Washington State about 27 to 0.

The isladers point out that the age of dirigible travel is not far off, and that the trip by air could be made to be islands in thirty-six hours or less. They confidently believe that such a service between the islands and the mainland will be established before many years, and that they can travel easily, quickly and safely to the mainland for games. Meanwhile, they are constantly taking on stiffer competition, and doing as well as could be expected.

MUIR BABES WIN

Coach Al Walton's Muir Tech lightweights walloped the El Monte babes, 46-15, yesterday afternoon in a practice basketball game on the Terriors' court. Salsman and Bison led the Tech scoring with 16 and 15 points, respectively.

Dawson Leads San Antonio Golf Tourney

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Jan. 29. (AP)—Johnny Dawson, Chicago amateur, shot a 75 over the Willow Springs course here today to lead a field of more than 100 amateur golfers in a qualifying round for Thursday's amateur - professional eighteen-hole event, preliminary to the ninth annual Texas open tournament.

Rain last night soaked the course and made scoring difficult over the par 71 layout. Dawson had a 39 going out, but tightened up to come in with a 36. He received a gold medal for his efforts.

While several notables, including Gene Sarazen, winner of the Agua Caliente tournament; Walter Hagen, MacDonald Smith, Leo Diegel and Johnny Farrell, have not signed up for the local meet, the field will be a strong one. The $10,000 first prize at Agua Caliente took some of the polish off the Texas open, but $1500, which will accrue to the winner here, still is considered important money.

Among those engaged in practice tours of the Blackenridge course today were Wild Bill Mehlhorn, New York, winner in 1928 and 1929; Horton Smith, of Joplin; Denny Shute, Columbus, O., winner of the Los Angeles open; Bobby Cruickshank, Purchase, N. Y., winner of the 1927 open; Al Espinosa, Chicago; Joe Turnesa of New York and a raft of other greats and near greats.

Edwards sped around the boards in the good time of 2:14 4-5 after being clocked at 64s. flat for the first quarter. Conger, lacking his usual finishing stamina, just managed to save second from D. G. Balke of the Boston Athletic Association. Gene Venzke of the Swedish-American Athletic Club of New York trailed in fourth place.

Fred Sturdy, successor to Sabin Carr as Yale's greatest pole vaulter, won the invitation-pole-vault event with a leap of 13ft. 4in. Barney Berlinger, University of Pennsylvania's all-round athlete, tied with Victor W. Pickard, former Pittsburgh ace, for second at 13 ft.

Gus Moore, University of Pittsburgh runner and holder of the national A. A. U. cross -country championship, romped away with the mile handicap. Starting from the scratch, Moore lapped the field at the halfway point and then went on to win easily in the good time of 4:23 3-5. Frederick C. Titzell of the West Side Y. M. C. A., New York, finished second.

Lone European in Net Classic

NEW YORK, Jan. 29. (AP)—Sixty-nine Americans and a solitary foreigner will compete for the national indoor tennis championship in the annual tournament beginning Saturday. The lone invader will be Udo Zaenglein of Wurzburg, Germany.

With Jean Borotra of Paris, the present champion, unable to leave his business affairs in France to defend the title, Francis T. Hunter of New Rochelle, N. Y., runner-up last year, was placed at the top of the chosen eight.

The others in order were J. Gilbert Hall of South Orange, N. J., former Canadian indoor champion; Julius Seligson, Lehigh's erstwhile intercollegiate titleholder; Herbert L. Bowman, New York veteran; Harris Coggeshall, Harvard student from Des Moines, Iowa; Eugene McAuliffe, New York, former Fordham player; Perrine Rockafellow, New York, once of Colgate; and Merritt Cutler, New York.

CUNNINGHAM STOPS PELZ IN BEACH GO

Pat Cunningham won on a technical knockout over Max Pelz in the eighth round of the main event at Ocean Park last night. George Mullins stopped Joe Parra in the first round of the semi-wind-up. Jack Landman defeated Casey Reed over the four-round route. Melvin Bobo beat Frankie Abendino in four rounds. Ray Salisbury and Eagle Thomas battled to a draw in the opener.

BAER KAYOES ABBOTT

OAKLAND, Jan. 29. The Livermore boxer finished off his opponent with a left hook to the body after the bell saved Abbott from a knockout in the fifth round.

GREENBERG STOPPED

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29. (AP)—Johnny Lamar, veteran San Francisco lightweight, stopped Charley Greenberg, Los Angeles, in the ninth round of their ten-round bout at National Hall here tonight. The bout was stopped and Lamar's hand raised after Greenberg was staggering helplessly around the ring following two knockdowns.

EDDIE MACK TO TRAIN IN NORTH

Makes Trip to San Francisco to Help Murdock

Eddie Mack will do part of his training for the Joey Sangor bout at the Olympic Tuesday night in San Francisco. He leaves this morning by plane for the north and will work out this afternoon there.

The purpose of his flight north is to aid Eddie Murdock, stablemate, to put on finishing touches for a bout with Frankie Stetson.

Without the means of aviation Mack would lose a lot of time and would hardly be able to break into a training for an important fight. He will box this afternoon and Friday, coming back by airplane Saturday morning in time to take his usual gymnasium work at the Manhattan here.

"I'm a fatalist so far as accidents are concerned," says Mack. "Flying isn't any more dangerous than dodging automobiles on any street crossing."

Sangor boxed at the Main-street gymnasium yesterday and appeared to be in excellent shape. He will probably be an even-money bet against Mack.

MERCURY FIVE WALLOPS H.A.C.

before the brilliant offense of Coach Forrest Twogood's L.A.A.C. outfit.

The Mercuries, lanky Rags Wilcox especially, sifted through the Hollywood defense at will and turned what was expected to be a hard-fought struggle into a rout. Wilcox, the loose-jointed L.A.A.C. center, personally ran up a total of 24 points and during his scoring activities found time enough to thrill the gathering with a flock of plain and mostly fancy spills on the hardwood court. Wilcox, naturally, was high-point man of the fray but he received a lot of scoring help from Nip McHose, who flipped in six goals during his spare moments. Hayden and DeMers also played bang-up defensive games, but for that matter the whole Mercury team was functioning in almost faultless fashion last night.

Chuck Kearney, Hollywood's demon casaba wafter, spent so much of the evening following Wilcox that he was held to 11 points, the same number as registered by McCormick, his team-mate.

The Mercuries had run up a 27-18 lead at the half-way point but they renewed their activities to such a marked degree in the second period that they had gained a 42-13 margin before the H.A.C. squad could collect a point. That spoiled the game as far as excitement was concerned, from then on it merely being a question of waiting until the gun boomed. The line-up:

without legal authority of the commission as a whole.

The San Francisco man also pointed to the $10,000 Walker forfeit money which the Illinois Boxing Commission asked the return of when the middleweight champion failed to defend his title here within a specified time.

Traung says he and Woods both wired Hanlon about the disposition of the money and asked for a meeting, but that Hanlon ignored both of them.

In the meantime Jack Kearns secured an injunction against the removal of the money to Illinois, and a member of that State's boxing commission is now on the way to settle the issue.

The money was awarded to the Shrine Hospital in the north by the Illinois body, but cannot be turned over until the Kearns injunction is dissolved.

COMMISSION EXPIRES

Hanlon's term as commissioner expired December 31, but Gov. Young has not yet seen fit to appoint a man in his place, and Hanlon continues to officiate.

It is anticipated that the Governor will appoint a man from this city in Hanlon's place, and Dr. Harry Martin, a Legionnaire, for weeks has had the inside track.

Just what is holding up the appointment is not known.

"The commission does not function now," said Traung as his parting shot last night. "It is high time the Governor took cognizance of the situation."

Both Woods, because he resides most of the time in San Francisco now, and Traung, have offered to resign their berths, but the Governor has turned a deaf ear to their offers.

The boxing commission prospered under their administration, and apparently the Governor will see fit to retain them and appoint a representative from this district.

GILMORE LIONS UPSET BEARS IN WILD GAME

The Gilmore Lions upset the league-leading Sunfreze Bears last night, 4-2, in a Southern California amateur ice hockey game played at the Winter Garden Ice Palace. The Bears, weakened by the loss of Woody Woodley, the loop's leading scorer, failed to keep up the hot pace set by the Lions. After leading 2-1 at the end of the first period, the Bears couldn't find the Lions' goal in the remaining two sessions.

FRENCH LINE'S PROGRAM TOLD

Aims Revealed at Luncheon on Liner Oregon

Official Addresses Industry and Civic Leaders

Development of Pacific Area Trade Declared Goal

BY WALDO DRAKE

The French Line's plans for closely linking California in a trade alliance with France were told yesterday by Maurice Tillier, director-general of the French Line, to forty-eight of the Southland's industrial and civic leaders at a luncheon on board the line's new motorship Oregon. Harry Scott, president of the General Steamship Corporation, coast agent for the Compagnie Generale Transatlantique (French Line,) who presided at the luncheon, in turn promised M. Tillier the earnest co-operation of the entire Pacific Slope.

"France has added 1,000,000 tons of new ships to her merchant marine since 1914," said M. Tillier, "and of all new fields for our marine enterprises we see in the Pacific the greatest future. This new Oregon, as the pathfinder of our five-ship combination passenger and cargo service, is the first of twelve new ships we are placing in France-Pacific Coast trade this year alone. Every new trade development out here will find the French Line ready to grasp the opportunity."

Others who talked included Pierre de Malglaive, French Line head in North America; Rear-Admiral T. P. Magruder, commanding the United States Fleet Base Force here; Dr. Rufus Von KleinSmid, president of the University of Southern California, and A. G. Arnoll, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

Others present at the luncheon included Capt. H. H. Birkholm, Southern California manager of the General Steamship Corporation; Drew Chidester, vice-president of the General Steamship Corporation; Capt. Bartolome Aillet, French Line chief for the Pacific Coast; Maj. H. A. Spencer, United States Public Health Service head at the port; Clarence Matson, of the Chamber of Commerce; Paul Chandler, manager of the Marine Exchange; Capt. Jules Duchesne, commanding the Oregon; Capt. Francois Philippe, second in command; C. A. Page, local publisher; R. V. Windquist, of the General Steamship Corporation; Howard Adams, local French Line passenger manager; Walter A. Carr and C. G. Gatley, United States Immigration Service; Henri Didot, French Consul; Louis Sentous, former French Consul; P. M. Andreani and Emerson Spear, Los Angeles Harbor Commissioners; Jay G. Starr, port traffic manager; Eugene A. Mills, shipping executive; T. Talabot, French vice-consul at San Diego; Charles Cook, Chamber of Commerce; George Bierman, general passenger agent of the Union Pacific; R. B. Robinson, assistant traffic manager of the Union Pacific; T. J. Day, traffic manager of the Pacific Electric; the following men prominent in local business: L. N. Brunswig, P. J. Picherle, L. J. Christopher, F. F. Pellissier, and Sam Hornstein, and Louis Schwaebe, Collector of Customs.

Last night the Oregon wound up her two-day round of festivities with a dinner in honor of local shipping executives. She sailed at midnight for San Francisco, with M. Tillier, M de Malglaive and their party aboard. She will arrive at the Bay City tomorrow at daylight.

LUCKENBACH LINE'S SCHEDULE BOOSTED

Ten-day frequency, with a fleet of eight steamers, for the Luckenbach Line's Gulf-Pacific Coast freight service was announced yesterday by Edgar F. Luckenbach in a telegram from New Orleans to the line's Los Angeles headquarters. The present five-ship, fortnightly service, will be augmented by addition of the steamers Matthew Luckenbach, the ex-Shipping Board steamer Deerfield; the Susan B. Luckenbach, ex-Shipping Board steamer Neponset, and by the Jacob Luckenbach, the former Shipping Board steamer Radnor, just purchased.

The increased service will give the Luckenbach Line a distinct advantage over all other lines now operating in Gulf-Pacific trade. The move is being made as a direct result of the withdrawal from the trade of the Transmarine Line. The three new ships will be inducted into the schedule as commitments of the present five Gulf steamers are completed.

The Board of Harbor Commissioners at yesterday's meeting laid plans for a discussion, at the San Pedro branch City Hall, on February 5, of methods of meeting the fresh and salt-water shortage of the port fish canneries. H. A. Van Norman, consulting engineer of the Bureau of Power and Light, will be present to outline that bureau's suggestions, while a brief, filed yesterday by the Chamber of Commerce, will also be read as detailing actual needs of the situation. Walter B. Allen, president of the Harbor Board, yesterday stressed the fact that the Harbor Department has no immediate jurisdiction in water supply matters, but is anxious to aid any plan which would provide sufficient water for cleaning and sluicing work at the canneries. Representatives of State and municipal health agencies, the canners and Chamber of Commerce investigators will also be present at the hearing.

Lasso's Honolulu liner Diamond Head arrived yesterday from the islands with passengers, mail, package freight and a big molasses cargo. Loading out again, she will sail for Hawaii next Saturday in company with her sister ship in service, the City of Honolulu. The City of Honolulu will make a record turn-around, arriving from the islands tomorrow morning and sailing again Saturday noon.

MALEM

THE SON OF TARZAN

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

After selling Meriem, the native chief demanded of the girl's new masters that they leave his village next morning early. He told them of her savage mate who would surely attempt her rescue. The Swedes needed no urging to hasten them on toward the Sheik's country. Already they were gloating over the gold they would receive from him in exchange for the lovely prize luck had thrown across their path. Two days they marched.

During this hard trek across the African plains, Malbihn feasted his eyes upon the face and figure of the beautiful captive. His desire to possess her for himself became even greater than his greed for the ransom money. The fourth evening they pitched camp. Meriem began to give up hope. Why did not Korak come to her? She had been left alone until near midnight when Malbihn entered her tent. The look of a beast was on his face.

Like a trapped creature Meriem shrank from the approaching man. She saw his hands extended, claw-like, to seize her; heard his breath come quickly. Then she screamed—loud and shrill, once twice, a third time before Malbihn could leap across the tent and throttle her cries with his brute strength. Then she fought him. Beneath her rounded curves, and fine, soft skin lay the muscles of a young lioness. The man found her desperate.

But Malbihn was of giant strength and stature and he was brutal. Slowly he subdued the girl's fighting fury. Meriem still fought back but she was growing weaker from the choking fingers at her throat. Her cries had awakened Jenssen. Long suspicious of his partner, he guessed rightly what might be happening. With a muttered curse he dashed from his tent. Out in the jungle, another heard faintly the screams and broke into a rapid run.

GIRL SCOUTS CHIEF TO BE GIVEN HONOR

Banquet at Alexandria Will be Held Tonight for Mrs. Jane Deeter Rippin

Mrs. Helen Matthewson Laughlin, dean of women at the University of California at Los Angeles, will preside tonight at a banquet at the Alexandria honoring Mrs. Jane Deeter Rippin, national director of Girl Scouts of America, who is making her first official tour of the Pacific States.

MRS. HELEN MATTHEWSON LAUGHLIN

Mrs. Rippin will be the principal speaker. A musical program will be presented by Mr. D'Ippolito, director of music at the Horace Mann Junior High School, and the young musicians, Lee Gushing, cello; Dorothy Barrows, piano, and Ed Schuman, violin.

The first Big Tree region conference with representatives from five western States will open tomorrow and will continue over the week-end with several sessions held at the Pacific Palisades, Santa Monica. Mrs. Gertrude Maynard is chairman of the committee and Miss Vaal Stark, Palo Alto, is regional director.

Circus to Have Dress Rehearsal

Acrobats, freaks and wild animals will assemble in the pavilion of Al Malaikah Temple tomorrow afternoon for a dress rehearsal of the Shrine Circus, which is scheduled to open Saturday for a nine-day run. The sound of hammers and saws echoed throughout the vast building yesterday as carpenters, electricians, decorators and concessionaires began the task of transforming the pavilion into a fitting setting for what will be known as "Side Show Lane."

As a result of the activity, toy balloons by the hundred last night depended from the ceiling, booths surrounded the floor, a huge tarp, built to accommodate a sea elephant, stood in the center, and a spacious stage on which Hopi Indians will present a snake dance graced one end of the pavilion.

According to Director - General Bruner the work of remodeling the setting will be completed today.

Wilshire Map Wins Sanction

The assessment district map for the extension of Wilshire Boulevard from Figueroa street to Grand avenue as a seventy-foot street was approved by the City Council yesterday. The estimated cost of the project is $3,000,000. Majority petitions for the improvement were submitted to the Council about a month ago. The Street Opening and Widening Committee approved the map late Tuesday afternoon and the recommendation was brought speedily to the attention of the Council yesterday morning.

Fair Weather Seen for Today

Today will be fair, but the Federal weather men were not so certain about tomorrow, which will be unsettled, they predicted.

Mild temperatures with gentle variable winds, the same conditions as predicted for yesterday, will prevail today, last night's report said. Yesterday's highest temperature was 70 deg. and the lowest 54 deg.

Rainfall total for the season remained at 5.89 inches, slightly ahead of the precipitation on the same date last year, but below the normal mark of 7.52 inches.

CAPT. HOBSON TO TALK ON NARCOTIC ADDICTS

Capt. Richmond Pearson Hobson, famous as the hero of the sinking of the Merrimac in Santiago Harbor during the Spanish-American War, will be the speaker at the meeting of the Church Brotherhood Club at the Young Men's Christian Association Building, 715 South Hope, at noon today. Capt. Hobson's subject will be "Narcotic and Drug Addicts." Since his retirement from the Navy Capt. Hobson has devoted himself to the study and correction of the drug evil in the United States.

POLICE TRIAL UNIT REVIVED

Commission Orders Board Be Constituted Again

Reduction of Work Sought Under New Regime

Rules Issued for Conduct of Officers' Cases

Restoration of the police trial board to handle the work which has been under the jurisdiction of the Police Commission and police personnel bureau for more than a year was authorized yesterday in a resolution passed by the Police Commission on recommendation of Commissioner Wehn and seconded by Commissioner Drake. All charges against police officers will be handled by the board, subject to review afterward by the Police Commission. The object is to reduce the work of the commission. The resolution follows:

"A trial board, consisting of three captains, shall be selected from time to time by the Chief of Police, subject to approval of the Police Commission. This board shall cause to be made a thorough investigation of major charges against any officer of the department, immediately following the filing of such by the Chief.

"Should such investigation justify the board proceeding with the trial, it shall summon, swear and examine witnesses and peruse documents that may be necessary in order to enable all members of the board to determine the facts in the case, after which it shall recommend, if guilt is established, that the Chief shall impose one of two penalties, namely:

"Suspension for a period of one month.

"Dismissal from the service.

"Minor offenses may be acted upon directly by the Chief, without referring the same to the trial board, and it shall be within his province to suspend the offender from service for a period of not less than two working days nor more than one week.

"In all cases coming before the trial board all witnesses shall be sworn and evidence shall be taken in shorthand and afterward a transcript typewritten. Three copies of each, together with the finding of the trial board and the Chief, shall be forwarded to the Police Commission whenever an appeal is filed with the commission."

PRINCESS OF GYPSY BAND TO BE BURIED

Hundreds Gather at Port for Final Rites in Honor of Young Nicols Girl

Hundreds of gypsies had assembled last night to pay the nomads' last homage today to their princess, Rosa Nicols, 15 years of age, of 215 Fourteenth street, San Pedro. The girl's rank in Romany royalty was not known to doctors at San Pedro General Hospital, where she died of typhoid fever Monday. However, when bands of Serbian gypsies began arriving and camping at San Pedro and Wilmington yesterday, the fact was revealed.

Rosa was a daughter of Mrs. Millet Nicols, queen of the Nicols tribe of gypsies. The girl was born in Buenos Aires, Argentina. The mother is known to San Pedro as a fortune teller and the gypsy princess attended public school at the harbor.

Funeral services will be conducted at 1:30 p.m. today at the Cleveland undertaking chapel. Father Benso of the Catholic church of Mary Star of the Sea, will officiate. Burial will be in the Odd Fellows' Cemetery, Los Angeles, at 3 p.m., when a gypsy ceremony will be conducted.

Victim Relates Tale of Robbery and Kidnaping

Deputy sheriffs yesterday were investigating circumstances related in a report made by B. H. Johnson, 1171½ East Sixty-fourth street, to the effect that last Saturday night he was kidnaped by two men and forced to drive them nearly to Santa Barbara, where he was robbed and compelled to return to Los Angeles.

Johnson said he was confronted by the men about 8:15 p.m. Saturday as he was putting his car in the garage. At the point of a gun, he said, he was ordered to drive the men to within nine miles of Santa Barbara, where the men were supposed to obtain a motorcycle.

After forcing him to turn over $20.71, Johnson reported one of the men returned $1 to buy gasoline for the return trip. Deputy Sheriff Welrich was assigned to investigate.

GOLDEN RULE GETS POLISHED UP

Ten Commandments Losing Prestige as Highest Ideal and Vital Principles Replacing Moribund Theories in All Fields of Activity, Lecturer Asserts

"Nations have delegalized war, science has deintellectualized it, service clubs have desocialized it and it remains now for the churches of the world to decredalize it," declared Dr. Walter F. Dexter, president of Whittier College, in his address yesterday at the City Club.

Speaking on "A New Freedom Under a New Authority," Dr. Dexter said that the new freedom, especially noticeable within the last decade, has been established by society's faith in the individual, that the authority is common sense and the highest law of the new age the Golden Rule.

"In every phase of human thought and conduct dogmatic authority and moribund theories are being discarded to make room for vital principles which gradually are being applied in every field of human activity," said Dr. Dexter. "In religion, men are turning to the Golden Rule rather than to the Ten Commandments. In business the spirit of co-operation is being substituted for cut-throat competition and in the realm of education psychology, biology and other sciences are supplanting fear with confidence. Biology has shown that the law of progress consists not in the 'survival of the fittest,' but in the differentiation of functions and co-operation of organisms in units of life.

"We are entering today upon the greatest decade in human history," said the speaker. "We are venturing out upon the sea of fellowship, social service and international friendship and, with the co-operation of all individuals upon this ship of trust, we cannot fail to anchor safely in the harbor of peace."

BELGIAN WAR HEROES TO BE GUESTS

Benefit Show Will Be Given Them Tomorrow Night

Lieut. Firmin Van Audenhove and Capt. Georges Dufay

ALMOST round-shouldered from the weight of numerous decorations adorning their breasts, two Belgian heroes of the World War tomorrow night will sit at the ringside in Compton as beneficiaries of a boxing and wrestling show to be presented as a tribute to them under auspices of Section Neville, French Veterans of the World War.

The two are Capt. Georges Dufay of the Belgian infantry and Lieut. Firmin Van Audenhove, ace of the Belgian air forces. They are in Los Angeles for a brief visit after having completed many thousand miles of an automobile tour of the world. The globe-circling trip to date has been financed by fencing exhibitions and lectures given by the officer-tourists and by an occasional benefit program. With all of Europe and Canada and part of the United States behind them, the wanderers still have the rest of the world to explore before returning to Brussels.

Capt. Dufay is credited with having penetrated the German lines and blasted the dykes, resulting in a flooding of the enemy position and thus turning the tide of the Battle of the Marne. For this and other acts of extraordinary heroism he wears the Order of Leopold, the Medaille Militaire, the Croix de Guerre with two lions and palm, the Medaille Commemorative with four citations, and the Medaille Victoire.

Lieut. van Audenhove wears the Medailles Courage, second and third class, for feats of heroism as an aviator. As a combat pilot he was shot down in German territory several times.

TWO SONS IN COURT FIGHT OVER PLANT

"Perky Peggy" Garment Factory Sought by Each Following Father's Death

A court fight over the ownership of the Goldson Company, manufacturers of women's garments, was waged yesterday before Superior Judge Mahon with Elihu Goldson, special administrator of the estate of the late Louis Goldson on one side and his brothers, J. M. and George Goldson on the other. After hearing the testimony Judge Mahon, late in the day, took his decision under submission.

According to the plaintiff, Louis Goldson, father of the litigants, died October 28, 1929. The administrator asserts that at the time of his father's death the elder Goldson and his wife, Ida Goldson, owned the garment business which was capitalized at $200,000. He further asserts that his brother, J. M. Goldson, is now claiming to hold a one-half interest in the concern. He asks for an accounting and possession of certain personal property.

In his defense of the suit, J. M. Goldson contends that his father gave him a one-half co-partnership in the business which interest he has held since December 15, 1928.

The Goldson Company, organized in 1921 with its place of business at 746 South Los Angeles street, is the originator of the "Perky Peggy" dresses for women.

MAN'S STILL MAKES MONEY BUT STILL HE'S WORSE OFF

A man who works steadily for $2 a day is better off financially in the end than a man who runs a still and makes a lot of money for a short time, in the opinion of Thomas D. De Boe, who yesterday was sentenced to San Quentin penitentiary by Superior Judge Aggeler on a charge of possession of a still.

De Boe, who lived at 2253 Veteran avenue, was arrested charged with possession of a fifty-gallon still. He pleaded guilty and asked for probation.

When it was shown that De Boe had a record of three prior Wright Act arrests in 1926, Judge Aggeler denied his probation application, fined the defendant $1000 and sentenced him. The fine was suspended, however.

De Boe told probation officers he lost his home as a result of his arrest and also was put to other heavy expenses. It was while telling this to Carl May, adult probation officer, that he said he would have made more money in the end at a salary of $2 a day.

FOURTEEN PRISONERS GO NORTH

Twelve Being Taken to McNeil Island and Two to Monroe, Wash.

Fourteen prisoners left last night in charge of Deputy United States Marshal Finn for northern Federal institutions. Twelve of the group are being taken to McNeil Island prison and two to the Federal reformatory at Monroe, Wash.

The following are to serve terms at McNeil Island: Millard Dusch, eighteen months for postoffice theft; W. R. Gamble, twenty-one months on a Dyer Act charge; Raymond Ousley, eighteen months, Dyer Act; Walter Thompson, four years on immigration smuggling charge; John Maxwell, Immigration Act, eighteen months; Walter Hirschman, eighteen months, Dyer Act; Chester Waterman, fifteen months, Dyer Act; Gerald Williams, fifteen months, Dyer Act; Arthur McDaniel, fifteen months, Dyer Act; William Conway, two years, Dyer Act; Leland Gilbert, eighteen months, Dyer Act, and William Crooms, eighteen months, forgery.

Howard Devine was sent to Monroe for fifteen months on a Dyer Act charge, and Jack Willis to the same place for two years on a similar charge. William Howell also was taken in the prison car, to be handed over to the authorities at Portland, Or., on a Mann Act charge.

Hay, Hay! Hula Dancer Shakes Police Fiber

Two burly police officers, Patrolmen Lund and Walker, yesterday expressed the hope that if a hula-hula dancer ever again runs afoul of the law she will pick out somebody else's beat. The wish was expressed following the arrest of Miss Lilith Dusenberry, 18 years of age, who described herself as a Hawaiian terpsichorean artiste living at 1500 East Portieth street.

Attracted by an automobile collision at Forty-second street and Ascot Boulevard, the officers attempted to take the dancer in custody, but, they assert, she tried to bite Policeman Lund on the nose and, failing in that, she sought her freedom by kicking Policeman Walker on the shinbone.

The officers finally arrested her and booked her on suspicion of driving while drunk.

Brothers Make Fight on Will

Because they promised to find the late Arthur Whitworth a wife, M. J. Olivas and Mrs. Olivas were willed the bulk of a $12,000 estate, it is asserted by three brothers of the deceased, in a will contest, on trial yesterday in Superior Judge Hahn's court.

The contestants, Robert G., Alfred H. and Joseph W. Whitworth, were left $5 each. They assert the decedent was mentally incompetent at the time the will was made, and believed the protestations of the Olivas's that they were his only friends, and were making every effort to find a wife for him. Whitworth, however, died unmarried.

NEW IDEA ON FISSURE ADVANCED

San Pedro Group Asserts to Mayor That Breaking of Pipes Causes Cracks

Mayor Porter has interested himself, it was learned yesterday, in another theory about what caused the large earth crack and sinking away of a part of Point Fermin.

It is one presented to him by a group of persons at San Pedro, in which Henry Usrey, 4126 Carolina street, has had a prominent part. Usrey and associates believe that broken sewers and water lines in the neighborhood so saturated the earth in the vicinity, forming springs on the seaward side of the cliff, that the understructure was weakened and cavities were washed out.

This, they believe, is responsible for the slight cracking away of a territory that includes several small blocks. They are incensed because they assert that the city departments that should have looked after such situations did not do as they believe should have been done.

They pooh-pooh the theory of geologists that a natural earth movement is responsible for the cracking away and that the territory is doomed to go down some day to the bottom of the sea. This theory, they have complained to Mayor Porter, is doing property owners in the area a vast amount of injury.

Usrey, a property owner in the area, has made measurements of the breaking away movement which are asserted to show that it is decreasing and that there is a connection between sewer breaks and the movements.

Newspaper stories on the situation are declared by those who have been complaining to the Mayor to have caused numbers of persons to visit the scene, some of whom have made themselves nuisances to residents in the neighborhood.

Y.W.C.A. PLANS TRIP

The Young Woman's Christian Association health education department will conduct a trip to Big Pines Sunday, the party leaving the Y.M.C.A. Building at 7:30 a.m., going by bus to Big Pines, and returning Sunday about 7:30 p.m. This is for all girls and not alone for members of the department. Reservations must be made at 941 South Figueroa street before tomorrow.

TWO MORE DEAD IN CITY TRAFFIC

Auto Kills Woman and Boy on Wilshire Boulevard

Death of Caltech Student Calls for Inquest

Man, Youth Hurt Perhaps Fatally in Crashes

A boy was killed and a woman was injured fatally last night when an automobile struck them as they were crossing Wilshire Boulevard near Crescent Heights Boulevard. Myron Greensbahn, 9 years of age, of 6300 West Sixth street, was killed instantly. Elizabeth Otley, 53, housekeeper at the same address, died shortly after being taken to Georgia-street Receiving Hospital. Police arrested Paul M. Brock of 6617 West Fifth street, the automobilist, on a charge of suspicion of manslaughter.

Officer Sims of the Wilshire division investigated the double killing and reported that the woman and boy were crossing Wilshire Boulevard twenty-seven feet from a pedestrian lane when they were struck. They were on their way to view an electrical display.

INQUEST CALLED OVER STUDENT'S DEATH

An inquest into the death of Charles Springholtz, 22 years of age, California Institute of Technology student, who died Tuesday night following an automobile accident near Whittier, has been ordered by Coroner Nance for 9:30 a.m. today at the undertaking parlors of White-Emerson Company, Whittier.

Springsholtz, according to a Sheriff's office report, died of strangulation when he was pinned beneath the small coupe he was driving when it hit a telephone pole and overturned in making a turn on Durfee Road a mile and one-half north of Whittier Boulevard. Extricated from the wreckage of the car by Rea Hooper, 23, and Frank Moyers, 23, both of 266 South Chester avenue, Pasadena, and classmates, he was taken to the Murphy Memorial Hospital where an inhalator of the Whittier fire department was used in an effort to revive him.

Hooper and Moyers told investigating officers that the trio were en route to Pasadena after having visited Tia Juana, where several drinks were taken, the officers reported.

The parents of Springsholtz, who lived at 447 South Lake avenue, Pasadena, are said to reside in Santa Barbara.

A man and a boy were also injured possibly fatally in traffic accidents yesterday morning.

Pinned under his automobile when it overturned, L. D. Springstein, 36 years of age, of 142 West Twenty-second street, suffered a broken neck and paralysis of the right side. The accident occurred in the 100 block on West Fifty-ninth street. Springstein caused his car to capsize, police said, when he swerved it sharply to avoid striking a bicycle rider. He was taken to Georgia-street Receiving Hospital.

In a somewhat similar accident at Alameda street and Florence avenue, Vernon Newson, 20, of 399 Spruce street, Redwood City, had his skull fractured, possible fracture of his neck, and suffered internal injuries. With him were Clarence Delmont, 18, of the same address, Thomas Clayton, 17, of 2536 A East Fifty-sixth street, and Elmer Perris, 18, of 2536 East Fifty-third street. Belmont and Perris received concussion of the brain and severe head injuries. Clayton was cut and bruised.

Newson and Belmont are suspected by police of having taken an automobile from Palo Alto. While the former is not expected to recover from his injuries and is in no condition to be questioned Belmont is being held for investigation.

In attempting to board a moving street car at Vernon avenue and Hoover street, according to police, John A. Miller, 57, of 720 West Forty-ninth street, sustained a broken leg.

LOCAL GIRL DIES FROM CALEXICO CRASH

CALEXICO, Jan. 29. (AP)—Margaret Sweetberg, 18 years of age, Los Angeles, whose skull was fractured in an automobile accident near here Sunday, died in a local hospital tonight. Her parents were at her bedside.

CALIFORNIANS AMONG PASSENGERS ON TOUR

Six Californians, including two residents of Los Angeles, are among the 400 passengers who sailed from New York yesterday aboard the Cunard-Anchor liner Transylvania on the twenty-seventh annual Mediterranean cruise sponsored by the Frank C. Clark Tours. The Los Angeles passengers are Mr. and Mrs. James H. Smiley, and the other Californians are: Mrs. C. C. Rogers of Long Beach, Miss Irene Carey of Point Richmond, Mrs. Beth Whitlock of Richmond and Mrs. Mabel M. Lear of San Francisco. The cruise will be of sixty-six days' duration and will take the tourists to Madeira, Canary Islands, Casablanca, Rabat, Morocco, Egypt, Palestine, Spain, Algiers, Malta, Greece, Turkey, Italy, the Riviera, Cherbourg and Glasgow.

DUSKY PORTER CAPTURES GOAT OF ARMED BANDIT

Alexander Weir, negro porter at a hotel at 640 South Main street, apparently is one of those paradoxical members of his race who doesn't pick 'em up and lay 'em down when graveyards yawn or back alleys debouch armed bandits.

Example: Weir was sweeping a little pile of refuse into the alley at the rear of the hotel just after dawn yesterday when a bandit leveled a large revolver at the porter's anatomy amidships.

"Stick 'em up!" he growled.

Weir, according to the police report, looked up calmly and shook his head slowly.

"Gwan away, boy, Ise got wohk to do."

The bandit jabbed the gun against the porter's ribs.

"Listen, you," he said. "I mean business. Gimme a quarter."

Still unruffled Weir leaned against the door jamb.

"Ah ain't got no quarter. All Ise got es fifteen cents, 'atsall."

"You fork over a quarter before I count three or I'm going to let this thing go off," growled the bandit.

Weir, apparently more perplexed by the mathematical problem than disturbed by the menacing revolver, reached down in a trousers pocket and brought forth two dimes.

"Hot dog," said he, "I done thought dat was another jit. But hones', mister, dat's all Ise got. But ah'll th'ow in 'at extah nickel if you all go 'way and let me work."

Compromising, the bandit grabbed the two dimes, pocketed his gun, and walked away. Weir finished his job and then told police his story.

The New in Stores & Homes

Novelties, Ideas, and Suggestions

By OLIVE GRAY

Garden time! It may seem too early, but someone has said that 'gardening is like building a house, in that the frame-work must precede the beautifying. First, in gardening, comes preparation of the soil—plowing, spading, fertilizing, smoothing; and now is the time for all this. The glorious rains make this work most effective. And, oh let's make gardens as we never before have done! Let's show the world what Southern California can do, in utilizing our opportunities. Even though possessed of the merest bit of ground, we may plant effectively. So, oh let's!

Their First Glimpse

Recently, friends visiting here from New York, "enjoyed" our first rain—finding it no different from the storms in their own fair land; and they—quite disgustedly—remarked that they disappointedly found Southern California devoid of flowers. Pointing to a great bouquet of (purchased) roses in their Biltmore living-room, they declared their belief that "those had arrived that morning from New York."

Such uncommendation is one reasoh for planting flowers wherever we can put to use any spot of earth; for we know, only too well, that our loved land is capable of wondrous growths, if we give it half a chance. But, that is the trouble, we do give it only half-a-chance.

The Struggling Silhouette

Many have complained about the new silhouette; but, unquestionably, this is because of misunderstanding.

Those who rebel against the extremely elongated skirt for street and general wear are in reality fighting shadows—much as did the fabled Spanish don; for Dame Fashion herself does not call for long skirts on street or for general year. Trailing draperies on the sidewalks would be as absurd now as in the old-time dust-dragging era. But, for evening and for formal dinner wear, these draperies are charming. Also for boudoir wear. For the street, skirts are but slightly longer than for several seasons past. While the extreme knee-discovering skirts have taken a tumbie to their unloveliness, skirts a few inches below these knobby features are not at all inconvenient, and are far more beautiful, in fact.

Tight-Littles

Even though the new hats of spring time have taken to brims, still many women will persist in the comf'y tight-littles, for general wear. Whether of felt, of straw or a combining of both, the head-huggers are bound to adhere. Season after season, we are told that larger hats are "coming in," but by decree of women who simply will not forego their comfort, the smaller hats persist to a degree. As a matter of fact, our western women, especially, will not give up the more comfortable in millinery as well as in dress. For, where we spend so much time in motor cars and in sports, we are determined in our allegiance to that which is most appropriate and most comfortable for use on these occasions.

Rough Silks

Shantungs continue in favor for spring and summer. Always savoring of sportswear, these silks with their somewhat rough surface now exercise a new appeal; for they now come in printed designs.

With no diminution of color effects in ground-work—soft pastel tones and many newer desert shades—the prints are in the favored note of the newer season—fine floral effects, minimized geometrics.

These silks lend themselves well to sportswear, since they pleat well, for skirts and present a sufficiently substantial weave for unlined blouses and shirts.

An Ice Story

Speaking of having plenty of ice, did I tell you about the man who—being fond of the old-fashioned lilacs—had planted many, none of which had bloomed, after several seasons. He almost despaired of "lilac time in Los Angeles," to paraphrase the English ditty, when he conceived the idea of placing ice around the roots of his lilac bushes. His camouflage of the colder climates fooled the shrubs so effectually, that—next season—they all burst into full bloom.

Let's Extravagate

Even though we may have no bent toward statistics the computers manage to do us a favor. One has discovered that the women of America hold 41 per cent of the wealth of the entire country.

So, let's extravagate! It really looks as though we are too economical—too frugal—too money-hoarding. Let's away to the bargain sales!

The Queer Bird

An exchange bursts into verse anent the ostrich and the feathers he has placed in "many a lady's hat." A bit unmodern, in view of the non est of feathers on hats of today; but another says: "Do not shoo away the ostrich, for his feathers fly, on Milady's boudoir shoes, and on her pajama coats." Free verse, I call this.

Ease in Shopping

What amounts to a "shopping calendar," has come about, quite naturally, and without announcement. Custom has given to January a period of sales in household lines. February, by common consent, has become a time for replenishment of furniture in the home. Conjointed with this, many of the stores hold sales wherein are offered the utensils and small et ceteras for use around the house. In fact, the two months succeeding the holidays have come to be devoted to refitment of the home, in many departments; and this at notable savings.

Another matter which tends to make shopping easy is the fact that leading stores and shops place certain lines of merchandise in similar positions. Thus, upon entering, you are aware that all ready-to-wear is on a certain floor; all yardage on another; lingerie upon still another, and so on. You need not ask, nor even pause to think, which floor to visit in want of certain merchandise. Every moment and every motion saved, in this hurrying day, is beneficial to both shopper and vender.

Board Upholds Ouster Action

Recent dismissal of Clarke C. Slaughter, an inspector of the Humane Department, by the Humane Commission on charges of intoxication, was sustained by the Civil Service Commission yesterday after a hearing.

The commission approved the request of the Playground and Recreation Commission for the coding of the position of supervisor of community recreation at $300, recently created, and will set a date shortly for an examination.

Approval also was given to the request of Fire Chief Scott for the coding of the position of battalion chief to direct the activities of the arson squad.

LASKY BACK FROM MEXICO WITH ADVENTURE STORIES

JESSE L. LASKY

Jesse L. Lasky, motion-picture magnate, returned yesterday from an exploration trip to Los Angeles through lower Mexico, with thrilling stories of his party's adventures in regions rarely visited by white men. A part of the trip was made in canoes and especially constructed boats down an uncharted river for 300 miles.

When Mr. Lasky arrived at central station he was accompanied by two members of the party, Kenneth and Chester Wortley of Los Angeles. He was met by his mother, Mrs. Sarah Lasky, and officials of the Paramount studios.

The exploration trip was planned after Lasky had visited Mexico City to engage Mexican and Spanish stock companies for foreign language talking-picture productions planned by his company during the year. According to the producer, foreign language talking pictures will never be successful unless the [illegible] the language.

WHEN IN CAGE OF LIONS JUST KEEP YOUR HEAD

Could you look a peevish lion in the face and, ah, be nonchalant?

Then, you are well on the road to being a successful animal trainer—although what it would get you is another matter.

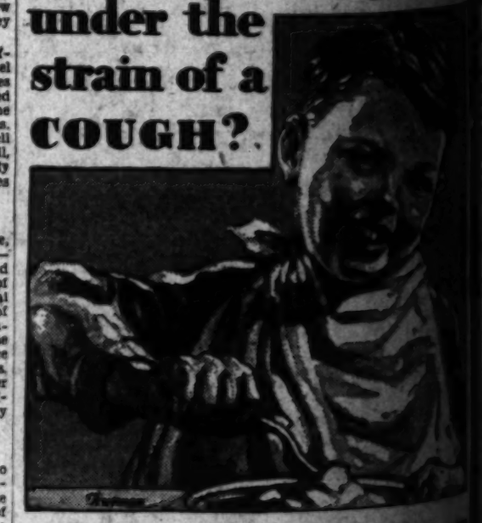
Al Priddy, who learned by helping out as an animal trainer, how to beard editors as a press agent for "the greatest show on earth," offered this advice to Los Angeles Kiwanians at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club in the Biltmore yesterday.

Of course, admitted Priddy, there is a little more to it. For instance, he said, one must make friends of the animals; he must be patient and at the same time firm; he must hold to a [illegible] and he must keep [illegible]

As to the last, Priddy [illegible] listeners, he spoke from [illegible] relating that once he was [illegible] with a number of lions [illegible] when the electric lights [illegible] When the lights came back [illegible] dy heard the trainer with [illegible] was working command [illegible] his conduct. "If we [illegible] would move," the trainer [illegible] dy. "I couldn't move," [illegible] plied.

Priddy's address was [illegible] Other Animals." He [illegible] men and animals are [illegible] alike, being subject [illegible] emotions. One difference, [illegible] he continued, is that [illegible] intellects often [illegible] men's.

How long will this energy last under the strain of a COUGH?



A single day of coughing saps more vitality than three square meals a day can give you!

THREE square meals daily—containing enough energy to do the thousand and one routine tasks of the day!

Yet, all this energy can so easily be wasted by a violent, irritating cough, leaving you utterly exhausted, without strength or ambition.

Medical science tells us that every cough uses up energy many times more quickly than other bodily exercise.

That is why it is so important to check coughs at the start.

Pertussin quickly relieves the cough by easing up the irritation and then loosens the phlegm, another action and quiets the cough spasm.

It is the safe medical home remedy that is a purely herbal combination of ingredients so dose or harmful drugs, pleasant to take and well on the stomach. In addition, we have been told you that doctors have prescribed Pertussin more often than any other advertised cough remedy.

It is safe for every cough in every member of the family.
